

How Democrat Leaders Feel About Their Voters

By Lex Greene

February 5, 2024

Conservative Republicans have known this for decades and worked to free the captured minds of democrat voters, without much success, until Biden. The massive total disaster of the warmongering, and treason-at-the-border Biden regime, and border states sharing their crisis with the country by shipping millions of illegal invaders to democrat-controlled cities responsible for it, has provided a much-needed wake-up call to all citizens.

As democrat voters appear entirely confident in their self-proclaimed brilliance, while totally incapable of an open discussion on any real facts, their party leaders see them quite differently than they see themselves.

Since the late 80s and the Clinton years in the 90s, a very small group of highly paid Democrat Party strategists took control over all DNC political campaigns. They established a small, targeted list of voter issues aimed at manipulating a certain type of voter, such as "abortion" to attract the female voter, "racism" to attract minority voters, "economic envy" to attract voters who were Pavlov trained to believe they are entitled to the earnings of others, especially young voters.

Extreme Marxist billionaires around the globe were thrilled to finance the mission to train certain American voter demographics to vote themselves and all others into certain unsustainable ruin. A large portion of DNC fundraising comes from foreign donors and international corporations. While nations ruined by socialism around the globe elect people to lead them out of the disaster, an increasing number of Americans are voting for the same failed policies.

But before I go any further, and you decide that I'm just some Republican Party operative, take a moment to read the statements from the top Democrat Party strategist since 1990, from an interview he gave during the 2012 re-election campaign of Barack Hussein Obama... multi-millionaire democrat operative James Carville.

"Ideologies aren't all that important. What's important is psychology.

The Democratic constituency is just like a herd of cows. All you have to do is lay out enough silage [feed], and they come running. That's why I became an operative working with Democrats. With Democrats, all you have to do is make a lot of noise, lay out the hay, and be ready to use the ole cattle prod in case a few want to bolt the herd.

Eighty percent of the people who call themselves Democrats don't have a clue as to political reality.

What amazes me is that you could take a group of people who are hard workers and convince them that they should support social programs that are the exact opposite of their own personal convictions. Put a little fear here and there, and you can get people to vote any way you want.

The voter is basically dumb and lazy. The reason I became a Democratic operative instead of a Republican was because there were more Democrats that didn't have a clue than there were Republicans.

Truth is relative. Truth is what you can make the voter believe is the truth. If you're smart enough, the truth is what you make the voter think it is. That's why I'm a Democrat. I can make the Democratic voters think whatever I want them to."

Democrat Party strategist James Carville (2012)

In a very typical Carville fashion, James says it like it is, unfettered and right to the point.

In other words, top democrat party operatives see their voters as mere lumps of clay to be molded into whatever they want you to be, for their benefit, not yours. They perfected the art of controlling their voters by simply controlling their every thought and emotion. They use bold-faced campaign lies, usually focused on attacking their political challengers, rather than promoting their own track record of success, or lack thereof.

Beyond learning how to win elections, democrats have destroyed literally everything they touch after the election ends. Every democrat-controlled city or state is by far, the worst in the country. The party itself has become the most undemocratic organization in USA history, using these tactics not only to defeat their republican opponents in general elections, but to defeat other democrats in DNC primaries.

More than 80% of American voters, all demographics, can see that the Biden family has been career international criminals guilty of open treason against the USA for decades, and that Joe himself lacks the mental ability to complete a coherent sentence, which is why they don't allow him to actually campaign or answer media questions.

But the party has trained their cattle to ignore everything they see with their own eyes, hear with their own ears, and witness in their own lives, as if reality does not even exist. And as Carville said so well, if you stray from the herd for a moment, the party will cattle prod you back into compliance.

Did you actually think it was your idea to vote on the basis of “women’s rights,” defined by the party as nothing more than some evil right to kill your own children in the womb? Did you think it was your idea to accept the notion that humans are born in more than two genders, male and female? Did you think it was your idea to promote every form of sexual perversion as merely a “natural alternative lifestyle?”

Was it your idea to blame republicans for “racism” in America, knowing full well that it was democrats who formed the KKK and fought against all “equal rights acts” designed to affirm that “all men are created equal?”

None of these things were your idea. These are all carefully crafted voter manipulation issues designed to convince fools into foolish behaviors that make no sense at all. Was it your idea to hate everyone who wants America to be great again? Was it your idea to spread lies about democrat opponents all over social media, even though the lies have been proven lies over and over again?

None of these things were your idea...

But as Carville stated perfectly in his opening sentence above, “Ideologies aren’t all that important. What’s important is psychology.”

While you think you are voting on the basis of your “ideologies,” in reality, you’re only doing what you are told to do, on the basis of party leaders understanding and manipulating you via “psychology.”

“What amazes me is that you could take a group of people who are hard workers and convince them that they should support social programs that are the exact opposite of their own personal convictions. Put a little fear here and there, and you can get people to vote any way you want.” – Carville

do you think they have spent decades convincing you that if you don't vote for them, the world will soon end due to "climate change" when there is no evidence at all that the globe is experiencing anything more than normal changes in climate from season to season?

It reminds me of the old "hurt and rescue" extortion scheme made famous by New York and Chicago mobs and labor union bosses in the early 1900s. In order to get you to do what they want you to do, they have to hurt you first, in order to manipulate you into buying their rescue plan. They had to convince you that you would soon die of a common cold...before you would line up to take mRNA fake vaccines intended to do more harm than any virus.

It's happening right now... The WEF Great Covid 19 Reset is underway globally, and they have told you that when they achieve their goals, "you will own nothing and be happy." Still, you vote for their USA partners, the democrats. (and a few fake republicans)

In order to get you to vote America into a 3rd world global commune under the government of Nazi Klaus Schwab, his global partners, and his young global leaders, they have to first destroy everything else, crash the economy, start wars everywhere, pit citizen against citizen, and make life so uncomfortable in freedom that you will choose global tyranny to escape the pain they put you in...

Even so, will these voters change course once they know exactly how their political leaders have manipulated them for decades? Most will not, they are so deeply indoctrinated now that most will recoil in an involuntary reaction to truth. This is part of their Pavlov training too... Truth hits these folks like Holy Water hits Satan... causing an involuntary recoil.

Democrats need to grasp exactly how their party leaders truly feel about them. It's not how conservatives feel about them that's at issue, but rather how their own party leaders feel about them.

But the rest of us have a duty to take action to overrule these voters in every election, every district, before they vote all of us into bondage.

At the end of the day, the USA is whatever WE make it, or allow it to become.

2024 will be the last chance WE have to stop the final destruction of the American Dream and American way of life. If WE fail in this duty this time, well, throughout history, freedom once lost, has never been regained!

Our children and grandchildren will remember us as only those who stood up in the face of evil tyranny, and those who didn't. No one will be remembered any other way...
