

Establishment piranhas in a feeding frenzy over Trump

Beck, Barton and Cruz

Ever wonder what happened to Glenn Beck? Remember, he was the guy on CNN and then on Fox News who exposed so much about what Obama was x really up to. Now it seems as though he's totally lost his footing, and his friendships with David Barton and Ted Cruz are costing him his audience. Many former Beck listeners have dropped him saying he's gone off the rails, that he needs a long vacation in a padded room.

On his show, Beck proclaimed that if Donald Trump becomes president he would be a "monster much, much worse than anything that Barack Obama could have dreamt. Trump is the same narcissistic character; he is the same 'hope and change,' make America great nonsense; he is the same 'I'll run it better,'" that President Barack Obama was eight years ago," he said. [Link] Really Beck? You really believe that?

On January 23, 2016, Breitbart reported that Glenn Beck administered a mock presidential "oath of office" to Senator Ted Cruz as he endorsed him on x stage—and Cruz got the oath wrong when he took it. Beck and Barton are in Iowa campaigning for Cruz. The desperation of these people is becoming absolutely comedic. Beck even told the crowd he prefers democratic socialist, Bernie Sanders, over Trump. [Link]

My husband commented that Beck's alcoholic years must have killed off a few too many brain cells. Again, while in Waterloo, Iowa, campaigning for Cruz, Beck made a bizarre statement. 'We Are the Lifeboat of The World': Beck Pleads Cruz Rally To Accept Even 'Marxist Atheists' Because 'They Renew Us'', reported in Breitbart's latest article. Really Glenn? Then we should be extremely renewed after seven years of Obama.

According to former radio personality, Jim Sumpter, when Beck worked at  Clear Channel, he was called to Kennebunkport by George H.W. Bush, for a private meeting. One has to wonder just what Beck was told at that meeting. One also wonders if that visit contributed to Beck's hatred for Mr. Trump. Whatever the case, it truly appears that Beck has lost credibility with the majority of his audience.

Beck's show has been failing the last two years, but now the decline is worse. In a Breitbart article, "Top Glenn Beck Execs Leave to Start New Venture," it states:

Last year, (2014) Beck tried and failed to strike a deal with CNN. During that time, he attempted to moderate his image for television executives. He apologized for his inflammatory comments about Obama. As Breitbart News noted, Beck started positioning himself toward the political center, bashing Americans who were against illegal immigration during last summer's border crisis. Trying to distance himself from politics, he also proclaimed on CNN that he would rather be Walt Disney than Edward R. Murrow or Rush Limbaugh.

In my recent article, Rafael Cruz Declares Son Ted Cruz the 'Anointed' One, I discussed Rafael and Ted's Dominionist/New Apostolic Reform (NAR) convictions. Dominionist Mike Bickel, head of the NAR, and the International House of Prayer, just endorsed Ted Cruz, and Cruz announced it himself.

In another article, Ted Cruz, David Barton, and Shariah Law, I explained Mr. Barton's Dominionist/NAR beliefs and his very close friendship with Ted Cruz.

Here's where the rubber meets the road. Barton and Beck are extremely close friends, both living in Texas. Barton, of course is for Cruz, and now so is Beck. Unfortunately, Beck's attacks on Mr. Trump have just succeeded in alienating his listening audience, because he's become so vitriolic with his statements.

In fact, last week Beck went on O'Reilly's program and stated as fact that Donald Trump had voted for Obama. He had found it on some crazy website. Needless to say, this week he had to go on O'Reilly's program again and apologize. His desire to destroy Mr. Trump is eating this man alive.

Cruz, Barton, and Beck are all for a Constitutional Convention, and by now most folks understand there is a very dark purpose in wanting a Con-con. The promoters state that changing the Constitution will make politicians obey it, but in reality changing it will only succeed in destroying the freedoms granted by our founders. Instead, force them to obey what we have, or vote them out! Cruz supporter, Mark Levin wants a Con-con, and the son of his fiancé is a full time staffer for Senator Cruz.

Megyn Kelly, National Review, and Weekly Standard

The hatred for Trump continues from the G0Pe at Fox News.

Megyn Kelly's January 21st, 2016, Fox News Show featured the National Review's "Conservatives Against Trump" article. Kelly had all the political piranhas in a feeding frenzy trying to destroy Mr. Trump.

Remember that the National Review was founded by William F. Buckley, who was a member of the CFR, a CIA agent, and a member of Skull and Bones. It was Buckley and his buddy, Irving Kristol, father of Bill, who destroyed old right Constitutional Conservatism and brought in the mediocre moderates who have much the same agenda as the leftists. William F. Buckley, Pied Piper for the Establishment, by John McManus, documents everything I've stated, as well as referencing the sources. Today, Rich Lowry is the editor of National Review. He was appointed by Buckley in 1992.

The Weekly Standard is edited by founder, Bilderberger William Kristol, and sidekick, Fred Barnes. It has never been profitable, but has stayed in circulation by its benefactor, CFR member, Rupert Murdoch, owner of Fox News, and WSJ.

At the end of this article I'll list those who have signed on to National Review's, "Against Trump." Many of them are members of the secretive Council for National Policy, the right arm of the Council on Foreign Relations. The former is loaded with members who are Dominionists/Reconstructions.

Megyn Kelly first showed Sarah Palin endorsing Mr. Trump. By the way, Willie Robertson of Duck Dynasty has also endorsed Donald Trump. As well, Michelle Wiles – one of the Palmetto State's most influential conservative activists – is leaving the South Carolina leadership team of Ted Cruz and joining the  campaign of Donald Trump. [Link]

Megyn then introduced the editor of National Review, Rich Lowry, who is behind the push to destroy Donald Trump's candidacy. Lowry says that Trump doesn't understand the ideas and principles that make this country great, that true conservatives believe in limited government, the Constitution and liberty.

When I heard him say this, I thought to myself, "Excuse me Rich, but Donald Trump epitomizes exactly those principles. He is not GOP establishment like those going against him or even running against him!" Well, hate to tell you Lowry, but Trump is the King of Testosterone, and you're just another bug who hit the windshield. [Link]

Kelly then introduced three of the signers of Lowry's "Hate Trump" campaign. First was Dana Loesch, who is TV host of Glenn Beck's Blaze (no doubt there, she's for Cruz), then L. Brent Bozell III, chairman of the group, For America, and finally, Katy Pavlich who writes for Townhall.com and is a Fox News contributor.

If you missed this bit of anti-Trump drama, here it is for you to watch in full, if you can avoid destroying your television. It's obvious that Megyn Kelly hates Trump with a passion and that she's is not Fair or Balanced.

What I'd like to ask of all these people and the rest of the phony rightwing politicians...Where were you when we were fighting to keep Obama out of our White House? Had you put this much effort into keeping that Marxist Muslim away from DC, we would not be in the dire straits we're in now. Instead, these establishment rightwing neo-cons are trying to destroy the best hope we've had in 53 years of having a true conservative leader who loves America.

I'll tell you where they were! In an absolutely must read article on Conservative Tree House entitled, Reminder – Donald Trump's 2016 NRO Critics Were President Obama's 2009 Fan-Boys..., it states:

In June millions of Fox News viewers saw FOX's entire line-up of professional pundits proclaim borders shouldn't matter; border walls won't work; illegal alien amnesty was the only viable solution to decades of unenforced immigration law; and this was only in week #1 of Donald Trump's campaign.

Since June '15, on almost every issue those same pundits have now openly aligned themselves with GOPe agenda items like global trade, tax policy, big government spending, and advocacy to including advancement of Speaker Paul 'Omnibus' Ryan.

However, a sharp reader, DrudgeAddict, smartly points out these same voices were the exact group who gathered together in an exclusive meeting with President Obama in 2009 to sing his praises after the '08 election. Including :

- George Will
- Michael Barone
- David Brooks
- Charles Krauthammer
- Bill Kristol
- Lawrence Kudlow
- Rich Lowry
- Peggy Noonan

The post-meeting/dinner report in The New Yorker Magazine holds the quotes told by the glowing participants of their time with President Obama. Check it out!

And what about Hillary? Why are they attacking one of our own instead of going after the corrupt and scandalous political machinations of Hillary Clinton, from Whitewater to Benghazi, from the Clinton Foundation to Clinton emails? Where are they in destroying the socialist enemies? Instead, National Review and these establishment Republicans are trying to destroy the best hope we've had in over five decades to turn back the New World Order tide in America. It's because the reality is, they are socialists at best, and probably worse than that. Trump has thrown a wrench in the entire New World Order plans, and they hate him for it. Davos is scared to death of him, and hopes he loses. [Link]

They call Mr. Trump a narcissist, when the man in our White House today is the real narcissist. Mr. Trump is confident, something we want in a president! Marcus Tullius Cicero said, "If you have no confidence in self, you are twice defeated in the race of life. With confidence, you have won even before you have started."

- and USA Today columnist and Fox News contributor, Cal Thomas.

Note, most of the signees are contributors to National Review or Fox News.

Who is Climbing in Bed With Whom?

Brilliant researcher, writer, and expert on heretical doctrines, Sarah Leslie, tells it plainly:

It is disturbing that the Neo-Cons are getting in bed with the Charismatic Dominionists. [Link] For decades they've been in bed with the Dobson-ites of the world, funding and controlling much of the mainstream Religious Right. But this is a new development. The Neo-Cons and their cohorts don't like Trump, and are supporting Cruz. (Not to mention the endorsement for Cruz by Mike Bickle and Glenn Beck – both who support a “Seven mountain mandate” for Dominionism.)

The Neo-Cons really didn't control the Charismatic Dominionists – until now. The Neo-Cons had to make inroads into the Charismatics, some of which were impassable due to the insular nature of the elites in the New Apostolic Reformation. And part of the problem, frankly, is that the Neo-Cons are hardened rational atheist type MEN. They really didn't appeal to the touchy-feely experientialism of the Charismatics.

But the mainstreaming that we've been warning about on the Herescope blog is finally happening. The Neo Cons are a nasty group with a bad agenda, and they tend to alienate everyone by their excessive controlling agendas. They share a common mandate with Dominionists to rule the world.

Many on the Religious Right do not like the Neo-Cons – there is a long history of dislike. So Trump seems to be currently appealing to a group of people who are not beholden to the Neo-Cons, may have had no  previous experience with them, or who may be the ones who have a long history of warning about their agenda.

The fact that the Neo-Cons are now going to bed with Bickle, Beck, and Cruz is a scary development. Neither group tolerates anything but 100% compliance with their message and mandate.

Conclusion

Remember, a false friend is far more dangerous than an open enemy. This is what we have today and frankly, it gives me the willies.

Vote Trump, and pray for him and our country.
