

A letter from a grandma experiencing the loss of America

As a journalist being read nationally and internationally by many of the world's citizens, I receive hundreds of letters describing what's happening in readers' communities, states and countries.

Many of them break my heart. Some make me sick. Others cry out in desperation. Still others feel resigned to their fate as third world immigrants overrun their first world countries. All of it facilitated by the leaders of first world countries in contradiction to the needs and desires of their citizens.

This letter arrived from a grandma in Denver, Colorado describing the takeover of her community.

"I was just sitting on my patio as the sun was setting (near the "Art District" which is near Kalamath and 6th Ave.)," she said. "Ten years ago, I would go down to Starbucks or Subway enjoying my food in my car, and look over at heavily laden cars/vans (several at a time) park at Burger King and unload 10-20 Mexicans or thereabout, with the drivers standing with hands out toward the men.

"I've been very naive about all of this. Now, I realized these were illegals & coyotes doing what they're doing in Denver many times a day, and I was a witness to lawbreakers/sometimes murderers blatantly, unashamedly, arrogantly thumbing their noses at whomever might be watching.

"Ten years ago, I didn't know 'sanctuary city', a word that I used to describe my own home after work. For these passing years, I see thousands or more men with Old Mexico attire, boots, big hats, tight fitting clothes, huge travel bags slung over their shoulders, conspicuous as all get out...from my home, car, patio.

"No longer can I walk on my attached sidewalk without several so-called men walking in silence past me or crossing Kalamath so they don't have to pass me. I just wanted to tell someone who might care. A son, his wife and three young babies live 2-1/2 blocks South on Lipan; my daughter, her new husband and baby live scant 1 mile West of me across Federal off 8th Ave.

"I have little to no fear for my own self, yet I'm seeing hundreds of foreign people in vans with beards, speaking either Arabic or whatever pouring in, in the grocery store aggressively making their presence known, ugly acting to other shoppers.

"I'm well aware they are all those people Trump is speaking of to halt this invasion. My entire family is Caucasian, blond, very American, beautiful, attractive, innocent of hatred and Christian. My internal 'hair stands on end' knowing what ALL of these invaders are capable of at any moment.

"Do you have any idea what this means to Denver, Colorado in general, America in general? I'm an elder woman, live alone, very independent, yet my beloveds are in dire danger today.

"Call me overprotective, paranoid, homophobic, whatever applies. My closest neighbors are generally homosexuals that I've watched, smiled at, talked with...all these years with no issues. Denver and much of Colorado has become California, Oregon, Washington, NY in front of me...soon, this West area neighborhood will be "no go zones".

"Even the peaceful homosexuals will leave as their lives are in as much danger as my family from Muslims. I'd weep, but have to keep alert. About 99% of my neighbors are typically Liberals, un-Godly, otherworldly. They don't know what's coming. My heart is racked for my nation.

“Please keep warning us all. Many fools are saying, ” There is no God”. They are especially endangered. Thank you Frosty, a fellow traveler.”

These letters distress me because they come from New York City where sociologists estimate 800 different languages. Obviously, New York City cannot be called an “All-American City” any longer.

If you ride into Chicago, it’s worse with an estimated 2,000,000 (million) illegal aliens working and living in violation of our laws. But Mayor Emanuel and House member Luis Gutierrez facilitate the invasion of that city. Now, it’s known as the most violent city in America—out gunning Detroit, Michigan. Which, as you know has become a beachhead city for Islam and a new caliphate in our country.

One look at Miami, Florida shows another 100 languages and more illegal aliens than can be counted. Again, no longer an American city.

As for Los Angeles, the most spoken language: Spanish in television and radio shows. We’re forced to pay teachers to teach in Spanish and the dropout rates are 50 to 70 percent. Mexicans outbirth American babies in California as it continues on course to add 20 million more people by 2050—virtually 98 percent of them legal and illegal immigrants according to www.CapsWeb.org.

In my own city of Denver, Colorado, we face 172 different languages in our classrooms. We suffer 50 to 67 percent dropout rates. We face incredible problems with 10,000 homeless, veterans on the streets, drug gangs and countless murders.

And yet, our U.S. Congress pumps those legal and illegal immigrants into our country at breakneck speed—over 1.5 million annually according to the U.S. Census Bureau. It’s totally insane, and one day, our plight as a civilization, country, language, culture and way of life—will be displaced and replaced by all these third world immigrants. I understand this grandma's sadness as she watches the destruction of her community and nation.
