

Follow the Yellow Brick Road

America is under judgement. There is no other way to explain what is going on.

Billions of dollars have been spent on “education” over the last fifty years and the result is a populace that has lost the ability to apply reason to what they see going on around them.

The dictionary calls that a delusion...a misleading of the mind. The number of things that people believe without questioning is mind boggling. Failure to follow the company line, or more broadly the opinion of “experts,” will cause a person to be the target of ridicule and derision.

That is where the term “conspiracy theory” originated. A conspiracy theory today is anything that challenges the established narrative, especially one that is promoted by the “establishment” experts.

Why is it no one ever calls evolution a conspiracy theory? Why is it perfectly acceptable to question the existent of God or poo poo the Biblical explanation of the origin of man? Why is it that the atheistic scientists are permitted to teach an unproven theory of the “evolution of man” when there are more holes in that theory than there are in the Covid 19 science?

The “scholars” love to bark about our need to “follow the science” when following that advice usually leads to a pile of money. Today, Science is sold to the highest bidder. Politicians and scientists are two of the most bought-off professions in the entire universe. The true "Science deniers" are not the ones that are asking the questions but the ones who are getting their pockets lined by the advancement of political agendas. Usually those who "fund research" are looking for a desired conclusion.

Do you really think pharma companies are looking for reason why the experimental drug is not effective? Why else would pharma companies require immunity from harmful effects?

"Peer reviewed" has become a meaningless term...much like the idea of a jury of one's peers. Not every American is a peer to his fellow American. A true peer tends to be those who share the same beliefs. Can an atheist pass a "fair" judgment against a true believer in God? Have you watched how the anti-vax scientists have been ridiculed by the "company-store" pharma cheerleaders...er physicians?

Have you noticed how unsettled "settled" science is? Settled by whom?

Is macro-evolution "settled science?" If so, why is it still considered a theory? So much of what they feed us is biased. The modern-day book-burners are those hard at work on censoring opposing views on social media sites? Are the fact-checkers biased? Can you say Twitter?

Oh, I get it...the THEORY of evolution is science but the theory of Biblical creation is RELIGION. Evolution is fact because all the religious evolutionist say it is. They have a monopoly on what is taught. Follow the Science...right? I say follow the Truth. Why are they so afraid of Truth?

Did the masks work? Are the vaxes safe? Were "horse paste" and hydroxychloroquine fake treatments or did they help people recover? Why are we starting to discover that many hospitals killed people? Why did sooo many "experts" get the science wrong?

Who are the real conspiracy theorists?

Permit me to veer back to my original thesis. America is under judgment.

A quick reading of 2 Thessalonians 2 will provide the background for explaining the “fake Truth” that is bombarding us every day. It is pure and simple the judgment of God. Consider especially this verse:

And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie. That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

Delusion is a form of judgement...the consequences of rejecting the Truth. It is God's way of giving sinful men exactly what they want. Common sense is no longer common.

The experts tell us vaccines will stop the virus, remdesivir is safe, unborn babies are not alive, my body my choice, separation between church and state, fossil fuels are killing us, government rules over churches, God bows to government, the election was honest, Bud light drinkers are homophobes, whitey caused all the world's problems, we are not to judge, sex is love and love is sex, Muslims did 911, J6 was an ARMED insurrection...need I go on?

A man cannot be woman and a women cannot be a man. That is simple science. Yet we find “scientists” telling us that they can. Feminism now is anti-traditional women. Scientists killed feminism.

The judgement of God has brought us to the point where “educated” Americans have rejected the Truth. The danger is that we have created a people who will not only believe something...but will believe ANYTHING.

The most criticized people in America today are those who question the status quo. I cannot remember where I heard the phrase but I want to use it here today. I am not a conspiracy THEORIST; I am a conspiracy ANALYST. My Dad taught me as a young man to not believe everything I hear and only half of what I see.

Proverbs 18:13 warns us "He that answereth a matter before he heareth it, it is folly and shame unto him."

What happened to "trust but verify" and "question authority"?

There would be a lot more people alive today if they had not blindly followed the advice of the medical experts. Follow the science really means follow the money. The love of money is the root of all evil.

Follow the yellow brick road...that is where you will find the science.
