

Like it or not, the establishment wants a North American Union

Who Do You Trust? The New American Game!

For there are certain men crept in unawares, who were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ. -Jude 1:4 KJV

Who do we trust today? Certainly not the government or the people we have elected to office. They attack us each and every day from the right and the left. We no longer have a true separation of political parties except when it is convenient for them to release the elephant and donkey to keep America divided creating hate and discontent to make us believe there is a difference.

America having just celebrated her 240th birthday we are on the verge of having it all stolen from us by men and women who believe they know what is best for us and with their egos in place intend to carry this out with tanks, civilian armies, FEMA camps and forced euthanasia.

I am quite certain all the men in nice looking suits are not very happy regarding the vote on the EU. It is the politicians and "suits" who believe a One World Government is the way to go. Well it was not working for the working people of the UK, why would they think it would work for the world. Because they don't care – once they get what they want you become an even greater level of fodder for them to use as nothing more than Human Capital.

The end of our sovereignty and Constitutional guarantees is seen to come in the near future. A police state is in the making to deal with resistors to this diabolical scheme. God and the 10 commandments have been slowly eradicated, as will homeschooling. America is well on the road to reverting back to pre-Christ days of paganism. Will the cops sell their soul for a paycheck and go against the people? You bet they will and most of them (not all) having been indoctrinated/brainwashed will not even see anything wrong with what they are doing.

This has been officially in the works since 1903 with the beginning of maneuvers and institutions delicately orchestrating the gradual reintegration of the United States with Great Britain. The military genius of the plan would be for American armies to unite with Britain in the name of world peace; the common enemy being, WWI, WWII, and the war on terrorism. The second wave would be on an international level to bring order to a disorderly global market while merging financial and regulatory authorities. It was the money of one man that started the ball rolling.

In 1902 when Cecil John Rhodes, the British aristocrat and founder of the Rhodes Scholarship died, he funded the merger by using his gold and diamond fortune as a means to bring America back under British rule, believing the British was the finest RACE in the world. Those agreeing with this mission included some of America's wealthiest industrialists who pledged in 1903 allegiance to the British Crown when they founded the Pilgrims Society. The Pilgrims Society it states was formed to promote peace and good-will and Anglo-American Good Fellowship between the United States and Great Britain. Who is at the helm of this organization – the current king or queen of England and a member of the royal family attends the great dinners. This group is made up of the Pilgrims of Great Britain and the Pilgrims of the United States.

This powerful, secret society still meets today and originally included those who manipulated Congress to support the creation of the Federal Reserve. Who are the actual members today? That is information you will not find from their web sites as there is a special link for members. If you were doing good for the world wouldn't you want people to know who you are?

It is the men of the Pilgrim Society who determined the best way to re-unite the countries was to get America to come in on the side of the British during WWI, continuing through with World War II. Now the British have come to our aid with the war on Iraq and the War on Terrorism.

Rhode's fortune also helped to fund the creation of the Royal Institute for International Affairs-RIIA in England, which is a key think-tank creating ideas and procedures in how best to merge our countries. The US counterpart is our Council on Foreign Relations. It was the Scottish industrialist turned American, Andrew Carnegie, who endowed America with its library system in his belief it would be good to re-unite the two countries into the "British-American Union."

So how does all of this affect the North American Union (NAU)? The NAU is just a part of the slow political and economic evolution to move the U.S. into a free trade zone like the one set up in the European Union (EU). Unlike the open fanfare of Europe into their common use of currency the integration of the United States is being blacked out by the media. It is being treated as the "deep dark secret" of all time.

No one in major media wants to tell the masses that their country and Constitution is in the shredder. Unfortunately, it is not just the major media, but our own elected representatives who are not explaining what they are doing to bring about the demise of America.

Just last month the “#3 Amigos”, Obama, Trudeau and Nieto went to Canada to meet once again to try and figure out how to move the NAU along. The antics did nothing but make these 3 look like school boys trying to pull off a 3-way handshake to making sure all they did was laugh and joke in front of the cameras. The Canadian Parliament chanting “four more years” after Obama’s almost one hour speech was the icing on the cake. This meeting I suppose wasn’t set up to be for laughs even if they ended up as the joke of the year.

Obama at the end of his 2nd term is being looked at through rose colored glasses, with Trudeau as Prince Charming, still on his election honeymoon and Nieto with ratings in the toilet due to corruption, scandals, economy and human rights.

Obama’s focus seemed to be to reassure the other 2 clowns that the coming election would not change a thing. He sought to reassure his counterparts in that a potential Donald Trump presidency wouldn’t throw cross-border ties into turmoil, even as he pushed back on the GOP candidate’s platform.

Expressing confidence that immigration wouldn’t be shut off and trade deals would persist, Obama argued against the type of protectionist policies that Trump has espoused on the campaign trail and at the same time casting Trump as a failed historical archetype. Obama spoke for “his” America stating, “We’ve had times throughout our history where anti-immigration sentiment is exploited by demagogues,” Obama said. “The language is identical. But guess what? They kept coming, and they kept coming because America offered possibility for their children and grandchildren.”

I need to remind Americans the NAU has been on the move since 1992 having previously been set up by George H.W. Bush in readiness for Clinton. Setting up the free trade zones was the bottom foot of the ladder. Referring to it at the time as the "Free Trade Areas of the Americas we will have a common currency, regional central bank (the Federal Reserve), and eventually will have a regional parliament with locally elected representatives to it.

The next rung up (and do you see any correlation to Agenda 21 building here?) was regionalism. Not a new issue for the elite, in 1945 when the United Nations was set up they established regional commissions for the entire world. Ours is called the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean-ECLAC. While NAFTA is the first step to complete hemispheric integration, in 1994 when NAFTA was entered into force, the Clinton Administration called for a meeting of the presidents and prime ministers of the other 32 countries of this hemisphere that December to discuss this integration.

At the 3rd Summit of the Americas held in Quebec in 2001, we saw the gathering from 34 different countries heads of state (North and South America except Cuba) and government along with an entourage of big business. The common hemispheric issues and challenges that were to be identified included improved access to education, poverty alleviation, strengthening human rights and democracy and economic integration. This all sounds good but keep in mind if it was so good for all of us, then why all the secrecy?

If all the workings of these Summits, Bilderberg's, CFR, NAU and any other society are truly working to end poverty, eradicate discrimination, enhance human rights and all the other things they put on their bio's – then why all the SECRET events?

Additionally, the signing of all in what they called the beginning of the Constitution for the 21st century, "Words Into Deeds", at the 2nd Summit in Miami is registered as State Department document No. 10536.

Bill Clinton is quoted in regard to the "Words into Deeds" as saying, "For the first time ever, we established architecture for hemispheric relations from the Arctic circle in the north to Argentina in the south. We created a work plan from which the democratic governments of the Americas could be judged by their people. We established a follow-up process to ensure that the decisions we reached at the Summit would be carried out."

The participants did make a statement titled "The Declaration of Quebec City" which includes the quotation: "We, the democratically elected Heads of State and Government of the Americas, have met in Quebec City at our Third Summit, to renew our commitment to hemispheric integration".

At the same time the largest anti-globalization demonstrations to date (A20), ever held were going on outside the summit. Protestors were guessed to number 50,000 – 150,000.

In order to implement these initiatives, the 34 ministers representing labor, transportation, finance, justice, energy, telecommunications, science and technology, education, anti-crime initiatives, trade and commerce, and health and human services, have been meeting and working together since 1994 to create a new infrastructure for the integrated structure of our countries.

The second installment of the on-going hemispheric integration occurred on July 27, 2005 when Congress passed the Central American Free Trade Agreement-CAFTA which will eliminate barriers to trade and investment among the countries of Costa Rica, the Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, and the United States.

Remember, political parties are out the window with President from both sides of the road playing in this very serious claim.

To get Republican legislators to vote for CAFTA, George W. Bush allowed the earmarking of $24.2B to the 2005 transportation bill dubbed SAFETEU-LU to persuade hold-outs to sell the sovereignty of their country.

First, Americans need to understand that regional integration is the complete demise of what is left of the United States of America as we know it. Secondly, let's back up to how Great Britain is involved in this relating to the U.S., not forgetting Britain wants the US totally broken down and "returned" to them.

Unlike the 17th Century battles fought on American soil to give us our independence from Great Britain, the final battle lines have been drawn and it supports the supporting of the United Nations with the gradual reintegration of the United States with Great Britain.

In 1931 Britain took a large step by passing the Statute of Westminster in which the UK established legislative equality between the self-governing dominions of their empire and the mother country. As a result the Commonwealth was birthed and between 1946 and 1989 Britain gave "independence" to 41 of its colonies.

What does that mean? It means each of those countries who still owe allegiance to the "Mother" country or "Queenie" have each been given a vote at the United Nations and at the various UN agencies, commissions and organs. While the United States receives one vote at the United Nations, the Commonwealth receives 54. While the US receives one vote at the World Trade, the Commonwealth receives 46, and so forth. This type of imbalance is also seen at the World Health Organization, the World Bank, and the International Monetary Fund. In other words, the British run the world through the international level that they set up!

As we reach 22 years of the elite's manipulation and the old North American Free Trade Agreement it is obvious they intend to move forward. With regard to NAFTA, let us not forget Canada is part of that Commonwealth and is a parliamentary democracy with a constitutional monarchy. The proper title of the queen is, "Elizabeth the Second by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom, Canada and Her other Realms and Territories; Queen, Head of the Commonwealth, Defender of the Faith."

I think the question should be asked, "Does the Queen of Canada become the Queen of the United States, NAU or even the NWO?" As such when you consider the FTAA, there are 13 commonwealth countries in this hemisphere which means we are outvoted in our own hemisphere!

Why do I continue to give you this information? Because like our children not being taught the proper history of our country, unless you are informed as to what is happening in that "deep dark closet", not only will you not be prepared, you will also not understand what is happening or how we have reached this point.

The manipulation which has been taken to ruin our country by the elites and elected's, undermining our good faith and trust eliminates any respect we would have formerly given to them. Back stabbers and crooks need to be in jail especially when they intend to not only starve and/or allow you to freeze to death, have systematically stripped you of your Constitutional rights and plan to put euthanasia in place.

Our last hope is Trump and those who prayerfully think as he does to bring this country back to her former strength and glory!
