“Has anyone heard of how my father was murdered with Remdesivir?”

“Has anyone hear about how the hospital and called me and blamed me and my mom because we were not vaccinated, that was the reason he died.”

“Anybody heard how they put my dad on palliative care? And they never feed him, and they starved him to death. They only gave him one can of insure in 9 days.”

“Anybody hear about that?”

“Anybody hear about how they put my dad in bilateral restraints, restrained him against his will, and pumped him full of Remdesivir. Against his and his family’s wishes...”

“Has anyone heard the story?”

“Anyone, you heard the story yet?”

“Has anyone heard the story of how my dad was murdered in the worst way then people on death row.”

“They murdered my father, they injected him with poison.”

I knew it was a matter of time before these sorts of responses to those who were promoting these experimental jabs were coming; or should I say, those who were going to be heard by the public at large like this woman’s response (Luke 12:2)?

This is one of those videos that needs not much introduction because it speaks loud and clear of the voice of the people throughout not just America, but also for the people on a world-wide basis concerning those who have experienced these horrific abuses (Proverbs 17:15).
