

The Coup of 1913, Replaced Tariffs With Income Taxes

There is only one place to get workers for the returning industries, and that is from the able-bodied multi-generational Communist welfare recipients in our Inner cities. Many of them are functionally illiterate, so remedial education will be required. On the plus side, many can speak a variation of English and have had free healthcare. From personal experience, I know that one of the big problems will be to get them up in the morning to go to work. Personal responsibility is not a Communist virtue in the inner cities.

These people don't want to work because the federal establishment has been unconstitutionally paying them not to work in numerous ways for generations. For many, their major occupation is fornicating and crime, resulting in prison and an early death. But we know from many great examples that these people can succeed as productive members of our society.

The problems are the government's failure to educate the people and welfare from conception to the grave. All welfare for the able-bodied (including single mothers) must cease. Single mothers should be given daycare so they can work, and fathers, not the public, should pay their fair share.

You can't hire illegal invaders because most of them have no education, no skills, don't speak English, or have not had adequate medical care. More importantly, they don't integrate well, if at all. They must be deported, regardless of the cost. Employers who hire them can and should be charged with treason (see Constitution), but I would not advocate it, as lesser charges with stiff fines will suffice.

One of the major objections against deporting illegals is their usefulness as farm workers. Farmers can get all the legal migrant farm workers they need but they don't want to pay for the additional costs involved.

Even if we get the workers we need by removing unconstitutional welfare from the able-bodied, our economy could still fail because a majority of government is a criminal enterprise, enriching only the wealthy.

We can't afford silly programs rife with kickbacks designed by bureaucrats in the Administrative State. Nor can we afford unconstitutional foreign aid, wars for profit, or supporting our troops in 150 countries (like canaries in a coal mine). Most members of both parties in Congress who vote for these actions should be voted out of office, for they are drenched-in-blood criminals.

The illegal invaders, with support from the blue cities and states, likely will require federal troops to remove them with deadly force. The Federal Establishment must cut off all federal funds to blue cities and states who don't cooperate. Unconstitutional Federal money has been financing Communism in the inner cities.

The Coup of 1913, which replaced tariffs with income taxes, allowed this treason to occur. The Federal Government was totally financed by tariffs and excise taxes until the Coup of 1913. Note, it is impossible to have a Constitutional Republic with Federal Income Taxes.

God Bless You and the Republic
