

The Enemy is Within

Decades ago, Communist defectors from the ranks of the KGB and GRU (top tier special forces) painstakingly laid out the procedures and processes of the machine they served. They wrote documents, met with the CIA counter-espionage unit, were interviewed by serious journalists, and even wrote books.

They all warned a sleepy America and anyone who would listen that Communism had changed its strategy from militant takeover to subterfuge, and that there was a strategic long term plan for takeover of the West (America, Europe, all of the world).

Yuri Bezmenov called it ideological subversion. He said they use ideological subversion active measures for psychological warfare “to change the perception of reality of every American to such an extent that despite the abundance of information, no one is able to reach sensible conclusions in the interest of defending themselves, their families, their community, and their country.”

He actually called it a brainwashing process, a very slow, gradual brainwashing process that had four stages. The first stage is called demoralization and takes decades. They expose Marxist and Leninist ideologies in a steady stream for at least three generations of students, where there is little to no resistance or challenge of counter-balances for the basic values of Americanism.

The demoralization period sounds like the Democrat modus operandi. It is a steady barrage of discrediting and ridiculing traditional values and institutions, especially the nuclear family. Moral relativism and permissiveness are heavily promoted and encouraged. Patriotism is shamed and repackaged as something to feel guilty about; they denigrate America and its founding.

The second stage is called destabilization and takes years. They infiltrate the educational systems, media and government institutions with Marxist and Leninist ideologies and introduce policies of the same wherever they can get them in. They foster divisions in society like racial, gender, sexual, feminist, and socioeconomic revolutions and encourage protests, riots, and general civil unrest all the while undermining government and traditional ideology in government policies (e.g. defunding the police).

The third stage is crisis. They collapse the economy and social structures, foment union strikes and widespread civil unrest. Terrorism and crime ramps up in this stage, exponentially. The societal environment is one of overall discontent and hopelessness. It is at the tail of this stage they import an occupational army, [think UN here] sometimes declaring martial law, but definitely replacing the home government.

[I'd say be careful here. I think when Trump wins they'd like to augment this setting of crisis so they can suspend the Constitution and implement "emergency measures".]

He calls the last stage normalization. They implement the "new government", squash all dissent and opposition, and develop the new normal for the country they've taken over. It will be a communist dictatorship and personal liberty will be a thing of the past. The old form of government will no longer exist.

I will not do this topic well, as there are far better and more informed mouthpieces for it, which I will direct you to in the footnotes. I would implore you to spend some time really looking at the knowledge these clarions have amassed.

Gorbachev touted (and even wrote a book about) "Perestroika" (loosely defined "to reform") and Glasnost ("open discussion, transparency"). Reagan and most of the talking heads of the day endorsed it as authentic, that Russia had evicted the communist ideology and was reforming to a proper democratic society. But did they?

The communists of the collapsed Iron Curtain wouldn't lie, would they? They couldn't possibly have constructed a facade for the outlying world, could they? KGB defector Anatoliy Golitsyn said that was exactly what they did.

Golitsyn defected in 1961. He sought an audience with the CIA counter-espionage department to tell them what he knew. He sought an audience with President Kennedy to warn him of the precarious position America was in. He spent years putting together his thoughts in a book called "New Lies for Old" (released in 1984, how fitting). In that book he laid out the modus operandi for the communist takeover of nations, and ultimately the world. He made 194 predictions, including that east and west Germany would reunite, that the USSR would feign collapse and splinter off into smaller "independent" nations (that would never really be independent). Of those 194 predictions, 139 were fulfilled by 1993, making an astounding 94% accuracy of prediction (nine were wrong and 46 could not materialize at that time).

After it became clear the CIA was going to do nothing with his outline of processes, explanations and predictions, he petitioned the CIA to declassify his reports so he could put them in a book for the world to see, hoping someone somewhere would heed its warnings. He published the Perestroika Deception in 1995, dedicating it to the former CIA counter-intelligence head James Angleton (who had left the CIA in 1975

– a fascinating story I can't get into right now).

Data points that can be gleaned from Golitsyn's work include the premise that the ruse of a reformation in former USSR to make Russia more democratic was to lull the rest of the world into a more relaxed state of complacency. The communists would then infiltrate western nations and embark on a long campaign of subterfuge, undermining governments by placing their people in key positions of influence, commandeering academia by re-scripting the educational systems with Marxist ideology inserted (subtly at first, bolder as time goes on), controlling media, attacking the concept of traditional values, and especially destroying the nuclear family. (They want to replace the family and its authority with the State.)

One of their top goals was to create cultural revolutions – not just in America, but especially the western nations of the world. Those cultural revolutions would focus on feminism, liberalism, sexual revolutions, and civil rights revolutions (or race divisions).

He said the communists would create a European Union superstate to collectivize Europe and destroy their national identities. On March 29, 1978, Dr. Beter said in his audio letter, "Moscow has already become the de facto capital of Europe." That was 46 years ago!

If you step out of the details to try to see the big picture, you'll see they were wildly successful in their objectives. Some of their tactics were to consolidate the media under minimal heads with communist overlords, to consolidate higher education into teacher unions (which they can control), to foment mass migration from third world countries into first world countries to erode national identities. I don't think it's a stretch to see how all of this has been happening around us and is practically achieved.

Europe is a hotbed of immigrant problems, economic problems, and plainly socialist agendas. The European nations have morphed into a collectivized melting pot of imported cultures, leaving the natives minorities in their own homeland.

From 1989-2004 the United States spent 6.2% of its GDP for the military. After that it dropped to 2.9%. In that same time period America's entitlement spending went from 28% to 40% (of the GDP). They have been systematically disarming our nuclear arsenal, decreasing our military budget and personnel, and demoralizing patriotism in our military. The emphasis in our military now is identity politics, NOT military readiness.

They have been systematically increasing Americans' dependence on government aid, further strengthening the nanny state of Big Brother. [I think it's noteworthy that Yuri said, "The Welfare state is the implementation of Big Brother."] Let's see... castrate our strengths and empower our weaknesses, that sounds like brilliant weakening of America without a shot being fired.

Victor Suvorov wrote "Spetsnaz" about the elite forces of the Soviet army. His book details technique and procedures, ideology and implementation. According to military strategist Jamie Walden, Suvorov details an "Overture period" which is like a preparatory period for invasion. (I'm guessing it coincides with the crisis stage Yuri outlined.) In that period of preparation, they engage in large and small operations that is a mixture of psychological warfare and plausible deniability of infrastructure sabotage.

They employ sophisticated weaponry for weather manipulation to make some things look like natural disasters. They have techniques for destroying infrastructure to look like it was operator mistakes or forces of nature beyond human control. They use third party people groups to foment chaos like riots or terrorist acts, all the while being removed from the chain of command so they always have plausible deniability.

They are so good at their jobs that they employ little to no artillery weapons, a scant few people, rudimentary tools, and basic sabotage that is easily explainable and creates plausible deniability. They have been tied to things like train derailments (some with toxic chemical spills), forest fires, disease outbreaks, oil refinery fires or sabotage, power grid attacks, cyber attacks (usually on key infrastructures, communications and banking infrastructures).

I know what some of you are thinking, "yeah, but isn't the USGov doing that?" The short answer is yes. But at whose order? Remember that the USGov has been infiltrated by these saboteurs for decades now. Obama is a communist and has been running the Biden White House from the shadows. Obama's mom and step dad were communists. He was a Manchurian candidate FOR the communists into American government. He lifted the Smith-Mundt act legalizing propaganda, a powerful tool of the communists, and that's just ONE important way he hogtied safeguards for the American foundations.

How many communist plants are in how many American institutions? Consider the media, the entertainment industry, the state, local and federal government institutions. Almost all American states have money tied to the CCP. According to Walden's research, the CCP is beholden to Russia and the Maoist Revolution was communist Soviet led and controlled. That means most of Asia is under communist rule from the same head. Nations that have not bent the knee are constantly sabotaged.

America has been the predominant force staying the iron fist of communism, but has been weakened considerably in the process. Our institutions have been riddled with communist strongholds, and our government is compromised by bribes, blackmails and a host of traitors not at all loyal to the US Constitution, America, or Americans.

The Overture period is designed to distract and overwhelm all critical infrastructure and our ability to respond. They will do this by attacking our food production, toxic train derailments, widespread wildfires, attacks on power stations, creating internal conflicts based on multi-faceted divisions, etc. They will make sure our arsenals are depleted (think Afghanistan and the military equipment Biden left and Russia took). They will position our armed forces abroad and unable to defend the homeland (think perpetual foreign wars overseas). They will flood our nation with mercenaries loyal to their marching orders (think Harris's open border invasion).

Yes, the USGov is complicit in the demise of the United States only because the USGov has been infiltrated and replaced in large part with communists or people compromised by communists. We sit and shake our heads at the anti-American activities of our elected officials, but will not take the next step to call out their communist loyalties and hold them accountable. Kamala Harris is a communist. Barack Obama is a communist. Joe Biden is beholden to the communists.

Here's the kicker... If they want to be communists, why don't they just move to the communist nations? Why stay here? Because their end goal is a one world government. They are not content to have a nation or two that are communist. It's a Marxist ideology that is rooted in esoteric origins. Communist is just the term given it in a political sense. At the root is a belief system that is a deliberate juxtaposition against God. This is a spiritual war manifesting in the natural.

I've pored through Dr. Beter's audioletters* from the late 70s and early 80s. This battle has been waging a long, long time here in America (and abroad). Dr. Beter highlights Soviet sabotage month after month, year after year. It's almost incredulous. Dr. Beter's work details much of the Overture period (without saying it as such), but over four decades ago. One has to wonder why if they were that successful that long ago, why has the full takeover not happened yet? Clearly America is compromised. Our culture has erupted into a massive cesspool of schisms and factions. Our strengths have become weaknesses, and our weaknesses have become polarizing.

Don't make the mistake of thinking Russians are the source of communism. Russia is the nation that was invaded by a Marxist agenda they coined "Communist". Before the Bolshevik Revolution, Tsarist Russia was predominantly Christian. There's a reason they were enemy number one and were ruthlessly slaughtered to the tune of 20 million.

No, the Bolsheviks weren't exclusively Russian. They were a people group of an ideology who found an opportunity to commandeer a government for their own purposes of world domination. When they could not take the world by force, they retreated and feigned defeat for the purpose of restructuring to take the world by deception. Yes, they may be seemingly headquartered in Russia, but that is not the whole story. They are a people group much older than Russia. They have their Marxist players in every place of significance. The WEF is run by Marxists. America and Israel and Germany and France and Canada and a large number of other national governments have been infiltrated by Marxists. This is not as much a Russia issue as it is a Marxist issue, and "Marxist" is just the identifier for this last century or more. The Marxists (Communists/Illuminists/Cabbalists/Zionists) call themselves whatever is palatable for the setting. In America they call themselves progressives and liberals and democrats. Check the fruit to know the tree. It starts to become plain when you take away the social and cultural titles and look at the fruit alone.

The warnings of this group have been around for over a half century in our modern verbiage. They've made a lot of headway for their world dominion agenda. They've commandeered the Democratic party in America, but they've compromised more than just democrats. (Look at Mitch McConnell, Lindsey Graham, Paul Ryan, John McCain, for start.)

In my humble opinion there are three predominant reasons America has not fallen to the trap laid for it yet. America's military has been superior and a formidable adversary to the agenda. Americans themselves have been armed. They need America and Americans defenseless, unarmed. In the natural, these are the greatest hindrances to their complete takeover. But there's also the spiritual...

If America falls, the world falls. There will be little to stop the agenda of world dominion, a one world order, a new world order, call it what you will. That is a demonic government. So yeah, the main reason we have not fallen yet is because God is not defeated. "And having disarmed the powers and authorities, he [Christ] made a public spectacle of them, triumphing over them by the cross."

The only thing we really need to defeat this Marxist agenda of a new world order is for the sons and daughters of God to stand on, represent, and fight according to the finished works of Christ.

Dr. Beter's audioletters are an excellent source of national and political history from 1975-1982. His assessments are not accurate in many places, but in some places that have been considered too fantastic to be true, many are proving were true. Regardless of his projections (accurate and inaccurate), there is value in the history within.*
