

Exposing the Communist Insurgency

By Cliff Kincaid

The communist insurgents in Minneapolis were hoping to burn down the city again. The difference this time is that their “hero” was well-armed and resisted arrest but was outnumbered and disarmed, with the confrontation resulting in his death. It is hard to celebrate this provocateur. The truth is coming out. There are photos of his gun and magazine.

Another factor: it’s too cold and there’s too much ice and snow on the ground and too many ICE agents for them to succeed, unless and until the Republicans and their milquetoast mouthpieces, like the New York Post, tuck tail and run.

The pathetic “conservatives” at the New York Post, who failed to stop Zohran Mamdani’s ascension to power, now want ICE to stand down in Minneapolis. They are waving the white flag of surrender. Similar voices can be heard on Fox News, even Maria Bartiromo is sounding hysterical about ICE operations.

Minneapolis is a city, one of many, under foreign occupation, and it must be liberated.

So far, despite weak comments from the likes of Rep. James Comer, President Trump is standing firm.

Whatever you may think of this or that Trump policy, he must be supported.

At this point of time, we need another Lincoln, and Trump is that man.

Under Trump 45, as now, Communists openly organize the rebellion, in open violation of the Communist Control Act, a law still on the books but not enforced. Decades ago Congress abolished internal security panels while Big Tech platforms like YouTube terminated my account and our 500 anti-communist videos. This occurred under Biden.

Under Trump 47, however, our videos were restored. He has the power.

Back then, as Trump's first presidency was hanging in the balance. Trump avoided being another Lincoln, leaving the door open for Joe Biden and his Obama-era personnel to take control of the White House. Biden, under the control of people Trump labels as Marxists, became the anti-Lincoln, using extraordinary measures to destroy the Union and exacerbate a civil war.

This time, Obama is back, urging more protests, death and destruction.

President Lincoln used executive actions to save the Union during the Civil War, such as suspension of the right of Habeas Corpus. Trump does not need to go that far – at least not yet.

But there should be no doubt: the current threat to our United States by the international and domestic socialist/communist left is much more serious than anything Lincoln or our nation ever faced in its history. It must be defeated in Minneapolis.

On the international front, Trump has outflanked our enemies and he must do so domestically. But his people must realize that is a connection between the two fronts. Chinese Communists, radical Islamists, and their American comrades are on the front lines of Minneapolis.

Trump must act, not only for the sake of the nation, but his own presidency.

Consider what happened to Republican President Nixon.

Victor Lasky's book, It Didn't Start With Watergate, proved that Democrats were as corrupt, even more so, than Republicans.

As we look deeper, we discover that Nixon was singled out for destruction because of his role in helping to expose Soviet spy Alger Hiss in the State Department, and a communist network inside the U.S. government.

Trump is the enemy for many of the same reasons.

President Trump has ended several foreign wars, but the assassination of Charlie Kirk demonstrates that the war has come home and is being waged on the American people.

We see it all around us: mysterious attacks on power substations, lasers directed at aircraft, the firebombing of pro-life pregnancy centers, arson attacks on Catholic churches, communist-inspired Antifa attacks on police, transgender killers attacking Christian schools, and now a coordinated attack on ICE in Minneapolis.

As I said in a previous column, some of the above might be accidents or the work of deranged individuals. But you would have to be naïve to rule out the involvement of subversives determined to undermine public safety and security.

You do not have to be a "conspiracy theorist" to consider that there might be something sinister happening behind the scenes in our country. The evidence is overwhelming. All you have to do is survey what the communists are doing on the streets of America. Most of it is out in the open.

We are seeing it all come together in Minneapolis, where the professional communist agitators are sacrificing their own people in a desperate attempt to create martyrs.

But Alex Paretti is not George Floyd. He got caught by the feds with a concealed weapon and they took pictures of it.

The conclusion is inescapable: America is under attack by foreign ideologies as well as anti-American cultural tendencies encouraged by the national Democratic Party.

But don't depend on the New York Post or prominent Republicans to back our president under siege.

What we desperately need by Congress is not a weak spine but an update to the 1968 congressional report "Guerrilla Warfare Advocates in the United States," which documented foreign connections through various communist groups.

That report, "Guerrilla Warfare Advocates in the United States," helps us understand what the communists have in store for America. They have been working at internal subversion for decades. Unfortunately, after the report was published by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, the panel was terminated by congressional liberals, on the grounds that anti-communism constituted "red-baiting."

The reds aren't hiding under the beds this time. They're in the streets.
