

NewsWithViews Exclusive: Dem. Prez Wannabe Kamala Harris Connected to Deep State and Clinton Organized Crime

By NWV Senior Political News Writer, Jim Kouri

The memorable – and disturbing – Senate hearings for the confirmation of Judge Brett Kavanaugh as Supreme Court Associate Justice was but a preview of what Americans can expect from the minions and useful idiots of the Deep State.

Of particular interest was Sen. Kamala Harris, 55, D-California, and her vitriolic attacks on the legal scholar seeking confirmation he so obviously deserves especially since his IQ is easily much higher than that of Harris, Joe Biden. Elizabeth Warren, “Beto” O’Rourke and the other leftists seeking the Democratic Party’s nomination. for president. He also displays three-times their maturity.

Although many Americans are aware that Harris’ climb up the political ladder allegedly began the “old fashion way:” on a motel bed with former San Francisco Mayor Willie Brown, who remains a powerful political figure in California. There are other stories about Sen. Harris such as her propensity for exaggerating her past and her self-congratulating description of her education and her legal training. Yet she appears ready and able to ride-out most controversies and is still considered a contender by the Trump-hating, Democratic Party water-carriers in the majority of the nation's newsrooms.

However, one element of the True Kamala Harris Story that the news media avoids reporting is the connection between Sen. Harris and her Deep State operative sister, Maya Harris, 52, who worked closely with the 2016 Clinton campaign and was part of Hillary's inner-circle.

In fact, during FBI Director James Comey sham investigation of Hillary Clinton's suspicious shenanigans, Maya Harris was one of the suspects given total immunity even before she said one word to FBI agents about Clinton's email, her private server or any other charges against the Clinton State Department and Bill and Hillary's financial Quid Pro Quo scam.

Maya Lakshmi Harris (born January 30, 1967) is a lawyer, public policy advocate, and television commentator. Her leftist ideology made her an excellent political analyst for the deceptive and seditious MSNBC.

Her trip into the Deep State came about in 2015 when he was appointed as one of three senior policy advisors to lead the development of an agenda for Hillary Clinton's 2016 presidential campaign.

She also was a senior fellow at the Center for American Progress (CAP). From 2008 until she took her current position, she was Vice President for Democracy, Rights and Justice at the Ford Foundation. CAP's website presents statistics that are at best questionable especially about President Donald Trump.

Prior to joining the Ford Foundation, Maya served as the Executive Director of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) of Northern California. Before joining the ACLU, the former law school dean (Lincoln Law School of San Jose) was a Senior Associate at Policy Link. She has authored two publications which include a report highlighting community-centered policing practices nationwide and an advocacy manual for police reform.

Meanwhile, Maya's older sister went a different route within the Democratic Party. She decided the best way to move up the ladder of success and prosperity was to latch onto Willie Brown is a sleazebag who arguably ran the most corrupt mayoral office ever seen in San Francisco, but Harris, who went on to steal the election for California's Attorney General in 2010, made the right choice for her "Sugar Daddy," a retired state cop noted.

"Los Angeles District Attorney Steve Cooley led Harris by 34,000 votes after more than 7 million were counted. But after provisional ballots were counted, she was declared the winner by approximately 50,000 votes," according to former California Highway Patrol officer Steven Dutton.

At one point, Cooley was up by 62,000 votes, and in panic mode, Harris reached out to her good buddy California Secretary of State Debra Bowen, whose role was to certify the votes. That's when thousands of Cooley's votes just disappeared.
