

Let Us Move on From Jeffrey Epstein

Let us assume Jeffrey Epstein was working for the Israeli secret service and the CIA. Then let us throw into the mix the Russian KGB. Now what? These endless questions shed nothing on our current and precarious situation. We are in serious trouble. Spies and traitors have been among us for decades. People are weak and susceptible to blackmail. That is an old story.

A new story concerns Joe Biden and the question of who knew what about his mental condition and weird sexual habits. He has not been accused of being an Epstein “client,” but he is an accused rapist, female hair-sniffer, and admitted plagiarist who was famous for boasting at a Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) meeting in 2018 about withholding aid to Ukraine to force the firing of a prosecutor. This open display of corruption in foreign policy was not a big deal for the CFR, as many laughed in approval at the story. It was business as usual.

We later found out that he took showers with his young daughter, according to her diary.

In this case, even the liberal “fact-checkers” have admitted, “A diary authored by US President Joe Biden’s daughter, Ashley Biden, describes showers taken with her father when she was a child as ‘probably not appropriate.’”

Now, Ashley is a spokesperson for gay rights. She headlined a Biden White House Pride celebration on the South Lawn.

Anthony Bernal, First Lady Jill Biden's chief of staff, just pleaded the Fifth Amendment at his deposition about whether he and /other Biden aides took "unauthorized executive actions during his presidency amid his cognitive decline."

That is a very real case. Forget Epstein. Move on to Joe.

Some in MAGA are claiming Epstein was a Jewish State operative and are blaming Israel for the scandal and using it to condemn its actions in Gaza. If Israel did not use Epstein, it was a failure of Israeli intelligence.

If the Jewish state used Epstein for sexual and/or blackmail purposes, so what? The state of the world is not for goody two-shoes.

Intelligence agencies of the world engage in all kinds of dark and dangerous activities to get people compromised to do their bidding. Some like the KGB routinely murder people at home and abroad. The Russians also use "honey traps" with gorgeous operatives to entrap people.

The crown prince of Saudi Arabia, with whom the U.S. is doing business, had a dissident kidnapped and dismembered. His remains were never found.

If I were Israel, I would use Epstein for intelligence purposes as well, to figure out who could be compromised and who could not. Israel is fighting for its survival and can be expected to do almost anything to combat its enemies and guarantee its existence. We marvel at how Israeli agents seem to know what their enemies are doing and how to eliminate them. Remember the exploding pagers given to Hezbollah members?

This is why, when a "Democratic Socialist" for mayor in New York City proclaims the “global intifada,” Jews are worried. They know a lot of people, including in America’s largest city and in the Democratic Party, are out to get them. They understand the dimensions of the “Red Jihad.”

Let us assume that Jeffrey Epstein was murdered in prison. By murder or suicide, at this point what difference does it make? His life was the subject of a four-part Netflix series “Filthy Rich” that examines his operation of an international child sex trafficking ring. He would be a dummy not to use it on behalf of various intelligence agencies.

The real problem is those who cozied up to this character and wanted access to him, his wealth, or his power. We know who they are. We are suspicious of others, but have no way of identifying all of them.

President Trump was once seen palling around with Epstein but then kicked him out of his exclusive Mar-a-Lago club when he was told Epstein was hitting on young girls. Trump knew when and where to draw the line.

Even so, some in MAGA are now expressing outrage that they don’t know everything about Epstein. Sorry, but these things sometimes get covered-up for reasons of state security.

When you see Democrats milking the matter, you know it has become a partisan fraud, possibly designed to obscure coverage of Joe Biden’s auto-pen presidency.

In the same way that then-candidate Donald J. Trump had brought up the case of the mysterious death of former Clinton aide Vincent Foster, calling it “fishy,” there are too many outstanding questions about the Epstein death. Like Foster, Epstein is a man who knew too much.

I have been one of those who, over the last several decades, has been raising questions about how Foster died, and who was behind it. I have concluded that there are many important people who know the answers but do not want us to know. The media have moved on, even deriding me as a “conspiracy theorist.”

We must conclude, based on the evidence, that the CIA and many other intelligence agencies knew all about Foster as well as Epstein, and that there are many things we will never know.

Here is what we do know: Epstein associated with the crème de la crème of the American establishment.

Epstein, a college dropout, was highly regarded by such elite organizations such as the Trilateral Commission and Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) and even Harvard University. Epstein was accepted into the “Chairman’s Circle” of the CFR’s top donors but the group’s president, Richard Haass, has tried to distance himself from Epstein after his death. However, the Trilateral Commission, whose membership is by invitation only, has not said anything publicly about his involvement with the organization.

As reported by the Harvard Crimson, “He cultivated cozy friendships with top Harvard administrators including a former University president” and pledged a $30 million donation to Harvard to fund its Program for Evolutionary Dynamics, whatever that is.

Research into the agenda of these organizations is as important as finding out those who were rubbing elbows (or other body parts) with Epstein or the young girls in his harem. How could someone with enormous wealth, obtained through mysterious circumstances, reach the pinnacle of power. Was it because of his keen intellect?

It was alleged that every room in his mansions had hidden cameras that filmed everything and everyone, and that the videos of these activities exist somewhere.

There is some controversy over these claims, but let us assume they are true. Now what?

We must conclude that, in some cases, we will never know the entire story because too many intelligence agencies are implicated in his activities. This is the way Washington works. This is the way the world works.

What these “revelations” tell us is that some people knew, and some people did not know, that Epstein was a shady predator and a sex pervert who possibly videotaped the rich and famous having sex with young girls and boys. It turned out that Epstein was a bisexual, with preferences for both sexes. His “clients” were probably men who wanted girls and boys.

We do know that billionaires like Bill Gates associated with Epstein after he was convicted of sex crimes.

The Epstein case reminds me of the Kurt Waldheim affair. He was “exposed” as a Nazi war criminal after he had served at the world body as Secretary-General of the United Nations from 1972 to 1981. Waldheim, a Nazi Lieutenant in World War II, facilitated Nazi war crimes in the Balkans.

Intelligence Services of various countries knew about his collaboration with the Nazis before he took his U.N. job.

Forget about Epstein for a minute and let us examine a very real case, the “auto-pen” president, Joseph R. Biden, Jr., where we have a chance to get real answers.
