

Americans need guts – not Hillary's political garbage

In the final weeks of this history making election cycle, we hear the build up of name calling and assaults on Trump. They are growing to a loud, shrieking crescendo. The big assault from Hillary and her sell out supporters, which include the Bush family, Glenn Beck and others, is to say Trump doesn't have the 'temperament' to be President. We are told non stop that he is dictatorial, Hitler like, racist, anti Gay, anti immigrant...anti everything that is good for America.

Hillary and her supporters declare that she is the one, she has the right temperament and she is great for America. Never mind the 'failing health' woman behind the curtain who is no 'wizard' character who will fix America. In truth, Hillary has the temperament of a calculated, liar and fraud. Her 'temperament' has betrayed our troops and Ambassador in Benghazi and put America in grave danger with what was shared on unsecured servers with her now famous sea of rogue emails. She and her sleep around honey – Bill have raised hundreds of millions, exchanging favors with Islamic and anti American regimes so her and Bill could hide behind the skirts of their pay for play foundation and get filthy rich. How is that for the right 'temperament' to be President?

In truth, Hillary has the temperament to star in a remake of the Gambino Crime family or be the President of a cell block, not the United States of America. Like never before in our history, America is in desperate need of a believer, patriot, God believing, real leader who will boldly put us back on top in every area and heal us on the way.

Most Americans who have any love for freedom and their country could care less about temperament and small style gibberish. They care about getting their jobs and careers back, lowering taxes, restoring our Judeo-Christian values and speech, securing our borders and national security, being our unique combination again of vision, achievement, compassion, spirituality and guts which the world must have and desperately needs.

'Political temperament' can go straight to hell. America needs real talk, real belief, real emotion, integrity and action. That is Donald Trump and never will it be Hillary Clinton.

© 2016 Dr. Laurie Roth – All Rights Reserved