

China's Planned Cyber Security Attack

By Cliff Kincaid

October 25, 2025

Do not be fooled by the FBI rounding up a few rich NBA players who got caught making illegal bets. The nation's security is still vulnerable to a major cyber attack from Communist China, a preview of which occurred in the "outage" of Amazon web services. This is a far more serious problem than illegal gambling.

The American government has no ability to stop the cyber warfare any more than it was able to stop the release of the China virus and the deaths and lockdowns.

This period strikes me as eerily like President Trump's first term in office, when he was rebuilding the economy and it was derailed by the China virus, producing not only death and destruction but trillions in excessive federal spending leading to massive inflation. Trump talks about it all the time.

This time, I figure China will unleash a major cyber warfare attack.

People can question my predictions but you should know that I prepared reports predicting assassination attempts on the life of President Trump before they occurred. I wrote after the fact that "We have a federal government that allowed the leader of the opposition, former President Donald J. Trump, to be targeted for murder. He escaped death through divine intervention.”

If the federal government can’t protect us from a China virus attack, what makes you think they will protect us from on-going cyber warfare attacks that could cripple our economy? They won’t and they can’t.

Incredibly, President Trump keeps referring to Chinese dictator Xi as a friend who he can do business with, and he is scheduled to meet with him next week, on Thursday, October 30. I have never understood how Trump can do business with such an evil character. The only explanation is that Trump is approaching Xi from a position of weakness. He understands that the China virus was originally designed as payback for Trump’s tariffs on China in his first term. He knows China has the “trump cards.”

It is one thing to beat up on poor little Canada to the north, but quite another to think that America can make a deal with a dictator whose China virus killed more than one million Americans. These are the stakes.

There is speculation that China brought Amazon web services down on October 25, a development that knocked out major apps including Robinhood, Snapchat, and Fortnite, sparking “chaos across digital platforms.” Our attention quickly shifted to the NBA scandal, giving the impression that the FBI can be assumed to oversee all the necessary security precautions for America as a whole. I do not believe it.

The NBA scandal is said to have “mobsters” in the mix but the biggest mobsters are the Chinese Communists and their Russian and North Korean comrades. These people have much bigger stakes than a few million dollars on the poker table. They are interested in world control, and taking down the USA is the means to get there.

President Trump has closed our borders through presidential action but they are still wide open to cyber warfare from abroad, which is potentially far more serious.

We hear little about this threat.

In the same way that I predicted the assassination attempts on Trump, I predict a major Chinese cyber warfare attack, especially if the “trade talks” fall apart. China is determined to win by any means necessary.

I am sure you have noticed that President Trump has dropped his demands for trillions in financial reparations from China over the deaths caused by the China virus. He does not talk about that anymore. He talked a lot about it during the campaign.

Our leaders and their “intelligence agencies” have finally recognized that the China virus came out of China, from a Chinese military lab. We spend tens of billions on this kind of “intelligence” when common sense costs nothing. But this is admitting the obvious.

Common sense tells you the Chinese have not given up their plan to dominate the world.

Many are too young to remember (or they were not taught) that the Communist Chinese intervened massively on the side of the North Korean regime during the Korean War. American casualties of the United States during the Korean War (1950-1953) have been estimated at 54,260 dead including 33,643 “battle deaths.” The U.S. settled on a stalemate in Korea, after American General Douglas MacArthur was prohibited from taking the fight to the communist-controlled Chinese mainland. Henry Kissinger under Nixon then “made a deal” with China, recognizing the regime and trading with the enemy.

I am one of many who had our medical records stolen by the Chinese communists through a “ransomware” hack of my Frederick Health medical group earlier this year. My personal story is not that important. What matters is that Frederick Health is a medical group serving top U.S. political, intelligence, and military officials in the DC-Maryland area. That gives the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) additional leverage over these people to do their bidding.

My wife and I were officially notified by mail that an “unauthorized person gained access” to the Frederick Health network and “copied certain files from a file share server.”

We were told that documents that were compromised could include name, address, date of birth, Social Security number, driver’s license number, medical record number, health insurance information, “and/or clinical information related to your care, not contained in our Electronic medical record.”

That “unauthorized person” I believe is the CCP. The FBI has no comment.

One can assume that this kind of personal medical information from certain people in the federal government in the hands of the wrong people could lead to national security problems.

It was later disclosed almost a million people were affected by the attack.

“We’re working on cyber threats,” said FBI Director Kash Patel in September. “We’re attacking malware infrastructure, going after ransomware attackers, delivering a new partnership with the private-public sector engagement we’ve taken with the companies who are attacked by these foreign adversaries and nation-state actors and individual enterprise rings from around the world. We are combating Salt Typhoon, Vault Typhoon, Flax Typhoon, and so many other ransomware and cyber threats this nation faces.”

That sounds great but I do not believe this is enough. It looks to me like the Chinese have the edge in information warfare and will use their superiority in this field to launch a major new attack on America if Trump does not buckle to Xi’s demands.

America cannot be great again if its power is eclipsed by that of Communist China.

Only another miracle can save us now.
