

Can America Survive Our Guilt Complex Wholesale Hatred And Hopeless Division?

These days we're offered heavy doses of guilt, hatred and division. The people spreading it are the guiltiest of it. One is left to wonder how the United States of America could produce such a dangerous collection of people. Dangerous to our country and willing to sell their souls for just a brief taste of dominance and power.

Still fighting the Crusades

The Crusades ended in the 13th century. Islam still battles and much of the Western world tries not to offend the religion of peace. If you want to learn where the divide began between Isaac, the promised son, and Ishmael, "He will be a wild donkey of a man; his hand will be against everyone and everyone's hand against him, and he will live in hostility toward all his brothers" read Genesis. To learn how history ends read the Book of Revelation. For self-enlightenment, your fate, and the fate of the world, read everything In between.

On September 11, 2001, America was attacked by Islamists. Put all of the conspiracy theories away and accept that it was Muslims mainly from Saudi Arabia that killed 3000 Americans. We promptly added Islamophobia and xenophobia to our growing list of American phobias. Fraught with American guilt, we started (and continue) teaching public school children about Islam, about Mohammad, about their holidays, how they pray, how they dress... Go into any public-school classroom, where Christmas break is depicted on the academic calendars as winter break so as not to offend, and teach a class about Christianity and Jesus Christ. Then prepare for all manner of hell to be visited upon your doorstep. Islam is moving forward. America, Christianity, and most of the Western world is in retrograde.

“Islam is not a religion by any standards. It is a militant, political and violent cult created by one man: Muhammad. It is time that we treat Islam as the greatest threat to the human race. The Islamic treasury, flushed with oil extortion money together with the help of Marxist-Democrats and Hollywood celebrities (“Muslim Brotherhood front-groups have targeted Hollywood as one of many vehicles through which to conduct its civilization jihad.”) are having the upper hand in this battle of survival for freedom.” Amil Imani, Is Islam a Religion?

Still fighting the US Civil War

Do we treat one another differently here in the land of the free? Not much really. The US Civil War ended over 150 years ago and along with it the abomination of slavery. We’re still fighting it and some are trying to rewrite history of it while capitalizing on all opportunities to divide our people. Some members of Congress are raising the issue of legislation for slavery reparations. Not only must we continue to divide a citizenry that has no one living who was a slave holder or a slave, we also seek the wedge that would destroy our hope for unity. Congress and a multitude of presidential candidates are not interested in addressing problems and are much less interested in a united America. A united populace – we the people – is the greatest fear of Washington’s establishment and their globalist cohorts. No, they prefer to stir hatred pitting manmade identity groups against one another or turning them all against, as Presidential candidate Joe Biden the whitest of white men puts it, “a white man’s culture.” If this continues, they may end up with the war they pine for. And then, what was once the greatest nation God ever allowed to exist will lay in ruin waiting for our true enemies to sweep away the broken pieces making room for the new world order. All while American patriots of all walks become insurgents in their own land. The land where freedom was forfeit.

America's guilt complex

It is somewhat confusing when you think about it. We are a distinct culture that's twisted itself into an unrecognizable creation trying to prove (not to the world or any group in particular because the world does not care about us and our incessant need to please everyone) to ourselves how diverse, inclusive, and multicultural we can be. We've morphed from proud to be an American to a guilt ridden, self-loathing lot. At least that's how we project to the world. Clearly, it's a guilt we aim to expunge through self-destruction. It bears repeating that generations of Americans were taught through revisionist history to hate where we came from and through ideas of gloom, doom, and destruction to dread even more where we are headed. No one is allowed to appreciate where we are lest he or she be labeled a climate change denier, hopeless phobic or an ist of some sort. The new American mindset? What we have is good. How we got it is bad. Where we are headed is worse yet. Miserable people driven toward hopelessness. Guilt and hatred with blame laid at the feet Joe Biden's white man's culture. Wed emotions leading to nothing good. Nothing good at all.

"I know what it is to be in need, and I know what it is to have plenty. I have learned the secret of being content in any and every situation, whether well fed or hungry, whether living in plenty or in want. I can do all this through him who gives me strength." Philippians 4:12-13

Media and entertainment industry cesspool

Our media and entertainment industry are little more than gigantic brainwashing and propaganda operations. There was an ABC television program that lasted a couple of seasons. I was pleased when I learned Netflix bought the rights and put out new season 3. This story of an unlikely President was a decent prime time television program although it had its moments when the brilliant independent president constantly clobbered the arrogant conservative. The Netflix version offered an F-bomb in every other sentence, raw gay sex between two men, and a plot by a bio hacker to create a virus that only attacks people of color. I gave up on it. In the movies, toxic masculinity becomes bumbling idiot man replaced by heroic woman. This is how our entertainment industry fundamentally transforms young American minds. No, they're not just movies. They're indoctrination for the ignorant who tend to weave fiction into fact. They're a total withdrawal from natural law. A total embrace of social justice memes. A total embrace of a world without bounds. A world having not place for God.

Make America Great Again

Is it really so difficult to understand why Make America Great Again appeals to so many people in America's forgotten heartland and rotting cities? I've been blessed to have spent nearly five decades of my working life with America's best whether a high school dropout in a Chicago factory, in the service, at a high school, or my last working years serving Veterans. America's politicians worked hard over the past few decades giving away those factory jobs and ignoring the plight of the great American middle class. Many of our great cities are a rotting mess.

A sad state

Our country is in a place where it has not been for many years. Americans of all walks have employment, if they want it. And the American way is to want it. We are forfeiting our identity so that we may blend with the world. We are the exceptional nation founded on the precept of individual liberty. People are flooding our borders to take from the world's most prosperous nation rather than embrace its freedom and contribute to it. They do not come here to embrace American exceptionalism. They do not know what it is. They've been taught that America stole from them and their purpose is to take back what's rightfully theirs. Instead of thoughts of freedom, they bring with them failed cultures and ideologies for which America is also blamed.

Just a side story

Do the reading I suggested at the beginning and you'll come away understanding the United States of America is just a side story in the long history of the world. Barely a blip on the celestial radar. Biblically, there is no United States of America. You won't find it in Genesis or the Revelation or on any pages in between. All of it ends where it began. We didn't control the beginning. Neither can we control the end. From here to there, we can only control the journey. We the people need to decide the path of our journey.

How do we survive?

Borders, language, culture, and unity of purpose define sovereign nations. On our current path of hatred and division, how do we survive? Can we survive?

Jesus knew their thoughts and said to them: "Any kingdom divided against itself will be ruined, and a house divided against itself will fall." Luke 11:17
