

Cameras, Cameras and More Cameras – See Every Move You Make

Have you noticed cameras going up everywhere? These cameras aren't just crime-fighting tools, they're the foundation of an American surveillance state, paid for with your tax dollars and owned by private billionaires. Drive past one of those innocuous "Flock" solar-powered poles and it instantly photographs your license plate and logs the make, model, color, bumper stickers

The Pandemic Playbook: A 20-Year Trail of Wash, Rinse Repeat

I swore I'd never touch this exhausted trope again – the endless drumbeat of "next pandemic" fearmongering beaten to death by every keyboard warrior from here to the dark web. Create the threat in a lab, hype the threat, fund the fix, watch it fade... until the next one. Yet here I am, dragged back in by a blistering internal HHS memo unearthed by Jon Fleetwood: $37.5 million of your tax dollars quietly rerouted to armor-plate 75 hospitals into "Level 2 Special Pathogen Treatment Centers,"

Hidden Danger: Islam's Two Faces That Lead to Violence and Conquest

America, hear this: Islam's two faces aren't a myth. They're a machine built for takeover. The kind words fade; the sword verses replace the peaceful verses. We've watched it devour Christians in Africa and girls in the UK. Now, with New York's new Muslim mayor defying a tough president, the violence creeps closer.

Stop Blaming the Unvaccinated

Big Pharma and their complicit media mouthpieces, along with rigged "fact-checker" hit pieces, keep parroting the lie that shedding is baseless conspiracy nonsense from "theorists." A quick internet search rigged by their algorithms funnels you straight to a wall of debunking propaganda, burying the real evidence under layers of censorship and gaslighting.

"An Inconvenient Study" is a

Must Watch Documentary for all Parents

Since 1986, pharmaceutical companies have been granted legal immunity from lawsuits related to vaccine injuries, reducing their incentive to invest in thorough vaccine safety research. No childhood vaccine has been subjected to a double-blind, placebo-controlled study using a saline placebo, the gold standard for independent, unbiased research.

Big Pharma Unites With Big Farma

Big Pharma's reach extends far beyond human medicine, infiltrating the cattle, chicken, pork, fish, and even fruit and vegetable industries. My findings will shock you. They might drive you to raise your own livestock and grow your own produce, though that's no simple task. Those with the means and land—complete with a pond—are breeding their own tilapia, raising animals, and cultivating their own food.

Digital Tracking Bathroom Passes For Students

In the name of safety and convenience, thousands of schools around the nation are implementing digital bathroom passes that track and limit how many times a student can go to the bathroom during the school day. Some systems have the students use QR codes on their smartphones to be able to access the restroom.

NFL Recruits Demonic and Anti-ICE Pop Star for Halftime Sewage

Out of all the entertainers in the world the NFL went out of its way to pick the most controversial anti-American, demonic and LGBTQ agenda promoter, so-called entertainer they could find for the Super Bowl half time show. It is an in-your-face America message from the NFL. Puerto Rican born pop star, Benito Antonio Martínez Ocasio aka Bad Bunny

The Dumbing Down of Education Through Technology, Part 1

Technological advances have slowly been introduced into the classroom. Handheld calculators became available and affordable in the 1970's. Parents and educators questioned whether calculators would have a negative effect on the foundational math skills of students in their early grades. They debated whether they would hinder the development of arithmetic abilities.
