

Mr. President: No Deals With Iran, Only Regime Change

In occupied Iran last Wednesday, the Islamic rulers stated plans to restart some nuclear activity as Trump sent warships closer to the area. Well, to be clear, the Islamic Republic of Iran never stopped its ambition to develop means to advance a nuclear delivery system.

Devotees of Islamic ideology, whether the Islamic Republic of Iran, the Islamic State (meaning all Sunni States) or other Islamic actors around the globe wish to accelerate their own apocalyptic vision of the "End Times."

Iranian leaders hold to a Shia brand. The Sunnis leaders hold to their own version. But both are obsessed by a belief that their messiah is coming. The Iran Shiites believe they must lay the groundwork for the messiah (Mahdi) to come and build their Kingdom or Imamate. The Sunni counterparts aren't really waiting. They have started with Stealth Jihad inside the United States and in every Western country in the world, until such time that jihadists are strong enough to declare a Caliphate.

After years of watching, researching and experimenting by our well-equipped intelligence agencies, we know now that the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) is yet another toothless U.N. body that is in for a whirlwind of frustration when it inspects Iran's nuclear weapons' sites. The provisions of the agreement negotiated by former Secretary of State John Kerry and his team of sycophants make Neville Chamberlain's "peace in our time" negotiations with Hitler look like a stroke of genius.

The American people deserve to know the truth of why we are still negotiating with a terrorist state that took the American diplomats hostage for 444 days.

Let us get to the bottom of this scenario! Former President George W. Bush, at his many annual State of the Union addresses, spoke many times about the plight of the Iranian people. He once said, "If the Iranian people stand up for themselves, the United States will stand with them."

Throughout his presidency, the Iranians, of all people, hailed Bush as a courageous President and an angel of freedom. While his popularity was surging in Iran, his approval rating at home was going down. Finally, the Iranian people realized that Bush's love affair was all about Tehran's nuclear ambition, not freedom and liberty for the Iranian people. Like his predecessors, it was "all hat, no cattle."

As time went on, Bush vowed that the Islamic Republic would never be allowed to achieve its goal of developing nuclear bombs on his watch. He kept using all kinds of threats and promises, in order to persuade the mullahs to drop the nuclear project, to no avail. When a belligerent end-of-the-world, Holocaust-denier Ahmadinejad, became the Islamic Republic of Iran's selected president, things started heating up. Time and again, the bellicose Ahmadinejad kept vilifying the 'Great Satan' and its sidekick Israel for having the gall to demand Iran abandon its program while his two main adversaries had their own arsenal of nuclear weapons. Ahmadinejad informed the world that what the Islamic Republic does is within its own national rights.

We are now witnessing the same pattern with the Trump administration.

Fast forward:

With the last administration at the helm, Iran and six world powers known as the P5+1 (China, France, Germany, Russia, the United Kingdom, and the United States) reached a nuclear deal on July 14, 2015, known as 'Iran Nuclear Deal' that intended to limit Iran's nuclear program and enhanced monitoring in exchange for relief from nuclear sanctions. This appeared to benefit the Islamic Republic while leaving the door open for Iran secretly to continue with its nuclear ambition.

On May 2018, President Trump, withdrew from the Iran nuclear deal, and restated a crippling sanction on Iran.

The best predictor of the future is the past. The Mullahs are proven vicious mass killers. The religious fanatic mullahs' record is one of deception, dissimulation, treachery, violence and much more. These Quran-trained and directed agents of a wrathful Allah can never be trusted. They are master schemers. They have been in the business of deceptions for centuries. They have perfected the art of duplicity, doubletalk, double-dealing and treachery. Prudence demands better proof, much better proof. History will prove that President Trump did the right thing.

This raw, despicable regime represents the inevitable result of Islam, and its calling card of terrorism is now marching from the Iranian focal point to all parts of the globe. For the past forty years, people in the West, especially in the United States, have been on the receiving end of a very sophisticated and convoluted campaign of disinformation and propaganda, dished out by the Islamic Republic's Ministry of Intelligence and Security (MOIS) and its lobbyist organizations in the U.S. MOIS, learned its methodology directly from the Soviet KGB and many of the Islamists who supported Khomeini were trained in the old Soviet Union.

My advice to the current administration is don't let down your guard and make sure that no one lulls you into the deadly trap of complacency.

The United States has, in secular Iranians, its best friends in the entire Islamic world. It is imperative for the U.S. to help these Iranians to dislodge the vicious doomsday Mullahs, not as an act of altruism, but as a prudent measure of enlightened self-interest.
