

Hypocrisy On Steroids

Hypocrisy is defined as: the practice of claiming to have moral standards or beliefs to which one's own behavior does not conform pretense.

I was watching a recent edition of FOX News Sunday with Chris Wallace. On that episode, one of the big topics was president Trump not going hard enough in his statement against the violence in Charlottesville, Virginia where protester Heather Heyer was mashed down by a motorist who had been spooked by people attacking his automobile. Many allege the driver to be a white supremacist supporter.

Equally tragic was the death of two Virginia state troopers who crashed in the helicopter they were utilizing to observe what was occurring on the ground. In regards to the violent protest itself, President Trump did state, "We condemn in the strongest possible terms this egregious display of hatred, bigotry, and violence on many sides," the president added "It has been going on for a long time in our country—not Donald Trump, not Barak Obama. "It has been going on for a long, long time. It has no place in America."

The president also called for a study of the situation and Attorney General Jeff Sessions called for a civil rights investigation into events surrounding the "Unite the Right Rally." But still, lawmakers spent the day after the violent protests condemning president Trump for not being forceful enough in his condemnation of the white supremacists behind the rally. The protests were in response to the leftist history police having the statue of Robert E. Lee removed.

Rep Adam Schiff, D-Calif., tweeted that Trump must "speak out against the poisonous resurgence of white supremacy. There not "many sides here, just right and wrong." At least Trump got support from former Arkansas governor Mike Huckabee who stated, "Donald Trump, I thought was very explicitly clear in condemning what happened," He will never satisfy those who hate his every word."

Personally, I find it both ironic and hypocritical that many of the same people who condemn the president have for years refused to directly condemn Muslim or Islamic terrorists who shot down unarmed American soldiers at Fort Hood, or set off a bomb during the Boston Marathon. Certain politicians are running around yelping about "the racist nationalists," their horrible actions and words. While trying to describe president Trump as someone who does not mind such madness. But what those dishonest hypocrites will not reveal is that as far back as the year 2000 and many times since then, the Donald spoke out against David Duke. He called him among other things, "a bigot, a racist, a problem."

But if people want to seek and rout out racists, they can begin by reviewing the long dirty racist history of the democrat party. They should look at the actions of democrat luminaries like Woodrow Wilson, and his connection with the Hollywood racist, Birth of A Nation movie. That one movie helped set race relations way bay and inspired the horrendous Jim Crow laws that democrats used to discriminate against black Americans on every level of existence.

Or maybe president Lyndon B. Johnson D-Tex. Who set up another round of setbacks for Black Americans economically via his Great Society boondoggle. The ripple effects of that alone are still reverberating throughout most urban American neighborhoods. Let us not forget another democrat party disaster, "Urban Renewal." It was touted to be a way to rebuild American cities. Of course, that was never the case. Actually, Urban Renewal, much like Great Society was a multi trillion dollar plan to utterly ruin Black Americans financially and socially.

Democrats never ever wanted and to this day do not desire to see Black Americans, especially Black men in masse living economically successful lives with intact families. With a lot of help from the government school system, they keep ignorant Blacks on the leftist political plantation who are very happy to continue voting for their mental, spiritual and economic oppressor whom they love dearly.

Do not for a second think I believe there are no racists in America today. But they are of no importance to me. I do not care what a racist may think. But I do care about many government officials hypocritically going to nutsville over alleged racists. Especially since they ignore the truth about the legions of racist illegal immigrants and terrorists allowed in this republic who see themselves as superior to Americans.

By the way, now that racism is so troubling, then why on earth has the hypocritical government, especially democrats been in favor of flooding our nation with ultra racist Islamists who hate Black people with a passion and still enslave them in the Middle East today. In the Islamic Quran' Blacks are dubbed as raisin heads without souls and declared to be slaves. Some conservative leaning businessmen here in Michigan (who asked to remain anonymous) shared with me about the high level of hatred toward blacks that Muslims often have expressed to them. Since I long ago studied the history of Islam and even recently helped produce a documentary about Islam that can be found on You Tube.

I just want to let you leftist hypocrites know that more and more Americans will ultimately see through your efforts to divide and conquer America for globalism. Racism will die off as Americans begin to seriously rebuild our republic as they rebuild their personal lives and families. Increased economic opportunities and a return to a more righteous standard will also go a long way toward accomplishing authentic solutions to problems that can be solved once the hypocrites are relegated to their rightful place in obscurity. To President Trump, hold the line and do not give in to what hypocrites like McMasters who want to neutralize your administration. God bless you, God bless America and may America bless God. Be blessed by a page from The Edwards Notebook daily at 7:30 AM on www.americamatters.us and AM 1180 KCKQ Reno, Nevada.

© 2017 Ron Edwards – All Rights Reserved

E-Mail Ron Edwards: ronedwards@edwardsnotebook.com