

Term Limits: Hit The Road Jack And Don't Come Back

U.S. Senators Charles Schumer, John McCain, Diane Feinstein and Barbara Boxer provide excellent examples for the need for term limits.

U.S. House members Nancy Pelosi, Maxine Waters, John Lewis and John Conyers, Jr. prove the need for term limits in the House.

At 80, Senator John McCain, (R-AZ), fails to function with any understanding of what's going on in America in 2017. California Senator Diane Feinstein faces her 85th birthday coming up. Totally out of touch with what's happening in modern day California! Barbara Boxer, 76, clings to power with little comprehension of the calamities facing California.

Each of them should have turned themselves out to pasture 20 years ago. It takes brains, vitality, energy and comprehension of current realities to guide a nation in the 21st century.

Instead, over the age of 80, many, many people face dementia challenges, loss of memory and the inability to make articulate solutions or decisions.

As in the case of House member Nancy Pelosi, 77, her ranting in front of Congress illustrates a desperate need for term limits. John Conyers from Michigan tips the scale at 86 years of age. Maxine Waters of California and John Lewis illustrate the need for Congressional members to possess at least a high school education. In her last speech, she demanded we win the war with Korea. She wants to impeach Trump after a month in office. Lewis told the press, "Trump isn't a legitimate president."

If you visited the offices of our over-70 crowd of Congressional members, oftentimes, aides cover for their bosses' shortcomings. Speechwriters make them sound like competent elected officials—but in reality, Maxine Waters, Nancy Pelosi and John Conyers remain totally disconnected from current realities facing America.

Why do constituents re-elect them term after term?

That must be the question of the century! If you look at Senator John McCain, he signed the 1986 Immigration Amnesty to give instant citizenship to 4,000,000 illegal aliens. He promised to secure the borders so that wouldn't happen again. Thirty-one years later he wants another amnesty of over 20 million illegal aliens. He failed his state of Arizona, which suffers hundreds of thousands of illegal aliens—which siphon taxes from schools, medical care, anchor babies, ESL courses, free breakfast and lunch programs, illegal workers, fraud, unpaid taxes by employers, crime, drunk driving, rapes, robberies, shoplifting and car thefts.

In other words, he turned his own state into a Third World country.

Senator Charles Schumer, (D-NY), undermines the current president based on party rather than responsibility to the American people. Instead of confirming cabinet appointees, Schumer creates inane headlines like the Russians pulled the levers in the voting booths across this country. If Hillary Clinton had won the White House, you would never hear a word about the Russians.

Schumer undercuts Trump's pick for the Supreme Court. If Hillary Clinton had won, Schumer would have rubber stamped the nomination.

British Lord Acton said, "Power corrupts; and absolute power corrupts absolutely."

Our Constitutional Republic needs fresh blood, fresh minds, and fresh bodies representing 328 million American citizens. It needs new ideas, workable plans and forward thinking leaders from all 50 states.

Einstein said, "The problems in the world today are so enormous, they cannot be solved with the level of thinking that created them."

Therefore, we need to rid ourselves of the Schumer's, McCain's and Feinstein's, et al., who got us into the mess we're in today. Since the U.S. electorate that keeps electing those old ditties cannot grasp the Acton quote, we need to help them and ourselves down the road to a higher calling with term limits.

U.S. Senators: 12 years maximum terms.

U.S. House of Representatives: 6 years maximum terms.

A huge percentage of Congressional members prove themselves career corrupt criminals. If they weren't, you would see changes for the better instead of everything for the worse.

With term limits, you wouldn't see every toaster, ladder, washer, dryer, refrigerator and 90 percent of our mercantile goods arriving from China. You wouldn't see $19.5 trillion in national debt because honest politicians serving our country would fix that financial mess instead of kicking the can down the road. You wouldn't see our borders totally open and 20 to 31 million illegal aliens roaming around our country. You wouldn't see trade deficits because they are killing our country. We could manufacture the same products with our workers.

You would see responsible citizen politicians ready to shut down our borders to mass immigration because it's destroying the fabric of our society. We don't need more immigrants, but we do need more jobs for our 48 million citizens subsisting on food stamps.

Term limits: their time has come.
