

Satanism and the New World Order

SATANIC RITUAL ABUSE: Satanism – the worship of Satan/Lucifer – is a dark and stark reality; that is, it is not the horror fiction found in the old movies. This reality is why the world seems weird and senseless and why the concept of “common sense” is now so uncommon. Satanic worship runs as a “red” thread in certain families as well as Hollywood and oversees the New World Order (NWO). To be perfectly frank, today Satan rules the roost. The coterie of kooks involves those born into the Illuminati bloodlines, an entity based upon hereditary that runs from one generation to the next and is specifically designed to run us ordinary folks into the ground.

There are also perpetrators who tend to be victims having experienced traumas in their pasts, having the unfortunate penchant to pass on their psychoses to their progeny. These master manipulators are not bound together by basic human ties such as race or traditional religion but rather, by an adherence to Satanism. This produces a willingness to be obedient to dark forces that control their thoughts and actions, becoming the driving force that motivates all the moral horrors – pedophilia, murderous violence, deception and lunacy – that seem to envelop We the People and our world.

The late FBI chief, Ted Gunderson, who died in 2011, began investigating this phenomenal phenomenon, concluding that the world was run by the aforesaid Satanic cult that, among other horrors, operates an international child trafficking and pedophilia ring selling children into slavery and transporting them to places such as Washington, DC to participate in sex orgies conducted by the rich and famous including politicians. With at least 100,000 kids going missing each year, there is an ample supply of victims, and the authorities are fully compliant in the cover-up.

This cult of sexual perpetrators includes a broad range of professionals including judges, officers of the law at all levels, politicians, lawyers, celebrities and athletes. Satanists and black magicians love raping small children in order to allegedly “steal their energy” during the weird rituals conducted as a part of this activity. To halt the horrors, we need to first accept that the conspiracy operates all over the US and the world. Pretending that it is just another “conspiracy theory” is what has permitted it to go on for so long.

Kathy Collins, a noted survivor of the satanic system came forward a few months ago to explicate all the various horrors she underwent that seem to cover the complete panoply of abuses people undergo in the underworld system. This included being brought as a child into Project Monarch, a sub-project of the MK Ultra CIA mind control program. Her initiation into Satanic rituals began at age 3 when she was forced to drink blood and was later made into a child prostitute, and then was experimented on with drugs, electroshock treatments and strobe lights.

She was carted away by the cartel to the infamous Bohemian Grove in “Calipornia” at age 5 and was tied naked to a stone altar where she was surrounded by 3 hooded figures who tried to “steal her soul”. She was forced to watch child sacrifice at Bohemian Grove. She fortunately had the fortitude to be one of the few who could not be broken. After many years of working through the emotional issues connected with the memory of the abuse and seeing it as a sort of gift that enabled her to grow to see how truly powerful and divine she, and actually everyone can be and is.

There is no more empowering way to face the NWO conspiracy – and all that it entails! – than to see it as a challenge that must be overcome, and in doing so, become a better and more powerful person able to face the future. There's probably not a single person alive who has not felt they lost part of their soul, drive, enthusiasm, or creativity due to past emotional trauma. Many of us have been carrying around this emotional baggage for decades without ever managing to overcome it. The truth is that you can reclaim your full humanity and turn your painful past into a powerful future if you work on it in the present. Satanic ritual abuse victims – those who survive, that is! – should seek out others who have been through it to help one another recover and move on. If any reader knows of a support group for those seeking healing to overcome these traumas, please share that information with me and others.
