

Career Democrats, Republicans and their unjust trade deals created Donald Trump

For the past 30 years, career politicians like New York's Senator Charles Schumer and Arizona's John McCain—created President Donald Trump. California's Senators Box and Feinstein created the Trump phenomenon. Florida's Rubio, Texas' Cruz and Nevada's Harry Reid made certain Donald Trump emerged from America's current ashes. He explodes in unison with American citizens' anger, frustration and despair.

As a collective body of citizens, we stand sickened at Congress' failure and refusal to uphold the laws of our land. We grow angrier at our elected officials for making us scapegoats and victims as they facilitate the greatest immigration invasion any country ever experienced in the 21st century.

Our anger grows from "Free Trade" killing the American Dream by shipping jobs to benefit China, India and other countries' citizens instead of American citizens. Notice China's fear of a Trump presidency because he will stop the "Free Trade" gravy train they've been riding for 30 years.

Our anger multiplies when we see Barack Hussein Obama deny African-Americans a job at a livable wage. He denies dignity for his own people. Whether George W. Bush or Bill Clinton, we can no longer trust career, corrupt politicians to work for our best interests—because they don't. They create wars to kill off our finest sons and daughters as they sacrifice them for 14 years in Afghanistan and Iraq for useless bloodshed for everyone.

All 535 Congressional critters import millions of Middle Eastern immigrants adhering to the most violent religion on the planet—right into our heartland—and then, act surprised when the Boston Marathon suffers jihadist bombers or the San Bernardino Muslims killed dozens of people and more to come.

Marcus Cicero said, “A nation can survive its fools, and even the ambitious. But it cannot survive treason from within. An enemy at the gates is less formidable, for he is known and carries his banner openly. But the traitor moves amongst those within the gate freely, his sly whispers rustling through all the alleys, heard in the very halls of government itself. For the traitor appears not a traitor; he speaks in accents familiar to his victims, and he wears their face and their arguments, he appeals to the baseness that lies deep in the hearts of all men. He rots the soul of a nation, he works secretly and unknown in the night to undermine the pillars of the city, he infects the body politic so that it can no longer resist. A murderer is less to fear. The traitor is the plague.”

Cicero defined Barack Hussein Obama to a T. He’s dismantling our Constitution and injecting more Muslims into America at breakneck speed. Worse, none of those people in Congress do anything to stop this invasion of our country.

Right now, our country resembles the Titanic, the Hindenburg, Waterloo and the Roman Empire. Congress continues to rearrange the deck chairs on the U.S.S. Titanic to no avail. We suffer a man named Obama who fails to understand a country in which he doesn’t relate with or belong.

While the talking heads and experts confound themselves over Trump’s rise, they fail to understand the problems we face, much less do anything about them. In fact, the democrats and republicans twiddled their thumbs for the past 30 years.

We tire of Obama pitting blacks against whites. He foments African-Americans against cops while doing nothing to bring education and livable wage jobs to black Americans. He bows to Muslim kings while apologizing for America's actions while he makes horrific excuses for Islamic terror worldwide. Obama caused more racial divide in America since the 1960s. Dude, you make us sick and we are sick of you.

Obama, we sicken at your actions to change our laws without our Congress' approval and we grow angry beyond your comprehension when you take the law into your own hands. You mimic a third world dictator, but in the end, we won't stand for or tolerate you.

And, you will never, ever take our guns away because we must defend ourselves against the likes of you.

Again, you solved nothing in the past seven years. Our national debt jumped from $13 trillion to $19 trillion in seven years. Food stamp users increased from 36 million to 48 million. Today, 73 percent of African-American children arrive into this country without fathers and face a lifetime of poverty because they won't become educated nor will they enjoy a viable job.

From out of the ashes of Obama's treachery against America, Donald Trump rises like a 21st century Phoenix. Brash, bold, outspoken and ready to take action. He's all-American. Instead of calling Americans racists or selfish or small-minded with their culture and guns—he celebrates Americans: "Make America Great Again". We don't bow to anybody!

Our country faces epic challenges. We tire of excuses. We want action.

Whether you like him or not, Trump will not succumb to Washington DC's elected aristocracy. Trump will shake things up and get things done—for Americans. God knows we need a leader that loves our country, with his rough edges and foibles. Give us a 21st century Teddy Roosevelt. At the minimum, he gives us a fighting chance.

After seven years of Obama's clearly un-American reign of terror with his 13 Muslim aides injecting more jihadists into our country, we see the light of day coming in 10 months with a man like Donald Trump. It can't come fast enough for our country and our citizens.
