(Note: Correction. Gabbard was Born in American Samoa and Raised in Hawaii)

You are being fooled by the MAGA media, including Fox News, into thinking that Trump is on a winning streak. The opposite is the case. Major miscalculations are being made by Trump's team, leading to serious problems ahead that threaten the entire MAGA agenda.

You must seek out alternative sources of news and information, such as my growing Rumble channel America's Survival TV, to get independent and real conservative views that bypass the Fox News filter.

In the first in a series of major mistakes, Trump has appointed a New Age Hindu cultist with Indian and Russian sympathies to the position of director of National Intelligence (DNI). Then he made a telephone call to Russian President Vladimir Putin offering him parts of Ukraine, no NATO membership for the anti-communist state of Ukraine, and even Russian membership in the G-7 international economic group of nations. This could lead to trade benefits for Putin.

To make matters worse, Trump is now proposing nuclear arms control talks with Russia and China, two countries that break agreements and have stolen our nuclear secrets over the course of decades.

Taking the oath of office, DNI Tulsi Gabbard ignored the U.S. Constitution and placed her hand on the Hindu holy book, the Bhagavad Gita. We know where her sympathies lie – with India, her Mother Country (though born in Hawaii) and a Russian client state in the BRICS alliance of anti-American nations.

Other major countries in BRICS are Russia, Communist Brazil, Communist China, and Communist South Africa, now the subject of Trump sanctions for its racist anti-white land confiscation policies.

Hindu India was in the Soviet camp during the Cold War and today it is in the Russian camp. Handshakes between Trump and Prime Minister Modi should not fool anyone.

On Fox News, the host Jesse Watters declared India was America's friend, worthy of doing business with, when it persecutes minority Christians. He is a total ignoramus.

India is considered an "ally" against radical Islam, as Trump mentioned in his welcoming speech, while ignoring the fact that violence against peaceful Christian communities in India is on the rise.

Regarding Ukraine, a country fighting for survival against Putin's Russia, Victor Rud of the Ukrainian-American Bar Association notes that Trump demonstrated bad negotiating tactics by proposing a "peace deal" that gives up in advance two of the best cards he had. He gave Putin 20 percent of Ukrainian territory and pledged no NATO membership for Ukraine. "You have no idea of the celebration that's going on in the Kremlin," he told me in an interview on my Rumble channel.

On top of these tragic developments in global affairs, President Trump's efforts through Elon Musk at DOGE are being stifled by liberal judges and Trump says he will respect and comply with these new versions of lawfare against him. Plus, liberal cities are resisting his mass deportation plans, forcing Tom Homan the Border Czar to plead with New York City Mayor Eric Adams for help, even after Trump's Justice Department cleared Adams of corruption charges.

Trump is on a losing streak that is beginning to unravel his presidency.

Regarding the judges, Trump mentions impeachment as an option, but where is the action? He must challenge judicial supremacy.

In global affairs, the Tulsi Gabbard pick was a major disaster, which will lead to less intelligence sharing with our skeptical allies. What is more, we were all deceived as to the "oath" she was taking. Although she said the words, her left hand was on the Hindu holy book, the Bhagavad Gita.

Attorney General Pam Bondi, who administered the oath, clearly asked her to place her left hand on the Constitution. I didn't see a copy of the Constitution anywhere. It is a small document. But videos and pictures show Gabbard's husband was holding the Hindu holy book for her when she took her oath of office, making it plain, in the words of Tulsi-watcher Andrew Walden of Hawaii Free Press, that the cult wants "to mainstream itself as being real Hindus," rather than a bunch of weirdos who eat cult leader Chris Butler's toenails to gather strength.

Bulter is Tulsi's guru whose father was a communist sympathizer known as the Red Doctor of Molokai and personal physician to Communist labor leader Jack Hall.

If any of this is new to you, consider yourself a victim of the MAGA media that wants you to believe everything is hunky-dory in Trump world. It is not.

The con job is working. The headline from ISKCON News says it all: "Tulsi Gabbard Becomes First Hindu to Lead U.S. Intelligence, Drawing Strength from Vaishnava Teachings." The Vaishnava teachings center on the worship of Vishnu, who is believed to be the "ultimate reality" reincarnated as Krishna.

ISKCON News is the news agency for the International Society for Krishna Consciousness. Recognition of the home base of ISKCON, Hindu-dominated India, is what Tulsi's cult leader Chris Bulter desperately wants, and now, thanks to Trump, he is getting it through the Gabbard nomination and confirmation.

Gabbard also took her Congressional Oath of Office on the Bhagavad Gita.

There is no religious test for public office, as Gabbard emphasized to deflect her attention from her background, but that stricture was designed for the Christians and their religious denominations who established America and was not designed to shield foreign ideologies and New Age religions that came from India and other places from scrutiny.

As in the case of the disastrous Gabbard nomination, one of the culprits behind the pro-Russia policy switch by Trump is Tucker Carlson, the former Fox News host who has said, "Why shouldn't I root for Russia, which I am?"

"By bending their knee to Putin," Victor Rud said of Tucker Carlson and other MAGA figures like Stephen K. Bannon, "they accept his [Putin's] caterwauling that the fall of the USSR was the greatest tragedy of the 20th century." Putin is determined to recoup "lost" territory, including Ukraine, as part of a global offensive against the West.

Rud notes the surrender of Ukraine is a green light for China to take Taiwan.

In truth, true conservatives have been given a false choice – the no-win strategy of Joe Biden that gave Ukraine limited support, or the Tucker Carlson/ Stephen K. Bannon approach of leaving the country completely at the mercy of Putin's KGB regime.

We are now witnesses to the rejection of the "Reagan Doctrine" of anti-communism in favor of the "Trump Doctrine" of abandoning an anti-communist government in Ukraine, to make way for further Russian expansion into Eastern Europe and a Chinese invasion of Taiwan. As a result, we will not see "peace" but more war.

Unless Trump reverses course and quickly, MAGA will become a nightmare and the Golden Age will lie in ruins.
