

Disastrous Choices Are Sabotaging Trump's Victory – Part 3

By Kelleigh Nelson

Once is happenstance. Twice is coincidence. Three times is enemy action. –Ian Fleming

The supreme art of war is to subdue the enemy without fighting. –Sun Tzu

A traitor is a betrayer – one who practices injury, while professing friendship. Benedict Arnold was a traitor, solely because, while professing friendship for the American cause, he attempted to injure it. An open enemy, however criminal in other respects, is no traitor. –Lysander Spooner

At this point in the transition of power, I am appalled at many of Trump's choices for his second term. Yet, the conservative pundits and talking heads are lauding Trump's choices from Tulsi Gabbard and Kristi Noem to Mike Waltz and Pam Bondi. Telling the truth at this point would put a damper on the massive victory.

The new "Senator" Adam Schiff is thrilled with the "unquestionably qualified" choice for Secretary of State, Marco Rubio. Why not?! Rubio is a board member of the International Republican Institute (IRI), the CIA wing of the GOP and political back channel of the Republican Party.

As we survey some of the nominees, we have to wonder who is choosing these candidates? Are these Trump's choices or are they selected by Susie Wiles and her transition team?

Eireann Van Natta's article on Mike Rogers is good reason to breathe a sigh of relief that he is out as FBI Director.

Doug Burgum is not someone we want as Secretary of Interior or Energy Czar. Janet Levy's article on the North Dakota Governor proves he doesn't measure up to MAGA.

AG Pam Bondi

Matt Gaetz is out as the Attorney General nominee; Pam Bondi has replaced him. Bondi was elected Florida's attorney general to protect the public from fraud and abuse, and then fired two prosecutors in her office who were doing just that, because the fraudsters happened to be her campaign donors.

After Bondi was termed out, she became a lobbyist at Ballard Partners whose income shot into the stratosphere after Donald Trump became one of their clients during his first term. She worked with Trump's Chief of Staff, Susie Wiles, while at Ballard. Wiles had 42 different clients, including Republic Services, a waste management firm accused of dumping toxic waste into a landfill; two mining firms seeking to develop resource extraction operations in public lands and watersheds; Swisher Sweets tobacco, which has been attempting for years to block restrictions on its illegal candy-flavored cigars; and Globovision Tele Ca, Corp., whose owner was federally sanctioned in a $1.2 billion money-laundering case. Wiles continued official lobbying while Trump's campaign manager.

Check out Ballard's profile at Open Secrets.

Bondi represented Amazon, General Motors, private prison firm GEO Group, and other "Fortune 500 companies." She was also one of Uber's hired guns as well as lobbying for the government of Qatar, the country where a literally uncountable number of migrant itinerant workers died constructing venues for the 2022 World Cup. Recently she has been lobbying for a series of sheriff's associations.

Twelve years ago, Bondi was a big part of the fraudulent prosecution architecture in the George Zimmerman case. Zimmerman had been attacked by a drugged-up Trayvon Martin and was screaming for help while having his head slammed into cement. He fatally shot Martin and was charged with manslaughter when it was an obvious issue of self-defense.

Pam Bondi did intentionally, willfully and with specific intent attempt to use the power of her office to assist in the malicious and wrongful prosecution of a transparently innocent man. Zimmerman should own Bondi for her specious prosecution of an innocent man.

She is far too dangerous to be in such a powerful position.

The Deep State sewer rats are smiling over her nomination.

Project 2025 Nominees

In 1980, the Heritage Foundation was influential in President Reagan's administration. In January 1981, Mandate for Leadership: Policy Management in a Conservative Administration was released as a 20-volume, 3,000-page publication. The Mandate contained more than 2,000 individual suggestions to move the federal government in a conservative direction. It was blessed by Reagan's Chief of Staff, Edwin Meese.

Heritage Foundation has again wormed its way into the Trump administration via their Project 2025 mandate partners. Although Trump denigrated Project 2025 during the campaign, he is now hiring many of their people.

Russ Vought has been nominated as Director of the Office of Management and Budget. Vought is the former vice-president of The Heritage Foundation's sister organization, Heritage Action for America. He was confirmed as OMB director in 2020 after serving as acting director since January 2019 and was previously its deputy director. Vought was Project 2025's architect. His Center for Renewing America is also listed as a member of Project 2025's advisory board, according to the plan's website. Vought authored a full chapter in the 2025 mandate.

Brendan Carr, the senior Republican on the Federal Communications Commission who Trump announced this week as his pick to chair the agency next year, wrote Project 2025's full chapter focused on the FCC.

Trump's choices for CIA director, John Ratcliffe; ambassador to Canada, Pete Hoekstra; and "border czar," Tom Homan, are all listed in the project as contributors, which the text of the project describes as those who "generously" volunteered "their time and effort to assist the authors in the development and writing of this volume's 30 chapters."

Legislation introduced in 2019 by former Rep. Sean Duffy, who the president-elect tapped to be his transportation secretary, is also referenced in the text in a section on trade, although the Wisconsin Republican is not listed as a contributor or author.

Heritage Foundation has long been known as "controlled opposition." They are supported by Planned Parenthood and Council on Foreign Relations members and donors.

Secretary of Defense

Pete Hegseth has been nominated as Secretary of Defense. I preferred General Michael T. Flynn who has 33 years of military service, five of which were in combat. Flynn actually knows what needs to be eliminated from our military, DEI, cultural Marxism and critical theory. He would have lived at the Pentagon for four years.

Hegseth is another nominee who has been fooled by Mark Meckler's Convention of States promoting a new constitutional convention. Those on this bandwagon seem to have failed to do their homework regarding the original 1787 convention, what was done, and what Article V of the Constitution actually states. Meckler's organization is funded by the Koch organizations as is Pete's Concerned Veterans for America (CVA).

CVA is "the Kochs' veterans astroturf organization." It lists the same office address as Americans for Prosperity and The Libre Initiative on its website. The Koch organization affiliations are with the Deep State and Dark Money, and their disdain for our President is only too obvious despite several of their adherents being in the Trump administration. Heritage Action has received funding from the Koch orgs.

The Kochs promote abortion, open borders, gay marriage, and UN Agenda 21.

Secretary of Treasury

Scott Kenneth Homer Bessent is an American hedge fund manager. He was a partner at Soros Fund Management for decades and the 2015 founder of Key Square Group, a global macro investment firm. He was an economic advisor for Trump's 2024 campaign. Another graduate of Yale, like JD and Usha Vance and Vivek Ramaswamy. He was president of Wolf's Head Society, and treasurer for the class of 1984.

Bessent and his husband, former New York City prosecutor John Freeman, have two adopted children.

Surgeon General

Dr. Janette Nesheiwat has been nominated for Surgeon General. Nesheiwat has served as an assistant medical director of City

MD. They operate more than 150 urgent care centers in New York and New Jersey. She is currently a medical contributor on Fox News.

It was reported that in 2018, City MD agreed to pay Medicare $6.6 million for billing fraud. They also paid New York state another $883,000 to settle false claims allegations.

Nesheiwat has previously described the COVID vaccine as a “gift from God.” “I’m optimistic we are on our way to ending the needless loss of lives starting with the nothing short of miraculous coronavirus vaccine and the development of therapeutics,” she wrote in an opinion piece published on Fox News in 2021.

Janette Nesheiwat praised Facebook for censoring anti-vaccine information, adding that she will “hope and pray” other social media companies do the same.

“The measles, mumps and rubella vaccine has been around for many years, at least 50/60 years, and it’s highly effective. It’s about 97 percent effective in preventing you from catching measles, mumps and rubella, and this is really important, because it is the most contagious vaccine-preventable disease out there,” she said during a Fox News interview in January.

On January 12, 2022, she tweeted, “Vaccines, Tests, Meds & Masks are all beneficial in combating covid. It’s not just one or the other.”

She also supported the suppression of alternative opinions from Dr. Peter McCullough, Dr. Michael Yeadon, Dr. David Martin, Dr. Simone Gold, etc., all to protect the interests of Big Pharma and abet the project to inject every human being with “a needle in every arm.”

Her sister, Julia Nesheiwat, is married to Michael Waltz who was chosen for National Security Adviser.

Julia is a distinguished fellow with the Atlantic Council's Global Energy Center and a recognized expert for energy, environment, climate change, and national security issues as a public servant, academic, former military officer, and US diplomat.

The Atlantic Council has up to six former CIA chiefs on the Council. Their commitment to globalism is at the core of its mission statement. Preserving NATO and fostering a Cold War-era hostility to Russia are among its chief priorities. It is no surprise that the Council is thoroughly engaged in Ukraine. With the Left's attempts to first initiate a coup against President Trump via claims of Russian interference in the 2016 election having proven a dismal failure, the defenders of entrenched New World Order globalism in the U.S. government have now turned to Ukraine in a second attempt to oust the despised outsider in the White House. And Atlantic Council personnel are front and center in the effort.

Nesheiwat served on the World Economic Forum's Global Advisory Council on low-carbon energy transformation as well as an international affairs fellow with the Council on Foreign Relations. Nesheiwat is a visiting professor at the Naval Post Graduate School on Energy Security and has lectured at Stanford University and the University of California San Diego.

FDA Commissioner

A surgical oncologist at Johns Hopkins University, Dr. Marty Makary's selection for the top job at the FDA is not unexpected given his work with the first Trump administration on issues like surprise medical billing. He recently made statements indicating support for Robert F. Kennedy Jr., Trump's choice to lead the Department of Health and Human Services, and Kennedy's "Make America Healthy Again" platform.

Earlier this year, Makary appeared alongside Kennedy in a congressional roundtable on health and nutrition, where he criticized federal health agencies for not prioritizing chronic diseases and said “the greatest perpetrator of misinformation has been the United States government with the food pyramid.”

“We have the most overmedicated, sickest population in the world and no one is talking about root causes,” he said. “We have poisoned our food supply.”

Makary opposed vaccine mandates and some other public health measures during the coronavirus nightmare. He also believed in natural immunity protection.

CDC Director

Dave Weldon, a physician and former congressman who has questioned vaccine safety and fought for abortion limits, has been chosen to lead the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Weldon is well-known as a staunch vaccine critic, making him a fit for Kennedy and the likely direction the HHS will take under Trump. Weldon’s directorship, under Kennedy’s leadership, could still have far-reaching implications for the public and the industry, especially since a key role of the CDC is to review and recommend vaccines for wide use. This process is usually guided by an outside panel of experts, the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices, but the CDC director has the power to quash recommendations.

Weldon is a stringently anti-abortion activist, who when he served in Congress was involved in legislation to legally protect anti-abortion doctors and restrict the way doctors can perform the procedure. He is also well known for his role in the Terri Schiavo controversy, where after a Florida woman suffered brain death, Congress attempted to intervene against her husband’s right to terminate life support. Weldon in particular used his credentials as a doctor to dispute Schiavo's diagnosis.

In 2007, then Rep. Weldon sponsored the Mercury-Free Vaccines Act and the Vaccine Safety and Public Confidence Assurance Act. He also sponsored legislation to ban thimerosal from vaccines, including flu shots, and appeared with parents who claimed that the CDC had covered up evidence tying vaccines to autism.

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services

Big Pharma shill, Dr. Mehmet Oz has been chosen as administrator for Medicare and Medicaid Services.

Many of Trump's choices are questionable, but Dr. Oz takes the cake.

Oz holds dual citizenship in Turkey and the United States. There appears to be "no dispute that Oz voted in the 2018 Turkish election."

In the 2022, Pennsylvania Senate race, former Secretary of State, Mike Pompeo warned Pennsylvania voters that Dr. Oz voted in Turkey's elections, and works for state entities in the country, and that makes Oz a threat to national security.

September 27, 2018: Oz sits with President Erdogan and his wife Emine during the 9th Turkey Investment Conference held by the Turkey-U.S. Business Council (TALK) in New York

As attorney and former Army JAG Corps officer, Joanna Martin wrote, “Oz is an ineligible candidate. Article I, Sec. 3, clause 3, US Constitution, sets forth the qualifications to be a United States Senator: among other things, one must have been for nine years a Citizen of the US. A Citizen of the United States doesn’t vote in Turkish elections.”

Dr. Oz has made countless television statements that prove he is not at all conservative, socially or otherwise.

Videos are included in this link where Dr. Oz promotes transgenderism as well as surgery for children. In 2019, he argued for upholding Roe v. Wade, and back in 2009, he bragged on CNN that he had helped to bring Obamacare to fruition. (And what a mess our medical system is only 15 years later.) In another video, Dr. Oz says we should have Red Flag Laws that take people’s firearms away by surveilling their social media posts. Oz also believes Critical Race Theory should be taught in our government schools inasmuch as he sees racism as a problem.

And, from the Miami Standard, “Dr. Oz was photographed with ‘Spirit Cooking’ specialist Marina Abramovic, who infamously appeared in the emails of Hillary Clinton’s 2016 campaign boss John Podesta, who scored an invitation to a ‘Spirit Cooking’ ritual with Abramovic.

The occultic symbolism evident in Abramovic's work has been scrutinized for years. And yet Dr. Oz and Abramovic apparently had a very engrossing conversation with one another. The two mingled closely at the American Turkish Society Gala at New York's The Plaza on October 26 of the year 2021."

Conclusion

The Gateway Pundit reported that Trump's transition team claims there will be no blanket pardon for J6ers. Trump will make pardon decisions on a case-by-case basis.

In another Gateway article, concern for security at Trump's second inauguration is high on the list. Capitol Hill Police Chief Thomas Manger is falling asleep at meetings as officers discuss security for Donald Trump's 2025 inauguration.

On a high note, Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene (R-GA), has been tapped to lead a new House subcommittee that will work with the so-called Department of Government Efficiency (DOGE) led by Elon Musk and Vivek Ramaswamy.
