

High Noon: Governors and Mayors vs Sheriffs and We the People

By: Devvy

Click bait headlines from both the prostitute MSM and some in the independent media continue screeching we're all going to die from starvation because there is a serious problem for food processing plants and the food supply train. As if beef, chicken and pork are the only food categories available for human consumption. Oh, Lord! Wendy's is no longer selling hamburgers!

That's the claim in this video: "Wendy's has stopped serving burgers." As well as stating big food chains like HEB here in Texas are rationing how much hamburger you can purchase at once. I choose not to call it rationing but rather a sensible policy right now. There's no law that says any grocery store must allow you to buy half the meat department at one time. All they're trying to do right now is even the playing field so that everyone who desires to purchase those items is able to buy a few at a time. Is that unreasonable?

I don't eat pretend food but I can relay what's going on in my city in W. Texas. My disabled brother cannot drive so I take him around town. He loves Wendy's, which is fine, that's his choice. On May 8th we used the drive-thru; lobby still closed. One particular burger choice was not available; I assume because looking at the picture, it has at least two stacked patties. Otherwise, their full selection was available.

On the same date I picked up two items at HEB here in town. The meat, pork and chicken departments were fully stocked. There were no signs limiting purchases except for hamburger. I did not observe anyone's cart loaded with those food items. (I walk around stores making my observations; its good exercise.) On May 8th I deliberately went to China (Wal) Mart to look over their meats and produce department. All fully stocked;no signs limiting purchases except for hamburger limiting two at one shopping trip.

Incidentally, that China (Wal) Mart from one visit to the last now has little signs on the floor ONE WAY ONLY with an arrow. I know, it's beyond laughable. I walked down the center isle to observe people isle by isle and sure enough, they walked only from one end to the other. No stopping to turn around their cart and head the opposite direction. I, on the other hand did not.

Yes, you would be correct: Some of the looks I got were nasty. I was not following marching orders. I didn't see a single employee guarding the isles to make sure people were being good little shoppers just to purchase food. Perhaps someone can tell me how this allegedly helps keep COVID-19 from spreading?

Throughout this whole nightmare, I've seen people at that China (Wal) Mart standing talking with each other (no masks). You can stand in the isle and chit chat but can only drive your cart in one direction?

My email buddies and family members (California – north and south in the state) have told me their stores are stocked; one friend reported near empty sections for beef and pork but that could be due to people's shopping patterns. Get there at 8:00 am after overnight stocking vs hitting the store at 5:45 in the afternoon.

Once again, all those food processing employees who were hit in early April, most are likely back to work. Yes, some are probably still getting infected because of the lockdown but FROM WHERE is difficult if not impossible to state as fact. And, as I predicted, lawsuits now against food processing plants with deep pockets are growing. Restaurant owners are staying closed because they fear lawsuits if someone claims to have been infected at their business.

Agriculture Sec. Sonny Perdue: Meat Packing Plants Back to 100% Capacity in 7-10 Days, May 6, 2020

“I think we’ve turned the corner,” Perdue said. “We see these plants coming back online. Obviously, because of some infected employees, they won’t be full force for a while, but we think the stores will be – you’ll see more variety and more meat cases fully supplied.”

“Reynolds thanked President Trump for acting quickly to use the Defense Production Act to declare the plants essential infrastructure. She said that Trump’s action prevented meat producers from euthanizing their stock that could not be sold.

“This is critical infrastructure. It’s an essential workforce,” she said. “And the team and the effort and the executive order, I think, has really maybe prevented what could have been a really serious situation.”

“The president said he would ask the Justice Department to look into whether meat providers were boosting prices to benefit financially from meat shortages while some meat producers could not even sell their animals.”

Some feel that’s overly-optimistic but we should all understand and I think a large majority of Americans do by now —everything humanly possible is being done to get food to all Americans. And, Americans, true to our spirit and oneness are doing things like this you might wish to promote in your area:

Communities Rally Behind Farmers & Ranchers Amid Food Shortage Scare – Cars line up for miles to support local agriculture

“In response to this impending crisis, Americans are already helping farmers and ranchers by skipping the big chains and going directly to the source. For example, the Whoa Nellie Dairy Farm in Fayette County, Pennsylvania decided to bottle their own milk instead of dumping it out and sold out of 30 gallons within hours.”

Great idea. Turn off Netflix, make it a fun family Saturday. Some fresh air and maybe even make some new friends. Sunlight Kills Coronavirus Quickly which is why the draconian edicts from governors ordering people can't go to the beach has NOTHING to do with your health and everything to do with controlling you and your movements.

Our local park in the foothills has now re-opened. Marque sign: Wear your mask. Really? Outside, fresh air, temp 75 and you want people to go hiking wearing a mask so their oxygen supply is greatly diminished?

How does that help stop the spread of the virus when sunshine does the trick?

Even Fauci says not to wear a mask, except for healthcare providers \(Video\): People should not be wearing them.

Or a family who lives in Lubbock, Texas (100 miles north of me) goes to Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Three hours north of Lubbock, a 20,000 acre park only to be told the park is full, make a reservation. That park isn't full but by order of Governor Flapdoodle only a limited number of humans are allowed into the park each day. Pray tell, how does all that fresh air and sunshine help stop spreading that virus?

I also want to include this before I move on. In my last column I recommended you go to The Meatrix.com which I first linked on my web site close to twenty years ago (Updated version on their site). If you want to see what you're really eating bookmark and visit later. It's critically important Americans understand the destruction of our farming families and the danger of putting our food supplies into the hands of what is known as 'agri-corps'.

Why farmers dump food and crops while grocery stores run dry and Americans struggle

Map of factory farms like locust instead of family owned farms. People must understand the danger of a half dozen corporations controlling our food sources.

You must take time to watch this 36-minute video. It's critically important: Excerpt-Eating Is a Moral Right, A Dialogue with 6 American Farm Leaders – “An excerpt from Panel IV of the Schiller Institute's April 25-26, 2020 International Online Conference featuring American farm leaders speaking out against the dire situation American farmers, and therefore Americans, face due to the speculative cartelization of the global food supply.”

When I ran for Congress (1993-1994) it was in a big ag district in No. California. I warned and talked myself blue about NAFTA (No American Factories Taking Applications). About what it would do to ranchers and farmers. The incumbent (now retired with his millions on a ranch up in Montana) was pro-NAFTA, vocally supported by the SOB – who along with Nancy Pelosi pushed through that destructive “free” trade agreement: Newt Gingrich.

What can be done in the future regarding meat & pork processing plants?

As you can see, there aren't that many. Compare that to fruits and vegetables.

They are huge in size and employ thousands at some plants. How about those corporations breaking them up into smaller plants and locate them in other states? Or building smaller ones in a dozen states not located in areas that get a lot of tornadoes or earthquakes? Maybe two smaller ones in Florida in an area not prone to hurricanes? Yes, livestock has to be transported. Understood. I hope those meat processing plants and their corporate owners have learned from this disaster about not putting all your eggs in one basket. Where there's a will there's a way.

Censorship

The massive effort by big tech monsters (Google, You Tube, Facebook and others) to keep the truth from the American people is in over drive. ANY doctors, infectious disease experts speaking out are almost immediately removed from the Internet.

Doctor: Our voices are being silenced by media and 'experts' – 'Never in the history of this great republic have we quarantined the healthy'

There is a 6:10 second video you will love watching at bottom of the article. Newport Beach, California, physician Jeff Barke at a rally tells it like a real American patriot.

Hallejula!

A tale of 2 drugs: Lives sacrificed on the altar of money & power – Elizabeth Lee Vliet, M.D., explains vast differences between HCQ and remdesivir–Act surprised. China holds the International Patent on remdesivir.

“Approximately $70 million in U.S. taxpayer funding began Gilead’s partnership with the U.S. Army, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and National Institutes of Health (NIH) to develop remdesivir. Initially for treating Ebola, it failed to show benefit and was shelved. If remdesivir is used to treat COVID-19, Gilead shareholders, not the taxpayers, will profit...

“HCQ has been off patent for decades, is available from a dozen U.S. generic manufacturers and is also produced in China, India, Israel and other countries. HCQ costs the patient on average less than $10 (range 37-63 cents per tablet), for the usual 5-7 day course of treatment. Remdesivir costs upwards of $1,000 per dose, plus the added costs of having to be hospitalized to receive it.

“In addition to HCQ’s low cost, major pharmaceutical companies (Novartis, Bayer, Teva, and others) have donated nearly 50 million doses to the Strategic National Stockpile. Tragically for Americans sick with COVID-19, most of this medicine still sits in warehouses because state governments are interfering with its use in outpatients when it has greatest effect.”

This needs further study...”

Yeah, you keep studying something we already know. My personal opinion and not a medical recommendation: adults should take Vitamin D every day to help your immune system. I am small in size so I only take 2,000 units per day. Sunshine and Vitamin D are highly beneficial as long as you don’t fry yourself in the sun (Altho’ plastic surgeons will love you for all those wrinkles). Hawaii, been there. Those beautiful islands drowning in sun and sand. 629 cases of COVID-19, 17 deaths.

"Is there any reason America, the last great hope for humanity, should fall to a virus with a 99.6% survival rate, even if it's being manipulated by a well-orchestrated and executed malevolent plan by those with nefarious intentions? America will only fall if Americans continue to nurture their fear and refuse to stand against this stealthy malignancy eating away at the very core of freedom and liberty."

On May 8, 2020, media reported cases in the U.S. 1,298,117, deaths 78,320

Once again, one has to go to the CDC's site and look at the COVID-19 number of deaths from that virus alone and not someone who had pneumonia or other existing, serious health issues who may have passed away anyway:

Updated May 8, 2020 – COVID-19 Deaths (U07.1): 47,128– “Deaths with confirmed or presumed COVID-19, coded to ICD–10 code U07.1 That’s a difference of 31,192 deaths.

Comrade Gavin Newsom, governor of California refuses to re-open nail and beauty salons. He’s bellowed the first case in California originated at a nail salon. How could he know that since he has provided NO evidence? MILLIONS of Americans are asymptomatic. That woman could have picked it up from someone who didn’t even know they had the virus or from the keypad at a gas station.

Comrade Newsom is also now singing the blues after destroying the lives of millions in his state and bankrupting thousands of businesses: [California Gov. “The court found that Newsom likely had no authority to give illegal aliens taxpayer money but that ‘there was a public interest in sending tax money to illegal aliens during the Coronavirus crisis.’ – Judicial Watch reported.

“It is astonishing that a court would allow a public official to ignore the law and spend tax money with no legal authority.

Simply put, as the court seems to acknowledge, the governor has no independent legal authority to spend state taxpayer money for cash payments to illegal aliens. We will appeal the court's manifest error," Judicial Watch president Tom Fitton said."

We told them so

Like so many others, I’ve harped on herd immunity to my governor and attorney general and in my columns. In my letters I told Gov. Abbott and AG Bonner locking down the state would be the wrong path to take but Abbott did it anyway. As states begin to re-open, guess what? Exactly what I explained in my letters: More infections because you’ve quarantined healthy people forced into lockdown which hurts their immune system for many reasons.

Naturally the hyenas in the MSM and Democrats in office are all now screeching governors who’ve opened their states are killing people!!! Oh, God, oh, my God!!! Please remember nine states did not close down and are doing fine.

Look at these two headlines. US deaths from coronavirus would be HALF the mid-April peak had states issued stay-at-home orders four days sooner, new study claims – They can study all they want but it’s BS.

carefully crafted headlines are meant to keep scaring people:

Texas governor Greg Abbott admits reopening ‘will lead to an increase and spread’ of coronavirus – I guess the private call with lawmakers didn’t remain so private after all. Wanna take bets on which Democrat lawmaker leaked it to the press?

What Abbott said was the truth: After a lockdown with a virus you’re going to have more cases. Too bad he didn’t listen to people like me (a nobody compared to his fat cat donors) and did like Arkansas, Iowa, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Carolina, South Dakota, Utah and Wyoming: Remain open. A lockdown that was TOTALLY UNNECESSARY has destroyed our economy, bankrupting individuals as well as increases in suicides, drug overdoses, depression and domestic violence.

Governors & mayors vs Sheriffs and We the People

As I said in my column last week, if it takes civil disobedience to bring these governors and mayors to their knees, then so be it. They really do fear We the People. Let me give you a short list in case you are working, job hunting or don’t have time to do the research.

Every person who we're isolating needs to have their own bathroom. So we'll be moving people like this in to other kinds of housing that we have available.”

The blowback was swift and brutal. Robert Levin, the Ventura County Health Director then attempted to “correct any misunderstanding”. Oh, no, buddy. People aren’t that stupid. At least some of them understand how Satan’s Pimp, Adolph Hitler, was able to round up millions of human beings.

Most of the country has already heard the story of Shelly Luther who owns a beauty salon in Dallas, TX. She reopened her business because her employees were going without food just to feed their children. Another Hussein Obama appointed Democrat judge jailed her. The Texas Supreme Court ordered her released. Our governor then modified his earlier order.

“Throwing Texans in jail who have had their businesses shut down through no fault of their own is nonsensical, and I will not allow it to happen,” Abbott, a Republican, said in a statement on May 7. “Criminals shouldn’t be released to prevent COVID-19 just to put business owners in their place. The decision eliminates jail time for violating an order going forward and retroactively to April 2. The modification to the orders supersedes local orders.” (Don’t you just love the “put business owners in their place”?)

Why are you wearing a mask?

Dr. Judy Mikovits whose credentials and expertise are too long to cover here including expert in infectious diseases (the NY Times rag calls her a 'Virus Conspiracist, issued this statement about wearing a mask policy –

“The masks on walks outside and while driving in your car is mind blowing to me. Do you not know how unhealthy it is to keep inhaling your carbon dioxide and restricting proper oxygen flow? I honestly cannot believe how non-logical we have become! We as a society seem to just listen to (perceived) authority without question. I don't see a whole lot of critical thought happening here, I'm sorry to say Why I opt NOT to wear a mask.”

“Well, let me break it down for you. The body requires AMPLE amounts of oxygen for optimal immune health. Especially during a so-called “pandemic”. Proper oxygenation of your cells and blood is ESSENTIAL for the body to function as it needs to in order to fight off any illness.

“Masks will hamper oxygen intake. Unless you are working in a hospital setting, it is NOT necessary. But go ahead and hold onto to your security blanket if it makes you feel better. I do not listen to the government when it tries to instruct me on how to maintain health, nor do I trust their ‘stats” (which we know are based on unconfirmed numbers).”

Dr. Eli Perencevich, a professor of medicine and epidemiology at the University of Iowa's College of Medicine stated in an interview: “The average healthy person does not need to have a mask, and they shouldn’t be wearing masks. There’s no evidence that wearing masks on healthy people will protect them. They wear them incorrectly, and they can increase the risk of infection because they’re touching their face more often.”

Months ago, U.S. Surgeon General Jerome M. Adams who also has a resume too long to cover and a very impressive career in the field of science and medicine pleaded with people to quit stocking up on masks in a post to Twitter. “Seriously people-STOP BUYING MASKS!” he wrote. “They are NOT effective in preventing general public from catching #Coronavirus, but if healthcare providers can’t get them to care for sick patients, it puts them and our communities at risk!”

Dr. Jenny Harries, England’s deputy chief medical officer, has warned that it was not a good idea for the public to wear face masks as the virus can get trapped in the material and causes infection when the wearer breathes in. “For the average member of the public walking down a street, it is not a good idea.”

WHO emergencies chief Dr. Michael Ryan said “... there is no specific evidence to suggest that the wearing of masks by the mass population has any particular benefit – in fact, there’s some evidence to suggest the opposite.”
