

Enforcing Constitutional “Enumerated Powers” Will End Major Government Crimes!

Andrew Wallace

May 27, 2023

A majority of our federal government and its actions are unconstitutional. PERIOD.

There are a multitude of legal organizations that make their living from donations for fighting the many “results” of government’s failure to comply with the Enumerated Powers set forth in Article 1 Section 8. Of course, if they were effective in enforcing the “Enumerated Powers”, they could no longer make a living on the countless results of government’s unlawful non-compliance.

Make no mistake, a legal and legitimate federal government must comply with the “Enumerated Powers” in the Constitution.

In the case of the United States, we know that a majority of the federal government is fake, and operates outside of our Constitution with no authority other than the barrel of a gun.

I can see no way for a return to a Constitutional Republic while our entire government consists of corrupt and cowardly employees, while the people remain dependent.

Economic reality dictates that the people will remain in need, but the government’s ability to control them by continued handouts for all purposes, including Social Security, will cease.

If the “checks and balances” built into the federal system would have functioned to the minimal extent of an honest federal police and judiciary, this usurpation of our Republic would not have been possible.

The primary cause of the destruction of our Republic is the failure to restrict federal government powers to those specified in the “Enumerated Powers” in the Constitution.

The only primary powers granted to the federal government (by the States) in the Constitution are Defense, Foreign Relations, Immigration, Commerce, Treasury, Indian affairs, Currency, and misc.

But the federal government ignores these restrictions to the extent that the majority of the federal government is unlawful and fake.

As an example, the following federal departments and related agencies are unconstitutional and fake: Labor, Agriculture, Health and Human Services, Education, Energy, Transportation, and Housing and Urban Development. This is the tip of the iceberg.

In simple terms, the federal government can lawfully pass no law or spend a dime that does not comply with the Enumerated Powers. Of course, they ignore this Constitutional requirement. There would be no “debt-ceiling” crisis to deal with if they lawfully complied.

Every patriot I know has been trying to solve this problem without success. They have attempted every legal recourse available in the Constitution without satisfaction. I misspoke... there are other approved, even recommended, options under the founding documents to be used as a last resort.

You need only look at the major Democrat cities to observe the rapid decline in public safety and quality of life to determine that the end is near. The cost of millions of illegal invaders to the cities is the final straw for the cities. When you combine the existing crime with the predicted major depression, it is impossible for the Democratic cities to remain viable. And it will trickle down to affect us all.

A major depression and currency debasement will destroy the federal government's ability to unconstitutionally subsidize the Communist cities with taxes from working Americans.

The ultimate cause and beneficiary of the destruction of the United States is the Parasitic Super-Rich Ruling Class and their Communist minions in 'woke' corporations, government, and education.

Make no mistake, these people who constructed a Big Machine to suck out your life's blood are the enemy!

May God Bless You And Our Constitutional Republic.

© 2023 Andrew Wallace – All Rights Reserved

E-Mail Andrew Wallace: natlmktg@gte.net