

Hillary and the FBI are shameless liars

“These rules,” writes Alinsky, “make the difference between being a realistic radical and being a rhetorical one who uses the tired old words and slogans, calls the police, ‘pig’ or ‘white fascist racist’ or ‘motherf-ker’ and has so stereotyped himself that others react by saying, ‘Oh, he’s one of those, and then promptly turn off.’ Instead, advance your radical goals by camouflaging them; change your style to appear to be working within the system.”

Hillary’s Radical Training

There’s nothing new about radicals, camouflaging their agendas as moderates in order to disarm the public and their opposition. Devised by Communists, and originally from the likes of Lenin, they pretended to be democrats in order to form alliances with liberals, which would help them acquire the power to shut the democracy down. Saul Alinsky borrowed it for his use and taught multitudes how to use it, including Hillary Rodham Clinton. Her education with Alinsky began in 1961 when she was a freshman in high school.

It’s been used time and again throughout history. There’s really nothing new about these leftist radicals like Hillary, Kaine, Schumer, Pelosi, Sanders and the rest of the globalist ilk. They use the same agendas over and over again, and the dumbed down Americans fall for it. Why? Because the education was destroyed long ago, and the Soviet Polytech form of behavioral training replaced academic teaching. Gorbachev and Reagan struck the deals in 1985 and 1988, the US/Soviet Education Agreements, and that was the elimination of academic teaching.

Lenin and Castro were two of Alinsky’s heroes. He often used the slogan of Communist dictator, Mao Zedong, “political power grows out of the barrel of a gun.” The Black Panthers used it in the 60s, and still use it today.

The FBI Found Guilty

How interesting, however, was the fact that one Black Panther never wanted violence in order to promote change. His name was Elmer “Geronimo” Pratt. He served two combat tours in Viet Nam, reaching the rank of Sergeant, was honorably discharged, earning two Bronze Stars, a Silver Star and two Purple Hearts.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation targeted him in a COINTELPRO operation, which aimed to “neutralize Pratt as an effective BPP functionary.” Elmer was charged with a murder he didn’t commit, (he was 350 miles away at the time) the trial was a sham, marked by the prosecution’s deceitful withholding of exculpatory evidence and the presence of a government spy, still unidentified, inside the defense team. He was convicted and spent the next 27 years – eight of them in solitary confinement – in prison. During those years, there were multiple attempts to murder him.

Two lawyers, Johnny Cochran and Stuart Hanlon finally freed this innocent man and proved that the FBI and the government spy had set him up. Jack Olsen wrote the story about this amazing man, Last Man Standing, the Tragedy and Triumph of Geronimo Pratt. The book is a classic expose of how an innocent’s rights can be swept under the rug of politics and power. The FBI was sued for framing Pratt, and he was awarded the sum of $3 million after attorney’s fees. Unfortunately, it should have been millions more.

In 1968, the FBI put an innocent man in prison for 27 years. This was long ago, and they’re again showing their true colors with Hillary’s email scandal. But first, let’s go back a bit to Hillary’s past.

Hillary's Home in Park

Ridge, Illinois

Hillary has said many times that she grew up middle class. She stated, "My father loved to complain about big business and big government, but we had a solid middle class upbringing. We had good public schools. We had accessible health care. We had our little, you know, one-family house that, you know, he saved up his money, didn't believe in mortgages."

Yes, Hillary, I do know, because I was raised in Park Ridge, Illinois just like you were, but I lived in a newer part of town, where some of the homes were not nearly as upscale as those in your older and more wealthy neighborhood. And Hillary, your house was not a "little" one-family house, and very few people could pay cash for a home as your father did. Your parents gave you everything you wanted and needed and footed the bill for an expensive college education at Wellesley. You did not go from rags to riches, you were used to the good life, and now with the pay to play games you've pulled, you live in high luxury.

Somehow everything that comes out of Hillary's mouth is a full-blown lie, or twisted truth.

FBI Dumps 100 Pages of Hillary Investigation

Even with much of this document redacted, there is damning information within it. Hillary should not be anywhere near the White House, much less running for the high office of President. Understand that this is from someone inside the FBI, it is not a WikiLeaks hacked email.

If you fully understand what the FBI is saying in these 100 pages, then you have to ask, how could the FBI decide this was not actionable? It's so explosive, and Obama knew she was using a private server because he was communicating with her on it. So, when he told the public he heard about it on the news, he was lying, just like Hillary!

One of Hillary's lines of defense was to claim, falsely, that she never sent or received classified documents on her off-the-books email system. But she did, and it was covered up, by the FBI, by the State Department, and by the White House.

In Jim Kouri's recent article, he states that Hillary also told General Petraeus to use her private email and thousands of those are missing from the 30,000 emails.

Government Protection of Hillary and Obama

In this FBI doc, an unidentified FBI employee says he was "pressured" to change the classification of an email to render it unclassified. This pressure came from someone within the FBI, who said he had been contacted by Undersecretary of State Patrick Kennedy, who "had asked his assistance in altering the email's classification in exchange for a 'quid pro quo.'" The quid pro quo was that, if the FBI would say the email was unclassified, the State Department would allow the FBI to "place more Agents in countries where they are presently forbidden."

Okay, so then a meeting was called, an "all agency" meeting at the State Department to discuss the classification review of the Hillary Clinton emails. By all agencies, they meant CIA, DIA, FBI, and members of the State Department and who knows who else, and Patrick Kennedy presided!

They discussed declassifying her classified emails to protect her! All of these agencies! What a set up! What protection! And don't forget that it also protected Obama!

How many are in prison today for doing a miniscule amount of what Hillary did!

FBI Complicit

After the meeting, Patrick Kennedy called the FBI and wanted them to go along with the plan, but they refused to declassify. He asked to speak to someone else and was connected to Michael Steinbach. Here's where they made their deal.

Prior to ending the conversation, Kennedy asked whether the FBI or STATE would conduct the public statements on the matter. Steinbach advised him that the FBI would not comment publicly on the matter.

The call ended and, according to (redacted) the Associated Press published the story within the hour. At this point, HILLARY WAS FREE TO LIE! THE COVERUP WAS COMPLETE!

Former Secretary of State Clinton appeared in front of the press shortly thereafter to deny having sent classified emails on her private email server.

The Benghazi Email

The one email which was of grave concern to Kennedy; it was classified by the FBI Counterterrorism Division (CTD), was related to the attacks on the U.S. Consulate in Benghazi!

Since the FBI said they would say nothing about it, and Comey wasn't involved at this point, Kennedy buried the email in the basement of the Department of State, out of sight, out of mind. On 16 October 16, WikiLeaks emails were released that pointed to a Benghazi thread that exposed the entire duplicitousness.

Obviously, this mess was never going to be exposed because Obama was involved, and he certainly wouldn't want to stain himself with Hillary's illegal and treasonous activities via her personal servers.

Marc Turi, Arms Dealer

Marc Turi was indicted in 2014 on four felony counts: two of arms dealing in violation of the Arms Export Control Act and two of lying to the State Department in official applications. The charges accused Turi of claiming that the weapons involved were destined for Qatar and the United Arab Emirates, when the arms were actually intended to reach Libya.

Turi's lawyers argued that the shipments were part of a U.S. government-authorized effort to arm Libyan rebels.

Marc Turi told Fox News that the Obama administration had wanted to arm Libyan rebels to overthrow Muammar Gaddafi during the Arab Spring uprising, but were stopped by a UN sanction on arms sales to the country.

He said he came up with a plan to sell weapons to US allies in Qatar and the United Arab Emirates who would then pass them on to Libya, but was cut out of the deal by Clinton's State Department and the CIA, who transported the weapons themselves.

Those weapons, he said, then went to just about everyone in Libya and Syria – friend and foe alike – after rebels got their hands on them.

Fox News asked Turi whether Al Qaeda, Ansar al-Sharia (the group behind the Benghazi attack), or ISIS – which was formed in 1999 – got the weapons; he replied, “All of them, all of them, all of them.” Watch the three-minute interview.

He says the Justice Department then attempted to scapegoat him, charging him with two counts of illegal arms dealing and two of lying on his State Department weapons application – despite him never actually selling anything.

Wikileaks head, Julian Assange, in July suggested that he had emails proving that Clinton “pushed” the “flows” of weapons “going over to Syria.”

Additionally, Turi's case had delved into emails sent to and from the controversial private account that Clinton used as Secretary of State, which the defense planned to harness at any trial.

The five-year, $10m case was dropped by prosecutors. Turi says they didn't want to press on because it would compromise Clinton, and the trial would have started on November 8, election day.

Turi says Obama dropped the case against him for fear it would reveal Clinton's department's behind-the-scenes deals in secret transcripts.

Conclusion

Clinton armed the Benghazi rebels, that's the bottom line. The FBI covered up the classified emails with the help of the CIA, the DIA, the White House, and Lord knows who else. In 1968, the FBI was responsible for framing an innocent man who spent 27 years in prison for a murder he didn't do. Seems their modus operandi hasn't changed much in all those years. Except this time the reverse is true. They are aiding Hillary Clinton, fully knowing she is guilty of breaking the law.

FBI Director Comey called Clinton's emails careless, not criminal. [Link] However, someone inside the FBI released the 100-page redacted document linked to at the beginning of this article. Julian Assange's WikiLeaks has given us the emails.

What can anyone say about Hillary Clinton's corruption that hasn't already been said time and again.

Donald Trump doesn't just have to beat Hillary, he has to beat Hillary's media, Hillary's debate committee, Hillary's Wall Street donors, Hillary's corrupt government connections, and Hillary's corrupt foreign connections.

Trump says the D.C. swamp needs to be drained and he is so right. It especially needs to be drained of the Obamas and Clintons and anyone who enabled them to get away with their treasonous activities.

The American electorate simply cannot allow this corruption to continue. It's time to elect an outsider instead of another corrupt politician.
