

Democrats' Christian-Bashing

Lee Duigon

In next year's national elections, millions of people will vote for Democrats. Their number will include a multitude of church-going Christians who apparently were dormant when the Democrats booed God at their 2012 national convention. They not only booed God and got away with it; they also won another term for *Batteries Not Included.

People just don't pay attention.

Recently the space aliens who run the Democrat National Committee adopted a resolution blaming Christians for everything that's bad about America, including the oppression of virtually everybody. The resolution, of course, avoided using the words "Christians" and "Christianity"—but who else do you think they meant? Parsees?

The resolution condemns Christians' "use of misplaced claims of 'religious liberty' to justify public policy that has threatened the civil rights and liberties of many Americans, including but not limited to the LGBT community, women, and ethnic and religious/nonreligious minorities." Note how they put quotation marks around "religious liberty", as if it were some silly thing that Christians made up as an excuse to oppress Our Cherished Minorities—they even think it's in the Constitution!

The publicly stated position of the Democrat Party is that Christians—meaning most of you—are the bad guys who've made America a racist, sexist hell-hole. They are against you, boys and girls. Most of them insist there's no such thing as boys and girls. What do they have to do to convince you they don't like you—walk up and punch you in the nose?

In Minnesota this month a federal appeals court revived a lawsuit against the state's "Obey the gay" policy. The state was persecuting a husband-and-wife team of videographers who refused to film same-sex "weddings," going so far as to threaten them with steep fines and prison (!) terms. Defending their religious freedom, as enshrined in the First Amendment to the Constitution—supposedly the law of the land—the couple sued the state. A lower court dismissed their suit, but the federal court has reinstated it, allowing it to go forward.

This is Democrat Christian-bashing in all its glory. They actually propose to put you in jail if you refuse to "affirm" or participate in an activity which outrages your religious beliefs. Hey! Maybe they could, like, set up these camps where the uncooperating hateful Christians would have to go until their minds are right. Minnesota could hire consultants from North Korea to show 'em how it's done.

"Religious liberty" deserves sarcastic quotation marks, if all it's going to be is Democrats having the power to tell you when to speak and what to say, or else. What kind of freedom is that? "Liberal Christians" (an oxymoron) are already gung-ho for gay, so they don't have a problem with it; but anyone who takes the Bible at all seriously... does.

Where is all this leftism taking us?

A Swedish "scientist" has the answer.

At a recent food conference in Stockholm, where they invented the Stockholm syndrome, this genius declared that humanity must turn to cannibalism... to fight Climate Change, don't you know. He will achieve intellectual immortality with this glittering jewel of wisdom:

“First of all, it is that the person who is to be eaten is dead.”
