

Judgement

God's judgment persists on our four hundred year old American experiment with creating a constitutional republic. The gates of hell opened in many of our cities in recent weeks. Science and government are no match for such portals. Demons pass freely, and violently, back and forth through them.

Wearing Muzzles Out of Fear

Virtue is a swear word. Only kneeling and licking the boots of black rappers for the ubiquitous scream world will allow us to survive into the next day. In case you hadn't heard, the leader of Chick-Fil-A did that last week. He thinks all Christians should do it.

Majesty of Government

I'd like to think that the Church is still capable of serving as a "healing force for the benefit of all society." I am forced to wonder. The Pope hates borders, walls and nations while his priests and bishops crawl over them to grope altar boys, and one another. The laity, and integrity of the Church, has never been more vulnerable to Satan's attacks.

Contact Tracing

What does Pelosi's progressive brigade offer by contrast? Let's see now. Love for all races but our own; continual baby murder paid for by the government; guiltless sex with anything that moves; no more marriage; constant fear of everything that breaths, barks, talks and coughs; and government as family.

No Room For Love

Love is learned in the family. The organic or natural family begins with a father and a mother. No other arrangement is designed to work for children. They must have a father and mother who are stable for a lifetime. We all need and want that.

Separate Government from Church

On day one as Governor of Maine I would separate the state government from the Church. I would close the state's education and welfare departments. I would put Maine's government out of the business of "caring" for people. Government would no longer be the arbiter and guarantor of everything. Government is not God.

Dad-Deprived World

The people of the world, Westerners especially, inhabit a dad-deprived culture. The world's response to the Chinese Communist Party Virus is no different than Wortman's unhinged version of justice. Neither is God's, or any other religion's, version of justice. Both are extreme boyish playground examples of bullying.

American Christianity's Ventilator

American Christianity is on life support. Franklin Graham's organization, Samaritan's Purse, is that ventilator. It is clear now that even that isn't going to be enough to save the ancient faith in the good ole USA. As Godless hospitals the world over power up to respond to the Communist Chinese Party's Corona Virus Graham rallied enough evangelical Christian doctors and nurses to set up sixty eight beds in Central Park, New York.

Orwell's Nursery Rhyme

Lately I've been hearing a big word thrown around a lot – Xenophobia. I googled it and discovered the first citation is in 1880 from the Daily News in England. If you take time to click on the twitter link above you'll hear the "journalist" throw it at the Foreign Minister of Hungary as if it were an insult.

They Hate Americans – They Hate Christians

The great Russian author Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn could be describing American media today when he wrote, "The fact that most of the world is ignorant and uncaring about this enormous crime is proof that the global media is in the hands of the perpetrators." The ruling class of America is in the hands of those who want Christianity to disappear from the world.

Richmond, Virginia: A Time for Blood?

I learned at the cancer clinic where my wife was treated yesterday, from a nurse, that the North Carolina county in which we live – Surry – has declared itself a sanctuary county for gun owners. Political leaders just north of us here are calling for the secession of the western counties of Virginia. They want to become part of West Virginia.

The Church of Tolerating Everything

I am helping my good friend Coach Dave Daubenmire prepare for the big gun rally planned for Richmond, Virginia on January 20th. In twenty days armed men from all fifty states in America are planning to descend on New Virginia.

The Emotional Universe

Christianity Today lambasted Trump. He wasn't Left leaning enough for their tastes. The founders son, Franklin Graham, wasted no time condemning them absolutely. The Southern Baptist Convention takeover finalized this week as well. It is fitting that this stench should rise at Christmas time.

Stopping the Morbidly Rich

We hear much about the deep state in government. We don't hear enough about how potent it is within the Christian Church in the West. This diabolical power continues to rise inside all the institutions of the West. At the same time sensible people the world over are finding they have much in common.

Christianity Not LGBTQity

American liberty has nothing to do with the freedom to sin. American liberty is political. We are not governed by a monarch who holds power by virtue of their blood. We are governed by elected public servants who swear their oath on the Holy Bible of Christianity. They swear allegiance to Christianity, not LGBTQity.

Marine Gunnery Sergeant on Trial For Jesus

It has become so bad that almost nobody is taking time to listen to them anymore. Americans who vote for them are simply voting their covetous view of the world. They don't take time to think about what these "leaders" are promoting. They just believe that they will give them a new cellphone, more food stamps or a paycheck without work.

Can America be Saved to the Uttermost

America has a long tradition of days of prayer. Imagine if we really meant it. Imagine if our days of prayer weren't just political theatre. What would things be like if we'd maintained the respect for Jesus Christ that carried us through the nineteenth century, and brought us into the twentieth.

Passions of Former Ignorance

A man with the influence of Franklin Graham could rally the American people to demand a Christian justice system. As Coach likes to say the Christian Church could end abortion in one day. All they would have to do is choose one Sunday and hold their worship service at the local abortion mill.

America's Satanic Lullaby

The greatest thing that ever happened to me was being condemned unanimously by the Senate of Maine in 2004. I poked the political fornicating bear a little too hard. I am still integrating that particular surrender into my soul. That was a kind of martyrdom. It was a spiritual blessing.

Basket of Deplorables

Our hope going forward is walking in obedience to the commands of Jesus Christ. We must begin by acknowledging the reality of sin. There are many, many things we must change. We won't be able to see the narrow path's beginning through the swirling cultural chaos that currently engulfs us until we start loving one another.

Found Difficult

Christianity is weak at the top right now because our leadership is too worldly. It spends far too much time being at peace with the world. The Church is a peculiar institution. It is a Holy Priesthood. It is set apart to God.

Keep The City

The forces working overtime for the destruction of western civilization are full of glee. Their master, old Beelzebub himself, is laughing all the way to the bank. Not the bank that is full of worthless dollar bills. The eternal bank that is measured by the souls of men.

Made Foolish by Funny Money

The closing half of this Proverb asserts that fools, “delight in airing their own opinions.” Even news is mere opinion in America today. It doesn’t pretend to be objective. Everyone knows that FoxNews merely aspires to be the right wing to CNN’s Left. They are both part of the same dodo bird, boldly asserting their opinions at the expense of truth.

Envisioning Religious Freedom

It isn’t going to work. The League doesn’t get it. But a rising number of people in the world do. The Left has overplayed it’s hand. It’s only a matter of time now. The days are numbered for institutions like the League. Jesus Christ will not be mocked. And paganism will not prevail.

The Politics of Church

A friend forwarded an email to me yesterday. It concerned a controversy that erupted. The pastor announced last week by email that petitioners would be available in the church at a future worship service. The petitions were related to peoples veto paperwork circulating in churches as a result of formal Roman Catholic and Evangelical support.

The Hell of Feminist Possession

I have grandchildren. I want the best future possible for them. And I know that this future will not be good if Christianity disappears from the world, and is replaced by the feminist hell that is now forcefully possessing all the institutions of the West – especially the Church.

Confront Evil Today

Ignoring evil is no solution. Our path to true peace and joy daily passes through worldly temptations. Christianity is realistic. It provides helps every day that are rooted in the realities around, and within, us. Evil, temptation and sin are all very real for each and every one of us.

You Tube

America is not the beacon of freedom it once was. It is now a porn infested cesspool of political intrigue with a profoundly weak religious sensibility.

Truth Sounds Like Hate

Television and pop culture did a lot of damage to my mind and soul. I went to church with my parents, but the gospel of Jesus Christ was a distant and uninteresting idea. The mundane ruled the day then. The mundane has been weaponized in our day.

Coach Dave Daubenmire on Racism

That is what the race baiters do. They point out differences. They divide and conquer. They impugn the content of one's character simply by association with the color of one's skin. They make white children ashamed to be white. In America every skin color is honored except for white and every religion except Christian.

Break Away ... Learn the News

I had recently radically dedicated my life to Jesus Christ. Randy gave me a bible and took time on a regular basis to meet with me and answer my questions about it. I still have that Bible somewhere. It is all marked up. The New Testament fascinated me. The verse above was one that captured my imagination.

Thrown Into Confusion

There are no John Chrysostom's in Christianity in 2019. Church leaders with the power he wielded in the young Christian Roman Empire don't exist. All of them are playing footsie with the so-called gay agenda.

Men Without Chests

Many today choose the path of seeing through things forever. Hence the capacity of the "gay" movement to continuously add letters to their movement name. Their false appeal to compassion combined with our penchant for seeing through things forever has brought us to drag queen story hour and the Barbara Bush Gender Clinic.

Be Angry And Sin Not

Anger is not an evil emotion. Paul admits in the verse quoted at the start of this column that folks get angry. He warns Christians not to sin when they get angry, and to not let the sun go down on their anger. We do it all the time. Normal people get angry at injustice and unrighteousness.

Blessed Are The Peacemakers

A paradox in Christianity is the exaltation of childlikeness juxtaposed with the call to be mature, responsible and valiant people. Somehow God works in the chemistry of family life. It happens over years of hard love, choosing God over all else. A small group of souls binds together into a family.
