

Harris – Trump 2024, The Professor vs. the Prophet; Lichtman's Prediction & Clement's Prophecy

By George Lujack

November 15, 2024

This article will examine the 2024 presidential election predictions of American History Professor and author Allan Lichtman and the prophecies of author, musician, pastor, and prophet Kim Clement.

ALLAN LICHTMAN'S 2024 PRESIDENTIAL ANALYSIS AND PREDICTION

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

See that guy in the red shirt? That's Allan Lichtman, 77-year-old Allan Lichtman, and he's racing in the qualifiers for the Senior Olympics. But there's another kind of race Allan's just as qualified for. Allan Lichtman..., Allan Lichtman..., Professor

He has

And
today,
Allan

Lichtman is ready to tell us who is going to win in 2024. To make his presidential predictions, Allan's model ignores the polls and the pundits.

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

It hinges on 13 keys that I developed in 1981 with my geophysicist friend Vladimir Keilis-Borok. It is based on 120 years of presidential election outcomes before then.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

So, let's get to how these keys actually work.

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

They are 13 big-picture, true/false questions that tap into the strength and performance of the White House party. And only two keys have anything to do with the candidates.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

But Allan, 2024 is an unprecedented election year! Can your thirteen keys really call it right?

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

The keys absolutely will work. They are the constant Northern Star of political prediction.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

Alright, time to run these keys and find out who will be the next President of the United States, according to Allan. Number one: The White House party gained House seats between Midterm Elections.

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

The Democrats did better than expected in 2022, but they still lost House seats. The key is false.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

Remember, a false key is good for Trump. Number two: The incumbency key. The sitting president is running for reelection.

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

Biden withdrew from the race, costing the Democrats this key. It is false.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

Wait, you're saying it would have helped the Democrats if Biden stayed in?

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

If Biden stayed in they would have salvaged this one key, that's all.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

Hmm, OK, moving on for now. Number three: The White House party avoided a primary contest.

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

The Democrats finally got smart and united overwhelmingly behind Vice President Harris, so the key is true.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

A true key. that moves Harris off the starting block. Number four: There's no third-party challenger.

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

RFK Jr. has dropped out of the race, and no other third-party candidate is anywhere close to the ten percent polling threshold needed to turn this key. It's true.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

Four keys in, and it's neck and neck. Let's keep going. Number five: The short-term economy is strong.

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

Look, despite all the loose talk about a so-called vibe session, the economy is not in recession, so this key is true.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

Number six: Long-term economic growth during this presidential term has been at least as good as the last two terms.

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

Growth during the Biden term is far ahead of growth during the previous two terms, so this key is clearly true.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

Number seven: The White House has made major changes to national policy.

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

Rejoining the Paris Accords on climate change, the CHIPS Bill, the Infrastructure Bill, the Inflation Reduction and Climate Change Bill. Clearly, the key is true.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

Number eight: There is no sustained social unrest during the term.

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

There have been sporadic protests, but nothing approaching the massive, sustained social unrest needed to turn this key. So, it's true.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

But schools are just going back to session. With new protests, couldn't this key flip?

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

Yes, there are a lot of protesters upset with Biden's policies in the Middle East, but now, with Harris, not Biden front and center, that has dampened social unrest.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

Number nine: The White House is untainted by scandal.

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

Oh, my favorite key, the scandal key, and Republicans have been trying for years to pin a scandal on President Biden and come up empty. So, the key is true.

But come on Allan. Biden's horrific debate performance, questions about his age, Hunter Biden, doesn't any of that count?

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

No. There has to be at least some bipartisan recognition of actual corruption that implicates the president himself and not a family member, so the key remains true.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

So, two false and seven true so far. Looking pretty good for the Democrats. We have four keys left, all of which would have to be false for Trump to have a path. Number ten. The incumbent party candidate is charismatic.

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

This is a very high threshold key. You have to be once in a generational, broadly inspirational candidate. Harris has not met that standard, so this key is false.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

Number eleven: The challenger is uncharismatic.

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

Some people think Donald Trump is a god, but he only appeals to a narrow base, so that key is true.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

But wait, that means...

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

The Democrats will hold onto the White House and Kamala Harris will be the next President of the United States.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

But wait a second Allen, we still have two keys left: the foreign policy keys.

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

You're right. Foreign policy is tricky and these keys could flip. The Biden administration is deeply invested in the war in Gaza, which is a humanitarian disaster with no end in sight. But, even if both foreign policy keys flipped false, that would mean that there were only five negative keys, which would not be enough for Donald Trump to regain the White House.

NY TIMES NARRATOR:

So, I guess that means you're standing by your prediction?

ALLAN LICHTMAN:

Kamala Harris will be the next President of the United States. At least, that's my prediction for this race. [\[i\]](#)

SCRIPTURE TRUTH MINISTRY'S COMMENTARY

1 CORINTHIANS 1:27 (NKJV – CONDENSED):

God has chosen the foolish things of the world to put to shame the wise, and God has chosen the weak things of the world to put to shame the things which are mighty.

American history professor Allan Lichtman is a biased leftist liberal who did not accurately answer his own 13 key system with honest responses while simultaneously overlooking many other X-factors when analyzing the 2024 U.S. Presidential election.

KEY NUMBER 3: The White House party avoided a primary contest. "The Democrats finally got smart and united overwhelmingly behind Vice President Harris, so the key is true."

When Kamala Harris ran for president in 2020, she garnered just 2 percent of the Democrat Party vote in the Democrat primaries. This indicates that even Democrat voters did not like her and were not inspired to vote for her. Thus, Democrat voters were primarily voting against Donald Trump and not so much for Kamala Harris.

KEY NUMBER 5: The short-term economy is strong.

"Look, despite all the loose talk about a so-called vibe session, the economy is not in recession, so this key is true."

Despite employment, the short-term economy has experienced stifling inflation under the Biden administration. Ongoing inflation was not likely to be curtailed anytime soon under a Harris presidency.

KEY NUMBER 6: Long-term economic growth.

"Growth during the Biden term is far ahead of growth during the previous two terms, so this key is clearly true."

The Democrats unified to crash the economy using hyped-up fears over COVID-19 in 2020. Many small businesses were forced to close and many jobs were lost. Claiming that Biden saw great economic growth under his administration ignores the fact that these were primarily businesses reopening and people going back to work after the COVID-19 mandate madness that crippled the economy had passed. Thus, this was not true economic growth, but rather a planned crash-and-burn crippling of the economy followed by a "build back better" economic recovery scheme.

KEY NUMBER 11: The challenger is uncharismatic.

"Some people think Donald Trump is a god, but he only appeals to a narrow base, so that key is true."

This nutty professor vastly underestimates Donald Trump's mass appeal to Americans. Donald Trump is very charismatic and appeals to a broad base, not a narrow one. No one thinks that Donald Trump is a god, but many believe Trump is God's anointed American president (Deuteronomy 1:13).

Who is Donald J. Trump? Donald Trump is a righteous scoundrel. A scoundrel is a person who is mean or unprincipled, someone who behaves badly toward others, especially by cheating or deceiving them. Trump is a reformed man who has done his fair share of unscrupulous deeds, but cares about his fellow Americans, knows how to handle other scoundrels, knows how to get things done, and knows how to govern the country wisely. Other examples of righteous scoundrels include Oskar Schindler, Ebenezer Scrooge, Han Solo, and even the Apostle Paul.

KIM CLEMENT'S TRUMP PROPHECIES 2007-2014

KIM CLEMENT FEB. 10, 2007 – Scottsdale, AZ:

"There will be a praying president, not a religious one. For I will fool the people," says the Lord.

"I will fool the people, yes, I will." God says, "The one that is chosen shall go in and they shall say, 'He has hot blood.'" For the Spirit of God says, "Yes, he may have hot blood, but he will bring the walls of protection on this country on this country in a greater way, and the economy of this country shall change rapidly," says the Lord of Hosts. Listen to the word of the Lord. God says, "I will put at your helm for two terms a president that will pray, but he will not be a praying president when he starts. I will put him in office and then I will baptize him with the Holy Spirit and My power," says the Lord of Hosts.

KIM CLEMENT APR. 04, 2007 – Redding, CA:

"Trump shall become a trumpet," says the Lord. "No you didn't hear me. Trump shall become a trumpet. Are you listening to me? I will raise up the Trump to become a trumpet."

KIM CLEMENT FEB. 22, 2014:

“This man has stood in Jerusalem. This man that I saw in the vision. The man that came out of a vision. Please hear me. They will shout, ‘Impeach, impeach!’ they say, but nay. This nation shall come very subtly, but he will not come in the time of President Obama. They shall come when this new one arises, My David, that I have set aside for this nation. A man of prayer, a man of choice words, not a man who is verbose, who has verbosity, who speaks too much. They will even say, ‘This man is not speaking enough.’”

But God says, “I have set him aside. They will shout, ‘Impeach, impeach,” but this shall not happen. Hear Me, for I have found a man after My own heart. I have found a man after My own heart and he is amongst you. He is one of the brothers that’s singled out for presidency of the United States of America.[\[iii\]](#)

SCRIPTURE TRUTH MINISTRY’S COMMENTARY

Prophetic language is often mysterious, difficult to understand, and needs interpretation.

Kim Clement’s prophetic visions are pretty plain-spoken, straightforward, and easy to understand.

In February 2007, Clement prophesied that a praying president would be chosen as President of the United States and that this president would serve two terms. Many believers were disillusioned by Clement’s prophecy when Donald Trump was removed from office in his reelection bid. Yet the prophecy stated that this president would serve two terms, not necessarily two consecutive terms.

In April of 2007, Clement goes on to prophecy and specifically names Trump as the one to be raised up to become a trumpet (president).

In February of 2014, Clement prophesied that he saw this president standing in Jerusalem. Trump also recognized

Jerusalem as the capital of Israel. Clement said that Trump would be impeached twice, but the impeachments would not stop him. Clement said that this president would use choice (common) words and not speak like a typical American politician.

THE KIM CLEMENT FULFILLED PROPHECIES ABOUT PRESIDENT TRUMP

1. A PRAYING PRESIDENT
2. A PASSIONATE AND SPIRITED (HOT BLOOD) PRESIDENT
3. SERVES TWO TERMS
4. NAMES 'TRUMP' AS THE ONE WHO WILL BE RAISED UP
5. STANDS IN JERUSALEM (AND RECOGNIZES JERUSALEM AS ISRAEL'S CAPITAL)
6. TWO IMPEACHMENTS
7. TWO IMPEACHMENTS FAIL
8. SPEAKS WITH COMMON (CHOICE) WORDS (NOT TYPICAL POLITICAL SPEECH)

* BONUS: DEFEATS TWO JEZEBELS

All of the aforementioned Kim Clement Trump prophecies were made between February 10, 2007 and February 22, 2014, well before Donald Trump announced his candidacy on June 16, 2015 and began his first presidential term on January 20, 2017. Assuming Trump serves out his second term in office, these prophecies are true and Kim Clement was a true prophet of God.
