

Free and Fair Elections are Everything

Kat Stansell

January 17, 2026

The Maelstrom Of Recent Events CANNOT Be Allowed To Distract and Destroy

The 2026 Midterm Election is less than 9 months away. We are being distracted by a the blatant malfeasance of the Communists in MN, OR NY and the like. We CANNOT allow this to happen.

The “prize” on which we must keep our eyes is the Midterm elections of 2026!

After the Somali fraud was laid bare, in MN and now in other states as well, the Lemmings of the Left have been brought out in force. They are screaming about what our government has done to THEM, because they cannot hide what they have done to each one of us. Distract and destroy.

The average American taxpayer has been robbed by the Somali fraud, of over $20,000 per year, figuring income and payroll taxes and a 5-10% state and local tax average, depending on state of residence.

Then, there are other “attention-grabbers” with which the American public must deal:

Maduro has been captured, and the howling from the Left is about the the treatment of that poor murderous dictator who has been responsible for the deaths of millions.

Iran's supreme leader has fled to Russia. Ominous.

Israel is asking that we help to secure their borders against Syria, disarm Hamas and help to limit the military capacity of the middle east in addition to humanitarian projects. Like we have nothing else to do at the moment.

Russia is currently rejecting Ukraine's peace proposals and condemning the involvement of Western troops in any future peacekeeping efforts, labeling them as legitimate military targets. Trump is not happy with this. What is going to happen next in this Deep-State-created war? the Globalists MUST stop blowing in Z's ear!

All of this is more than enough to distract us from the upcoming elections. Should be allow this, and take our eye off the REAL PRIZE of FREEDOM, our Republic is lost.

On March 6, 2025, President Trump wrote an executive order asking that the states agree to basic Constitutional principles of voting. Its status in the states is being shadowed by the national and international howls of other events. Here's a quick rundown.

Key provisions of The President's election process order are: Proof of voter's citizenship verified by federal authorities; Mail-In ballots must be received by election day to be counted; cessation of federal funding for elections if the above two categories are not met; Review of state voter registration lists and coordination with federal immigration databases; use of paper ballots and public counting thereof; rights of federal agencies like DHS and DOJ to enhance efforts to prevent foreign interference or influence with these integrity measures.

As of this writing, not one of the 50 states has agreed to the President's election mandates – which are completely within our Constitution and laws.

Even among those “good red states”, not one has signed on.

Florida is busy writing legislation that does not do what the executive order asks, and has seemingly sidelined legitimate and carefully crafted proposals from citizens. More on this in a few days. Tallahassee is also talking about another redistricting the state before 2026 Midterms. Redistricting involves sending out new voter registrations with the correct new district noted.

The last time this was done, was prior to the 2022 midterms, when DeSantis and Florida were the only ones to experience that “big red wave” so anticipated in all red states during the O’Biden Coup. It was subsequently discovered that those registrations which were sent to invalid or “bad” address were returned by the post office to the county Supervisors of Elections offices (yellow return labels attached); then saved and voted with an impossible 100% signature match. Think printers.

Tennessee legislatures talked a bit about voting last session. Voter rights can now be petitioned to be restored before a person’s gun rights are. (I know, “only in TN”.) The rest as far as I could tell is basically what was on the books prior to Trump’s executive order. Voters must provide one form of id; even those drivers; licenses issued to illegals?? Absentee ballots can be freely obtained; too freely, in my estimate.

TN is proud of the fact that they say that citizenship is required to vote in the state, but they have fouled this up enough that it really cannot be leaned on. I’ve seen them try to arrest an elderly resident of TN who had lived and voted there for decades. Most of this last session’s voting-related considerations do not address the issues in the President’s order.

Texas’s Supreme Court approved of their redistricting plan which adds five Republican-leaning congressional districts for 2026. I do know that the TX SOS, did a Texas two-step when asked to provide voter roll discs for review, so TX is not nearly as “safely red” as some still would like to believe.

Missouri, Iowa and Utah have engaged in some semblance of redistricting. Missouri drew a new map which helps Republican votes. Iowa and Utah have been ‘involved in discussions” about redistricting but have met legal resistance from the Blues.

IN tried to draw new maps, but failed.

ALL of these, however, are talk of redistricting, NOT following the Presidential executive order.

At last count 19 states have filed suit against the President for daring to enforce our laws. You know who they are, but, as of 4/2025, the list included Arizona, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Hawaii, Illinois, Maine, Massachusetts, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Rhode Island, Vermont, and Wisconsin. The usual suspects.

TOGETHER THESE STATES CONTROL 186 ELECTORAL VOTES. Repeat:

TOGETHER THESE STATES CONTROL 186 ELECTORAL VOTES.

Let that really sink in. We are a hair’s breadth from losing Congress AND our President, who would be impeached and jailed before his term is out should Congress turn blue. From then on, the fraud would be institutionalized, and our Republic, circling the drain.

You MUST get active in your state to demand that your elected officials follow the Constitution of the US and the Trump EO. Drown them with letters and calls, even visits! It’s now or never.

It is not R vs. D, it is freedom vs tyranny. And, you can smell that tyranny in the air when you look at the upheaval in the Blue states as the day approaches. Your neighborhood could soon resemble those.

I have to repeat: We cannot be distracted by all the rest of the world spinning around in our heads! Our freedom is on the line.

Off the couch and out the door!! Soon you may not be allowed a couch...

© 2026 Kat Stansell – All Rights Reserved

E-Mail Kat Stansell: katvanatt@protonmail.com