

GOP leaders may wreck party with Trump hate fest, says top lobbyist

Earlier this week, the NewsWithViews.com published a story regarding the lengths to which the RINOs (Republicans in Name Only) – a/k/a the GOP establishment – will go to thwart the Donald Trump presidential juggernaut. GOP political strategist and author Roger Stone had reported that participants at a meeting held by the Democrats' favorite bogeymen, the uber-wealthy Koch Brothers, and presidential hopeful, Sen. Marco Rubio, R-Florida, somehow leaked their plans to sabotage the nomination of Donald Trump at the Republican National Convention later this year, according to the NewsWithViews.com story.[Link]

The two brothers, Charles G. and David H. Koch, met with other Republican millionaires and billionaires had allocated an immense $75 million figure to be spent targeting and terminating Trump's successful political race. According to Stone, they also discussed how they would use the already-defeated 2012 President Barack Obama opponent, Mitt Romney, as their 'Plan B' if Rubio's also ends up a loser on Super Tuesday.

However the plotters later came to the decision to drop "Plan B" and any other anti-Trump activity by the billionaire industrialists.

"Members of the so-called Republican establishment could destroy the GOP because of their selfish hatred of GOP rank and file favorite Donald J. Trump," John M. Snyder, a police organization adviser – who was recently designated a power broker by The Trace – said on Wednesday.

"They really are a pretty disgusting bunch," Snyder added.

Snyder, an advisory board member of the National Association of Chiefs of Police, said, "It seems they would rather lose this year's presidential election than let Trump, the popular choice, receive the GOP presidential nomination. Public rallies, primaries and polls show Trump as the clear favorite, but establishmentarians reportedly are trying to devise all kinds of electoral and political schemes to thwart the will of Republican voters."

Snyder continued: "These characters do not have the good of the country at heart. It appears from various television and Internet reports they would rather have the wretched Democrats continue to undermine the United States than truly work to make America great again."

Snyder's remarks followed reports that certain GOP leaders met last weekend with CEOs from certain companies to – just as did the Koch brothers at their meeting – figure out how to stop a Trump nomination dead in its tracks. According to Vanity Fair magazine, the meeting was held at the Sea Island Resort as part of the American Enterprise Institute's annual World Forum.

Among those present, according to Vanity Fair, were "Apple CEO Tim Cook, Tesla Motors and Space X CEO Elon Musk, Napster CEO Sean Parker, and Google co-founder Larry Page. Top Republicans, including Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell, House Speaker Paul Ryan, Senator Tom Cotton, and Karl Rove also attended the forum, as did billionaire GOP donor Philip Anschutz and New York Times publisher Arthur Sulzberger."

"This was a gathering of crony capitalists, business leaders who straddle the fence between the Democratic and Republican Parties, RINO lawmakers and the publisher of the leftist New York Times with one goal. Stop Donald Trump. And stop him by any means necessary."

According to GOPUSA.com, "The Huffington Post [also reported] that the main focus of the meeting was 'how to stop Republican front-runner Donald Trump.'

"Hopefully," said John Snyder, "this cabal will not succeed. Middle America wants change. It's obvious. It wants Trump. GOP elitists, get over it. Conservative cry babies, grow up. Cease intramural conflict. Unite now. Fight the real political enemy, the Democrats. With the Lord's help, we can crush the malignant entity." Besides his work for police organizations, Snyder is a top gun policy maven and former NRA publications editor.

"Snyder is absolutely correct. How in God's name can these Republicans operate in such a way as to help the Democratic Party's and the news media's heir apparent to the presidency – Hillary Clinton? They are so outraged by Trump that by their actions they will help a proven liar, incompetent sociopath become President of the United States? It's madness, it's what it is – madness!" exclaimed an angry former police commander, Paul T. McDermott.
