

The Left Tries Dark Money Solutions For Their Dying Party

Spending $20 Million On “how To Address Men”

The NY Times says that Democrat donors and strategists have been meeting in luxury hotels to figure out how to win back working class voters. Let me repeat that... They are throwing big money at the little guy who has none, thanks to their policies and practices. And they are confused as to why this might not work?

I can say, up front, that they might just as well SAVE their money, because people are getting wise.

“The prospectus for one new $20 million effort, obtained by The Times, aims to reverse the erosion of Democratic support among young men, especially online. It is code-named SAM – short for ‘Speaking with American Men: A Strategic Plan’.

I had to laugh as one commenter on X wrote: 'so...some consultant in DC is going to get paid $20 million to counsel Democrats on drinking beer and watching football.

The message here is that the use of big money (usually Dark and untraceable) and the concepts it has pushed at America, has made an enemy of the common man. And women. (And those are the only two genders that exist, per God.)

"D" once stood for one of the two major political parties in the USA today. Democrat. Now, "D" has a lot of added meaning.

The Democrat "D" now stands for Desperate. Disintegrating, Dysphoric, Drubbed, Discarded. Dazed. As uncanny as it may seem, the Left truly cannot understand why voters are turning away.

Today, the party labels, "R" and "D", and only used to confuse people anyway. Any discussion becomes far more clear, when it is realized that today's party labels are "Constitutionalist" and "Communist". You've heard me say that for years, and it is increasingly true.

The Communists (or “Globalists”, Marxists”, “totalitarians”, take your choice) are using more money, from unknown sources, to attempt to revive their dying party. Instead of thorough analysis, as to what the voters do and do NOT want, untold amounts of money from big corporate, big pharma and globs of Globalists, are being thrown at their problems. You know, up front, that this is not funded by the people.

America needs a two-party system. I wish them well, but I also wish they could learn from their mistakes. Isn't that what our folks always taught us?

There is it again. Removing family advice and counsel has harmed everyone, the Left more than they may ever know. The Left believes that the state should raise the children; we believe that a strong family and parental love are the best fertilizer for growing strong humans. And societies.

THAT is the great divide.

Whatever party comes out of this smoking pile of rubble needs to serve the people. THAT is what the Republic is all about and ever has been.

The people are in charge. The group that inculcates this, then lives by it, will be the winner. Politicians take heed. This message must be heard by every politician in every state; Dark Money does NOT serve the people; it fills the pockets of political groups on the road to their OWN agenda, never that of the people.

This is a part of what got the Democrats/Globalists in the mess they are in. They are throwing money after a solution – ANY solution – Because, apparently, Pelosi and the gang don't know how to do anything else.

I still fear what they will try next. They have made TWO attempts on President Trump's life; they have purchased much of the judiciary to subvert Constitutional principles; they staged a PURGE on Jan. 6, 2021 and have wasted millions trying to convince the people that America-loving patriots are violent criminals.

Prayers up, to protect us against the evil being wrought.

The point is this. This exercise in futility showcases the Globalists' distance from the American people AND their reliance on throwing money at everything. This is NOT the people's money, be certain.

Remember, DARK MONEY is the trademark of all who would ruin the rights of the people, granted us under our precious Constitution. Keep an eye out for its occurrence in your own community, and keep track of those using it.

It's happening everywhere. It is up to US to stand against it.
