

Extreme Danger: These Illegal Aliens Must Be Quarantined

The massive invasion at our Southern border continues while Democrats whine and pee all over themselves using the worn out “for the children” and racism to support the hordes coming across the border. Coming for your job and wallet.

Right along with massive amounts of drugs and terrorists who hide among the herds.

Feds Seize \$4M in Meth, Fentanyl at Arizona and California Border Stops

We know our Border Patrol is being forced to act as baby-sitters overwhelmed by the sheer numbers of minors smuggled into OUR country. Taxi drivers taking these freeloaders to doctor appointments and other errands.

We know illegals have been bringing more and more diseases with them. You and I are raped to pay for their medical treatment with BORROWED money because the people's purse, the U.S. Treasury, is bankrupt and in debt $22 TRILLION dollars.

Well, the danger has now been upped in a big way:

350 Congolese Migrants Arrive in San Antonio, June 8, 2019

"South and central African migrants began illegally crossing the South Texas border on May 30 when 117 migrants from the Republic of the Congo, the Democratic Republic of the Congo, and Angola crossed in the Del Rio Sector. By June 5, more than 500 African migrants had crossed illegally in this single Border Patrol sector, Breitbart News reported.

"In a press call on Wednesday afternoon, Brian Hastings, U.S. Border Patrol Chief of Law Enforcement Operations, told reporters this was the first large group "ever recorded in Border Patrol history solely from Central and South Africa. We've never seen that demographic in a large group of that size before."

"Two weeks before the illegal crossings began in the Del Rio Sector, hundreds of African migrants gathered near an international bridge in Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas, to protest not being allowed entry into the U.S. through a legal port of entry, Breitbart News reported."

They are not migrants, they are illegal aliens, period. They have no right to be on U.S. soil and they sure as hell should not be shipped anywhere but back across the border and let Mexico deal with them. They should all have been quarantined and then shipped right back across the border.

This is germane so please be patient. Let me remind Americans that HIV/AIDS has a long history going back to the 1920s. Found in the Congo and later cases around the world. By 1981, sexual deviants were spreading it from having sex with God knows how many "partners". Male prostitutes. Bath houses being big at that time and before long we had a full-blown epidemic that has sadly killed tens of thousands of homosexuals in this country alone.

All preventable but sexual deviants choose not to stop having sex in each other's sh*t as they pass it around to multiple sex partners. Every year the Hollywood crowd puts on a fund raiser to raise money to find a cure for AIDS while the very people they claim to want to help choose to continue playing Russian Roulette.

Wikileaks does have a comprehensive timeline for HIV/AIDS and how it spread in this country. The CDC also has one here. Sexual deviants should NEVER have been allowed to service in our military.

I bring this up because if you look at the host country for the early AIDS victims there is a common thread: the Congo and all over W. Africa. Wiki:

1966

- Genetic studies of the virus indicate that, in or about 1966, HIV first arrived in the Americas, infecting one person in Haiti. At this time, many Haitians were working in Congo, providing the opportunity for infection. [10] [Medical citation Needed]

1980

- April 24, San Francisco resident Ken Horne is reported to the Center for Disease Control with Kaposi's sarcoma (KS). Later in 1981, the CDC would retroactively identify him as the first patient of the AIDS epidemic in the US. He was also suffering from Cryptococcus.[[]

1981

Kaposi's sarcoma on the skin of an AIDS patient

- May 18, Lawrence Mass becomes the first journalist in the world to write about the epidemic, in the New York Native, a gay newspaper. A gay tipster overheard his physician mention that some gay men were being treated in intensive-care units in New York City for a strange pneumonia. "Disease Rumors Largely Unfounded" was the headline of Mass's article.^[20] Mass repeated a New York City public-health official's claims that there was no wave of disease sweeping through the gay community. At this point, however, the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) had been gathering information for about a month on the outbreak that Mass's source dismissed. [Citation Needed]
- June 5, The CDC reports a cluster of Pneumocystis pneumonia in five gay men in Los Angeles.^[21]
- July 3, An article in The New York Times carries the headline: "Rare Cancer Seen in 41 Homosexuals". The article describes cases of Kaposi's sarcoma found in forty-one gay men in New York City and San Francisco.^[22]
- July 4, The CDC reports clusters of Kaposi's sarcoma and Pneumocystis pneumonia among gay men in California and New York City.

Kaposi's sarcoma "became more widely known as one of the AIDS- defining illnesses in the 1980s”.

Instead of being quarantined, those poor souls who all died were “treated” at hospitals and sent on their way. The disease then became an inferno.

What Americans might not be aware of is this very real threat what would make the AIDS/HIV epidemic look like an outbreak of the measles.

The world’s second-biggest Ebola outbreak is still raging, May 24, 2019

“An Ebola epidemic thundering through heavily populated provinces in the northeastern Democratic Republic of the Congo has sickened 1,877 people and killed 1,248 as of May 22, according to the World Health Organization—despite the efforts of specialist medical teams, an effective vaccine, and new treatments that are being tested in the region.

“The outbreak already is the second-largest on record, behind the epidemic that burned through West Africa from 2014 to 2016, killing more than 11,300 people. In its most extreme form, the viral hemorrhagic fever leads to uncontrollable bleeding and death.”

Ebola can and does spread like a raging wildfire. It’s a horrible, horrible way to die. More from the article above:

“But transmitting Ebola is not exactly simple: The virus travels between humans through infected bodily fluids and tissues, but infiltrating a second host requires going in through broken skin or a mucous membrane, such as the eyes or nose.”

While there is a large number of articles which all claim Ebola is not airborne, I wouldn’t bet my money on it:

Ebola Virus Could Mutate And Become Airborne: Danger For Cross Species Transmission

“New research out of Canada has found a scary possibility: Ebola could become airborne. The testing was done by The Public Health Agency of Canada, together with the Canadian Food Inspection Agency, and led by Dr. Gary Kobinger.

“The researchers used an experiment with pigs and monkeys. The pigs carried the virus and were placed in a room with wire mesh separating them from the monkeys. The animals were not able to touch each other. After eight days, a selection of the monkeys showed signs of Ebola infection.

“This result shows that the Ebola virus was able to be passed through the air and that it was capable of cross species transmission. The Ebola virus was passed from the pigs via liquid particles through the air. The virus would not be able to through the air in long distances.”

Instead of dumping these illegal aliens into cities they should all be quarantined. Oh, no. Let's dump them out into the general population. Thankfully schools are out for summer so illegal minors with snotty noses don't have contact with any other students and faculty.

Ebola Incubation Period

“The Ebola incubation period is the period between infection with the virus and the appearance of symptoms associated with the disease. The incubation period can be as short as 2 days or as long as 21 days. A person is still contagious during this time.

“What Is the Incubation Period for Ebola? When a person becomes infected with the Ebola virus, it enters the body and begins to multiply.

“Is a Person Contagious During the Ebola Incubation Period?

“Even if a person exhibits no signs or symptoms of Ebola, he or she can still spread the virus during the incubation period. Once symptoms begin, the person can remain contagious for about three more weeks.”

Those illegals from the Congo can have a lot of contact with a lot of people from the time they get on a plane, the grocery store, welfare office – you name it. While they exhibit no signs of Ebola. Think they’re going to tell the truth about how they got from the Congo to the U.S. border or how long they’ve been on the road? Fat chance. They’re taught to lie to get on U.S. soil.

Who knows who they really are, where they have lived – anywhere close to the current epidemic of Ebola. Why in Hell are we allowing illegals to stay in this country – shipping them around cities – who have come from Ebola ravaged areas like the Congo and even Angola and Camaroon?

Many might remember the flick, Outbreak starring Dustin Hoffman about an outbreak of a deadly virus similar to Ebola over in Africa. How they talked about things like containment centers? Remember back in 2014 we had a couple of Ebola scares that was thankfully contained?

Ebola-Infected Nurse in Fair But Stable Condition: “The first Dallas nurse diagnosed with Ebola is in fair but stable condition after being flown to Maryland for treatment at the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, her doctors said Friday.”

Health officials said no one should panic. One patient. I agree. How about 10 then 20, then 100, then 1,000 in a week? Can’t happen? Only a fool thinks that. Ms. Pham was very lucky she contracted Ebola here in the U.S. and not the Congo.

Texas nurse who contracted Ebola settles hospital lawsuit, Oct.24, 2016

“A Texas nurse who contracted Ebola while treating a patient has settled a lawsuit against the hospital where she became infected. The diagnosis of Nina Pham was the first known transmission of the disease in the United States...

“Pham and another nurse contracted Ebola in October 2014 after treating Thomas Eric Duncan, who started showing symptoms after arriving in Dallas from Liberia.

“Pham wore a mask, gown, shield and gloves, but it wasn’t enough. Two days after Duncan died, Pham was diagnosed, despite assurances from her employer that she was at no risk for Ebola and could “freely” see friends and family, the lawsuit contends.”

Liberia located on the West African coast a good distance from Cameroon and Angola. Duncan got off a plane in Dallas carrying a deadly, highly contagious almost always fatal disease. “Duncan contracted the disease in his home country of Liberia after neighbors said he helped take a woman dying of Ebola to the hospital. Officials have said Duncan did not disclose having contact with an Ebola patient before he flew to Dallas to visit family members.”

500 illegals from the Congo just got dumped into San Antonio. San Antonio’s population is 1,511,946. Is your city next? It will only take one good outbreak for this to spread like wildfire. Trump could stop it with an Executive Order. Before the ink is dry some pro-illegals group and the ACLU will file a lawsuit and an Obama appointed judge will try to block Trump. Trump should tell the judge to go to Hell. This IS a national emergency and he does have the power.

After the incidents in 2014, hospitals across the country updated protocols but that’s not enough. Those 500 illegals from the Congo can spread it to who knows how many. Here’s something I didn’t know until researching this column:

Woman spread Ebola virus one year after infection, doctors say, July 4, 2018

LONDON (AP) —" A Liberian woman who probably caught Ebola in 2014 may have infected three relatives a year after she first fell sick, doctors reported in a study published Monday.

"There have been previous instances of men spreading Ebola to women via sexual transmission – the virus can survive in semen for more than a year – but the new case is the first time scientists have suggested that Ebola was spread from a woman after such a prolonged period."

Back in 2014 there were only a few Level-4 Biocontainment units in the U.S.:

There are only 19 level 4 bio-containment beds in the whole of the United States...and four in the UK

"I think we just found out why the government(s) are underplaying the situation. They simply do not have the facilities to cope with even a small outbreak. They are, in fact in exactly the same position as the dirt-poor hospitals in West Africa...there are not enough facilities to stop the spread of the disease if it gets out. The quality of care is better, but the availability of containment most likely isn't."

In 2014 as a result of that scare:

New Ebola Containment Facility Comes to North Texas

"Texas is creating two new biocontainment facilities for treating possible future Ebola patients, one in Richardson and the other in Galveston, Gov. Rick Perry announced Tuesday, as two Dallas nurses remain hospitalized out of state with the potentially deadly virus."

I found the Galveston facility has a whopping six beds. I could not find a number for the one in Richardson which is a small town of about 106,000.

Let's speculate for a moment that 50 of the 500 illegals from the Congo are single men who have sex with some woman, maybe a bar pick-up. Ebola can be in the sperm for close to a year. That woman and any woman he has sex with is then likely infected.

Wear a condom? Sadly, in far too many places in Africa it isn't considered 'manly' to wear one which has accounted for the mass spread of AIDS over there. Males simply won't use one. Besides, condoms don't guarantee protection from viruses or STDs. So, we have fifty illegal males having unprotected sex who are potentially infecting how many females?

One or more is a single mother with a school age child, teen or multiple children. "Now that the Ebola virus has reached America, officials are reminding residents that the disease is spread by "direct contact with the blood or bodily fluids" of a person "who is sick with Ebola." Bodily fluids include, but aren't limited to, feces, saliva, urine, vomit and semen."

Single mother is now infected and she will likely infect her second grader. That child shows no symptoms for up to 21 days. Goes to school. Wipes a runny nose and then holds hands with another student. No? Well, let me tell you as a part-time substitute teacher the last three years that is EXACTLY what goes on kindergarten through third grade; I don't do Intermediate grades but I do junior and senior high.

Those adorable – and they are – little people do get sick; their parents send them to school sick because they have to work putting all the other students and faculty at risk. We do all we can in classrooms to keep colds and flu from spreading. Make students use hand disinfectant all the time, make sure they wash up at potty time, snack time. But you can't watch each one every nano second.

Now we have a disaster and YOUR member of Congress are responsible for this as well as Department of Homeland Security in not cracking down and forcing the issue AT the border. Trump should have long ago put the U.S. military on the border and I don't give a damn if it's 10,000 troops. Put them on that border and do not allow illegals to step foot on U.S. soil. Period.

Well, the serpent is now out there so what do we do?

One, you call your governor, state rep and senator to tell the U.S. government we will NOT allow any illegals from Africa into our state. Most of them speak no English. You want to buck heads on this? Fine. Let's see who flinches. I want you to remind them next year is an election year and the cry across this country is VOTE THEM OUT.

Second, you call the U.S. House and Senators who sit on these committees and give them an earful:

Homeland Security

Border Security, Facilitation, and Operations

Senate: Homeland Security

I doubt you can get through to Trump as the comment line is always busy but you can flood the White House with calls:

Comments: 202-456-1111

Switchboard: 202-456-1414

Call talk radio and get this out there. Silence is not an option. He who shouts the loudest gets heard.

The rank stupidity of this government and those who work to facilitate getting these disease-ridden freeloaders into our country is beyond words.
