

I.C.E., US Border Patrol, DHS, State Patrol, Local Police: Social Contract

Is the United States of America a sovereign nation with laws to protect its citizens, with a border and the “Rule of Law” to ensure its viability as a civilization?

Apparently, as of last week, certain fringe-group citizens think they can violate the “Social Contract” without consequences. What is the “Social Contract?”

“The Social Contract, by Jean-Jacques Rousseau (1762), is a foundational work of political philosophy arguing that legitimate political authority comes from the social contract agreed upon by all citizens, creating a “general will” for the common good, which preserves individual freedom within a just society. It famously begins with “Man is born free; and everywhere he is in chains,” exploring how society and government can both oppress and enable freedom, and it heavily influenced the French Revolution and democratic thought.”

During the four Biden years, our own president violated his oath of office, and over 15 to 20 million foreigners violated America’s “Social Contract” by breaking into our country. It’s no different than a burglar breaking into your house...stealing your property or raping your wife or killing your children.

In 2025 and now, 2026, the American people voted by a majority, to elect President Trump to deport the reported number of 25 million illegal aliens out of America. Those people reside in America against our laws, and in fact, have caused enormous numbers of crimes, smuggling, sex trafficking, drug addiction deaths at over 270,000 in the past four years, rapes, shoplifting gangs, murders and dozens of other unlawful acts. In other words, Laken Riley and many other women would be alive today if Biden had honored his oath of office. Hundreds of other women have died or been raped by illegals, too. Illegal immigration provides a sordid story of anarchy against our "Social Contract."

But something is happening in liberal-dominated cities across America. Democrats are violating the "Social Contract" via "Sanctuary Cities" in New York City, Minneapolis, Portland, Denver, Detroit and beyond. They support and defend illegal aliens residing in our country. No matter how many deaths of Americans, such "fringe" individuals are shooting at law enforcement officers, burning cars and buildings, killing innocents, and destroying "the rule of law" in their cities. They are stalking, harassing, spitting upon, shooting at, and disobeying lawful orders of police, I.C.E., U.S. Border Patrol, State Patrol officers and Homeland Security officers.

Then it happened, a lady named Renee Good harassed, used her car to block I.C.E. agents from doing their jobs in Minneapolis, Minnesota last week. She was a part of an organized group that follows I.C.E. officers, doxxes them, screams at them, impedes them, and tries to thwart lawful actions by officers. She blocked the road, and then, when ordered to depart from her SUV, she drove and hit an I.C.E. agent who fired upon her to save his life.

DHS says Renee Nicole Good was 'stalking' and 'impeding' law enforcement operation before fatal shooting.

"The media continues to fail the American people in their reporting on the events in Minneapolis," DHS claimed in the post. "New evidence shows that the anti-ICE agitator was STALKING and IMPEDING a law enforcement operation over the course of the morning." DHS further criticized the media, writing: "The evidence speaks for itself. The legacy media has lost the trust of the American people."

Renee Good played a dangerous game of anarchy that cost her dearly.

Federal officials have defended the ICE agent's actions as self-defense. "Good was participating in an act of "domestic terrorism," said DHS Secretary Kristi Noem.

That same officer had been dragged by an illegal alien in a car to the point where he nearly had his arm ripped off last June. He suffered torn muscles, over 30 stitches, and hospitalization.

As a country, our citizens either abide by the "Social Contract" that the U.S. Constitution mandates or we become a lawless Banana Republic. The fact remains that those 25 million illegal aliens, like a robber who broke into your home, need to be deported. As a civilization, we cannot afford to become another Somalia or Cuba or Sudan or Iran.

Here's a sobering fact: America houses 350 million people. Our cities are overwhelmed, overcrowded and suffering from enormous numbers of murders, failing schools, and lack of "The Social Contract" by Gen Z'ers, Gen X'ers who have never faced WWII or served in the military or the Peace Corps. They are riding on everything their parents gave them. We add another 1,000,000 legal immigrants, annually. Most of them cannot speak, read or work in English. Most lack any education or skills to benefit our society. Note that 83 percent of the 240,000 Somalians in America remain on welfare after 20 years in our country. The world adds 83,000,000 more new babies, net gain, annually. At 8.1 billion today and heading toward 9.7 billion humans by mid-century, according to the United Nations population projections--millions if not billions of people would like to migrate to America, Canada and Europe. And in fact, they are stampeding into Western Countries. They are overwhelming European heritage, cultures, languages and sustainability.

How many more people can the USA hold? Can we absorb 10 million annually? How about 50 million annually added to our already gridlocked and air polluted cities? Because, if we open our borders, the world's poor would LOVE to stampede into America. But the fact is, they cannot and we cannot sustain their numbers. They need to improve their own situation in their own countries.

Why? Who thinks that California can absorb another 10 million people added to their 40 million? How? What's the point? Can Colorado add another 10 million? What about Arizona adding another 10 million? How do you generate enough water for THAT many people? Again, people from the Third World use five gallons of water, 24/7. Americans use 88 gallons of water 24/7. How does anyone expect to enjoy fresh water when it's exhausted? And, it WILL be exhausted if we continue down that road.

What about gasoline? America uses 20,000,000 barrels of oil 24/7. The world burns 100,000,000 barrels, DAILY. Do you think adding another 50 or 100 million people to America is viable? Answer: I can tell you; we can't sustain THAT many people at this level of consumption and pollution!

If we as a civilization fail to maintain our "Social Contract", all of us will lose. Do you see anyone migrating to Venezuela? Are Americans chomping at the bit to move to Mexico or Nicaragua or North Korea?

You see, those 25 million "home invaders" in our country are straining every aspect of our social system. They are defrauding us out of billions if not trillions of dollars.

Think Minneapolis Somalians and Ilhan Omar. They cannot and will assimilate into our culture or language. They are not educated to our standards. In fact, they are causing us to lower our standards.

In the end, Renee Good broke “The Social Contract.” When an officer of the law, i.e., I.C.E., State Patrol, Border Patrol, DHS officer, or traffic officer tells you to step out of the car—you do it! It’s the law. It’s what maintains our society. It ensures that anarchy does not prevail. When a police officer stops you for speeding, he is saving you and other drivers from death by accident. When I.C.E. arrests an illegal alien criminal, he’s saving your daughter from death or rape or both. When a Border Patrol officer stops an illegal alien at the border, he’s protecting your country and your family.

Every one of those fringe-group rioters in Minneapolis needs to understand that if he/she doesn’t like our laws, then vote to change them. Otherwise, as a citizen, you are mandated to follow the law. It’s the only way we can maintain a civil society.

It’s sad that Renee Good chose to break “The Social Contract.” It’s sad that she died. She chose anarchy over lawful order. It’s sadder, too, that the I.C.E. agent will be crucified when he was only doing his job.

If we as citizens of a “civil society” fail to maintain “The Social Contract”, future generations will wonder why we became more like other failed societies such as Somalia, Sudan, Congo, Venezuela, Cuba, and Columbia.

In my book, IMMIGRATION'S UNARMED INVASION: DEADLY CONSEQUENCES, published in 2004, I wrote about the eight ways to destroy America. Twenty-two years later, every prediction in my book has come to pass...and it's going to get worse if we fail to stop mass migration out of the Third World. We will devolve into a Third World country by destroying our own
