

Alexandria Ocasio Cortez Comedy Show: The Gift That Keeps On Giving

(True Conservative Pundit) AOC keeps on giving, just like a good comedy show where the laughs are non-stop. Except that AOC is more like stupid on steroids. AOC's gaffs and outright stupidity would actually be rather amusing if it was not for the fact that she has the power to cause enormous damage. Then there is the fact that so many people actually follow this brain-dead high school girl, now that is just plain scary.

Remember how AOC's insane leftist buds managed to kick a hilarious eight-year-old \('Mini-AOC'\) off of social media by doxing her and threatening to kill her? This is the mentality and maturity of the Left folks – they hate you if you do not bow at the altar of liberalism.

How about this gem? AOC went off on a tirade about how the horrid detention facility at the Southern border was making these poor women drink out of toilets. Except that this was not the case at all. AOC routinely distorts the truth for pure political gain.

Now AOC is giving illegals legal advice, or so she thinks.

“If people come knocking, you do NOT have to open your door unless there is a signed judicial warrant.”

I love this reply to AOC's tweet:

“And how do you see this “signed” warrant without opening your door?”

How about this comment?

“Aiding and abetting...”

AOC recently pretty much flat-out accused Nancy Pelosi of racism by saying that Pelosi singles out “women of color.” Now AOC has done an about face and denied it.

“I asked AOC if she thinks Pelosi has racial animus or is racist, and she said: ‘No, no, absolutely not, absolutely not.’”

<https://twitter.com/mkraju/status/1149329366427549697>

Ummmm, correct me if I’m wrong, but singling out someone because of his or her skin color is the very definition of racism right? Wow...

Fellow New York socialist Julia Salazar thought it was great that a court ruled that President Trump can’t block critics on Twitter.

“Blocking people on social media—esp[sic] as women, typically subjected to an avalanche of hateful and misogynistic speech online—is not a violation of their First Amendment rights. None of us have a constitutional right to use someone’s Twitter to abuse them.”

https://twitter.com/JuliaCarmel_/status/1148951675547336704

Then Salazar turned around and said:

“To me it’s clear: If you truly want to communicate with people elected to represent you—your own Congresswoman, Senator, Assembly Woman, Council Member etc[sic]—Twitter is not most effective route.

But Hikind is mad because tweeting at AOC is less cathartic for him if she blocks him.”

Hmmm, so lets see – the rules are great as long as they apply only to non-leftists, but when the very same standards are applied to the Leftists, that is not acceptable. This is for sure not acceptable because it will impact her pet Leftist bud AOC. Typical Leftist double standards.

In the latest AOC soap opera saga, it appears that the Left is fracturing, and war is imminent. The opposing generals? AOC and Pelosi.

I just mentioned AOC accused Speaker Pelosi of racism; well now it appears that AOC’s Chief of Staff (CoS) made some racially biased comments:

“Let’s not forget the fact that AOC’s CoS called a group of members racist. This is a group of members led by an immigrant woman of color, and this group includes several other people of color including two black men who actually experienced the segregated South.”

Ohhhhhhy boy...

“According to the New York Times’ Jonathan Martin, the House Dem house of cards is on the verge of collapse, thanks to the escalating tensions between Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez and Nancy Pelosi.” (source)

I saw this tweet, and I just had to include it:

“This was in a MASS EMAIL.

OMG, this is delicious.

The @AOC @Pelosi CATFIGHT is on!”

AOC really stepped in it now – let the fireworks begin...
