

Nikki Haley Had a Chance at Greatness

By Lex Greene

March 15, 2024

Thousands of Americans who have been dog whistle trained to “hate Trump” despite no evidence ever being presented against him to prove he is guilty of anything he’s been accused of, took to Nikki Haley in the 2024 GOP Presidential race. Among 15 challengers to Trump, she was the last challenger standing. But after losing all but two primaries, D.C. and Bernie Sanders land, her campaign for President (or Vice President) ended abruptly the morning after Super Tuesday.

Indeed, Nikki had a chance to not only “make history,” but to actually do something great for her country and every American citizen.

Her policy positions are far closer to that of the Democrat Party than the GOP. This explains why she won the two most far left primaries... D.C., (the most democrat city in America) and Vermont, Sanders socialist country, via “open primaries” where democrats were able to vote in the GOP primaries.

According to Nikki’s campaign and her fans, Nikki could beat Joe Biden in a head-to-head race, by at least a 5-point margin. Based upon this theoretical claim, she could have eliminated Biden by running against him for the DNC nomination. If Nikki had truly been for America, that’s exactly what she would have done.

Had Nikki run against Biden for the DNC nomination, as someone allegedly opposed to the O'Biden regime and their anti-American policies, she may have defeated Joe for the DNC nomination, setting up a general election race between Democrat Nikki Haley and Republican Donald Trump.

In this situation, America would have had two choices better than O'Biden come November and Obama's 3rd term behind the Biden facade' would have come to an immediate end.

But instead, Nikki attempted to run as a Republican by using the same lies about Trump that the DNC has used since 2015. Even California Democrat Governor Gavin Newsome openly referred to Nikki as "democrats best surrogate against Trump," who has always been the clear 2024 GOP nominee for President.

As a result, Nikki lost her bid for the GOP nomination in a massive landslide loss to Trump, seen as nothing more than what Newsome said she was, a surrogate for the reelection of Joe Biden. She not only eliminated any chance of ever becoming President, but any chance of becoming a Vice Presidential running mate as well.

On the heels of a stolen 2020 election and three years of horrific disastrous performance by O'Biden, Trump was a shoo-in for the 2024 GOP nomination and every awake American knew it, which is why democrats have tried every dirty trick in Mao's book of dirty tricks to eliminate Trump's ability to even appear on a ballot, all of which will fail.

80-million+ Make America Great Again voters were never going to support anyone but Trump in 2024, and no matter what happens next, they never will. Contrary to false propaganda on the matter, Trump supporters are not Trump followers. They are pissed off American patriots determined to Make America Great Again for future generations, who happened to choose outsider Trump for their mission.

Trump supporters are simply AMERICA supporters. They want national sovereignty, security, justice, peace, and prosperity for every American citizen, even those not smart enough to vote it for themselves.

Nikki had a chance to be part of Making America Great Again. But instead, she took the bait from pre-programmed Trump-haters and took the road most traveled, doing the bidding of the Democrat Party and their O'Biden reelection attempt for a 4th Obama term.

I'd much rather see a general election race between Haley (D) and Trump (R) in the fall, than face another corrupt election process designed to keep Obama in power for a 4th term.

If Nikki was what her fans think she is, they would prefer that too, and Nikki would have challenged Joe for the DNC nomination instead of helping the DNC attack Trump, the clear GOP nominee from day one.

The error, or was it an intentional operation, likely ended any political future for Nikki Haley. It's all in the history books now...

The only open item is what her fans are going to do next?

Half of her primary votes came from registered democrats who crossed over in the open GOP primaries but will likely vote democrat in the general election. The other half will face a decision to either close ranks with 80-million+ Trump supporters to defeat the 4th Obama term hidden behind a demented old political criminal of over 40-years now...or they will vote for the worst President in US history out of their unfounded, childish, and ill-advised hatred for Trump.

Hate is a terrible thing...especially when it may cost every American the future of freedom and liberty. It's not logical, ethical, moral, or conservative. It's just emotion driven.

Nikki could have been important to the future of the USA. But she chose to hate and to do the bidding of democrats instead, and unless Biden wins and throws her a bone for her help, her political future just ended.

© 2024 Lex Greene – All Rights Reserved

E-Mail Lex Greene: LexGreene24@gmail.com