

America's Way of Life Threatened

Even when I was a little kid, I understood that because I was born in this great nation I was extremely blessed. Seeing how people had to live in other nations, pitiful homes, lack of food and water, virtually no education, ancient forms of transportation, dictatorial governments, and so many other things that make life miserable but here in America we had it all. As a child, I could not even imagine a life of that nature. Today I see a much different America. Yes, we still have prosperity, nice houses, and a modern mode of transportation but the regime that is in power now wants to bring all of that to a screeching halt.

We are seeing stupidity reign in our seats of power. Things that you would never even think about fifty years ago are going mainstream now. The absolute perversion in our schools with drag shows, porn in the libraries, and the character of teachers that are allowed to 'teach' our kids is appalling. Teachers that we have today would be in jail in my day and they should be today as well. Our teachers' unions have taken the stand that parents have no right to determine what their children learn. Even some politicians feel the same way. In the final debate before the election, while discussing parents who have objected to sexually explicit material in Fairfax County schools, McAuliffe made a shocking statement: "I don't think parents should be telling schools what they should teach."

While McAuliffe's statement has been seen by some as just another political gaffe with no deeper meaning, it seems far more likely that it was, in fact, a rare moment of honesty.

Education Extremism Rising

Over the past year, it has become clear that McAuliffe's statement represents a widely held attitude towards parents' role in their child's education. Further, many now believe that the role of government in education is not merely to teach children, but to shape them.[1]

Boys are using girls' locker rooms, bathrooms, and showers while the girls are in the rooms. One school in Pennsylvania tried to force a boy to undress with girls because he was 'intolerant' about biological boys using the girls' locker room. The left gets more insane by the day. A Pennsylvania high school requires that an 11th grade boy undresses with girls to promote tolerance. Yes, you read that right.

Here is more, per Breitbart:

A teenage boy and his parents have filed a lawsuit against a Pennsylvania high school saying that administrators tried to shame the boy for being "intolerant" and demanded that he undress with girls in the school locker room to "make it seem natural."

The lawsuit, filed by Alliance Defending Freedom and Independence Law Center (ILC), is alleging that the Boyertown Area School District in Boyertown, Pennsylvania, sexually harassed the plaintiff.[2] This is perversion on steroids.

Some schools have 'teachers' that believe that the parents have no rights over a child once they walk into a school building. Jenna Barbee, a 5th grade teacher at Winding Waters K-8 school in Spring Hill, Florida who showed her students an LGBT-themed Disney movie said parents are "ignorant" and have no rights.

She said the quiet part out loud.

Barbee is under investigation for showing her 10-year-old students "Strange World," a 2022 Disney movie featuring a biracial and gay character.

She ran to CNN to complain that she couldn't groom children anymore.

Barbee also lashed out at parents and claimed their "rights are gone" when their child is in school.

Your "rights as a parent, those rights are gone when your child is in the public school system," she said on CNN on Tuesday.[3] This is why my daughter homeschooled her kids. No exposure to this idiocy plus a much better education. My granddaughter will enter college as a sophomore not a freshman because of the education she got at home.

I have stated for the last couple of decades that our places of so-called 'higher education' are indoctrination centers, not education centers. Only one point of view is allowed, the liberal point of view. I learned American history when I was in school. What is taught today was written by revisionist historians that are mostly lies and half-truths at best. No debate is allowed. Students are taught what to think not how to think. There have been cases where a student sued a school because they were failed for not agreeing with the liberal teachers' point of view and the student lost.

We used to have the freedom to decide how we wanted to live. Now, by executive fiat the government is regulating the cars we drive forcing electric vehicles on us, telling us what kind of stoves we can have, what kind of washing machines we can use, what kind of light bulbs we can buy, and now they are trying to tell us we have to eat fake meat and bugs!

This present administration is allowing unelected people to set the laws we live by. The World Economic Forum demands we cut back on farming, they forced the shutdown of 3,000 farms in the Netherlands, raising of cattle, and are working on the elimination of single-family dwellings for us 'useless eaters' but I assure you the elite will still have theirs. All this is because of the non-existent global warming. This government is obsessed with CO2 but very few if any in the government are educated on the subject. In discussing with the transportation committee what the percentage of our atmosphere is CO2 not one of the 5 members could answer the question. One person stated that automobiles produced 49% of the CO2. I have no idea where they get those figures. CO2 is .04% of our atmosphere.[4] They also ignore the fact that the more CO2 we produce the more oxygen trees produce. Of the five gases that are 'global warming' gases CO2 is 3.8%. Man's contribution is .036%. Earth produces 100 times more CO2 than man does.

Why do we see our government demand to take total control of every part of our life? They want subjects, not a sovereign people. That's why the Democrat Party has linked itself with the United Nations and the World Economic Forum. This is also why they want our guns. Armed people will not voluntarily get into the cattle cars.
