

Tavistock Institute Major Tool Of The Puppetmasters, Part 1

Many within the body politic are unaware of the Tavistock Institute; additional millions also remain ignorant of this institution of social engineering by both sides of their political spectrum. The debacle that was recently conducted by the U.S. Senate regarding the selection of Judge Kavanaugh to be the 9th member on the Supreme Court was an exhibition of blatant fanaticism within the Democratic members of the senate. The question must be asked why so many of masses of citizenry, especially of the left's persuasion, exhibit what can only be described as fanatical. It was an unnatural phenomenon of "group think" as though they were mesmerized in lock step by a powerful outside force.

The next question to ask how did this just occur? The fact is it didn't just occur; it took many years of pre-planning before being actually organized by the Tavistock Institute. The following examples stem back to the revolution within Russia and the murder of the Romanoff dynasty which ended any successor of Tsar Nicholas II and his family in 1917.

Example 1

THE ENEMIES OF THE TZAR CELEBRATE HIS ABDICATION IN AMERICA

On March 23, 1917, a mass meeting was held at Carnegie Hall to celebrate the abdication of Nicholas II which meant the impossibility of any succession of tsarist rule of Russia. Thousands of socialists, Marxists, nihilists and anarchists attended to cheer the event. On page two of the New York Times, Jacob Schiff's letter regretted that he could not attend the event, but it was read to the audience wherein he stated that for seven long years he strove for this occasion.

In the February 3, 1949 issue of the New York Journal American, Schiff's grandson, John, was quoted by columnist Cholly Knickerbocker as saying that his grandfather had given about $20 million dollars (of his vast fortune) for the triumph of communism in Russia. During that period, wages of the working American averaged $15 per month. Two cents for a bag of hard candy!

Example # 2 of the string pullers:

While Russia was still an ally of America, Great Britain and France in 1916-1917 the Menshevik leader Trotsky tempted to return to Petrograd, but on his way he was arrested by Canadian and British naval personnel, when the ship which he was traveling on the S.S. Kristianiajord put in at Halifax. He had in his possession $10,000 for travel expenses. He was recognized as a threat to the best interests of England, Canada's mother country in the Commonwealth. Russia was an ally of England in WWI, which was raging in Europe. Anything that weakens Russia weakens England and strengthens Germany. Trotsky was arrested as a German agent and taken as a prisoner of war. It wasn't long before mysterious forces both in England and the United States intervened on Trotsky's behalf urging his immediate release.

The head of the British Secret Service in America at the time was Sir William Wiseman, who became friends with Edward Mandell House an American and also agent for the Rothschild interests. He became the adviser to Teddy Roosevelt and later to President Wilson. House advised Wiseman that President Wilson wished to have Trotsky released and the British Admiralty issued orders on April 21st that allowed Trotsky to be on his way to Russia. Wilson's decision opened the door that allowed Trotsky, the head of the Menshevik revolutionary competing against the Bolshevik Lenin for control of Russia. Trotsky opened the door to end Russia's alliance with England and France in the war against Germany. According to Professor C Sutton Ph.D., he wrote the book the Wall Street and the Bolshevik Revolution. (Arlington House, New Rochelle NY 1974 P 25) The evidence as outlined above speaks to the power of the wealthy puppet-masters before the introduction of the Tavistock Institute in 1945.

Example: #3

Lincoln supported compromise, a vacillating position that the state of Missouri and other states could still have slavery exempted, if still at war. Those states exempted including Missouri were Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, Tennessee as well as portions of Louisiana and Virginia as of the effective date of January 1, 1863. Lincoln was praised in some quarters while president, but criticized as a scoundrel, horse-swapper the weakest man in high places. Obviously the power brokers in the Republicans in the North guided the weak president while condemning him for his contrary positions, obfuscations and delays. Lincoln had the image of one driven by self-doubt where in later years would be recognized by those who observe the flaws in what is called America's capitulation of the lowest denominator where chaos, and rioting of the masses are subject to psychological mind control. It took leaders with power and money to pull the strings of the puppets.

The American Civil War was propagandized by northern money interests as a war to free the slaves. The main excuse to invade and destroy the South was land, political power to seize the lands of slave owners including all of their assets for selfish profit and to reduce the South to a barren plot destroyed. There were the Carpetbaggers who arrived in mass to profit from the Reconstruction and there were the white Southerners Scallywags who collaborated with northern Republicans also for personal profit. The Union Army was stationed in the South ostensibly to keep peace within the occupied areas while in reality they ignored the crimes against the southern whites, and enforced severe punishment on those weakened southerners who attempted to protect their lands and possessions. The Federal Government ignored these abuses which were controlled by wealthy Republicans who ignored what was transpiring to their own regret.

Sadly, the Civil War could have easily been avoided since the slave owners were forced to pay preposterous prices for the importation of smuggled slaves while simultaneously the invention of the cotton gin caused the number of slaves to be too costly and superfluous. Slavery was doomed when profit disappeared; but, of course, that was not the real purpose of those string-pullers of the North.

The consequences, after the soldiers left, the whites in the Deep South were terrorized because of the injustices imposed upon them. They needed a means to protect themselves, so they employed the support of the KLAN. The emergence of the KLU KLUX KLAN developed into a powerful, yet fearful means that later developed into revenge of those blacks who fronted for the Carpetbaggers in pseudo positions as mayors and other positions of authority.

The Klan didn't just limit their actions, but conducted terror throughout the black communities by hangings and threats to prevent the blacks from voting. They instituted and coalesced with what was to be an emerging Democrat Party. The result became the focal point of the Democrat Party unspoken as law, but enforcement became the modus for illegal segregation; voting right constrictions; even separate water fountains, public toilets, theaters, entertainment centers, the beaches and Black education facilities were the worst level of quality to perpetuate ignorance.

Senator Harry Bird, a Democrat from Virginia and Majority Leader of the U.S. Senate, during his political life as a Democrat, was a member of the KLU KLUX KLAN. (June 10, 1887 – October 29, 1966.)

The entire purpose was to keep Black People limited and slowly, during the following years, offered them social benefits to induce Blacks to become financially dependent. Thus, today the majority of our Black population belongs to the Democratic Party; the Party that still uses them as tools for political purposes during elections, and encourages them to believe in Communism, Socialism and Obamaism within a one world government.
