

The Politicization of Healthcare 2

By George Lujack

January 6, 2025

The Seemingly Close Relationship Between COVID and AIDS

December was AIDS Awareness Month. The Politicization of Healthcare was an article published on August 4, 2020, that highlighted, as the title suggests, the politicization of healthcare. Specifically, the article was about how the CDC was manipulating healthcare statistics in order to drive up the COVID death count to as high as possible. If a person died with an underlying health problem, say a bad heart leading to a heart attack, and they also happened to have COVID, the CDC counted that as a COVID death. If a person had a fatal car accident and their autopsy showed that they had COVID, it was counted as a COVID death. In other words, if you died by any means, but you had a cold, the CDC was proclaiming that you died from the cold.

Is statistical medical manipulation reserved solely for COVID? Not likely. In recent years, deaths attributed to AIDS have reportedly been on the decline. This is possibly due to politicization coming from LGBTQ+ advocates.

A social media meme (lower left corner of pic), obviously meant as a joke, featuring rockstar Keith Richards and fitness guru Richard Simmons went viral after the death of Richard Simmons on July 13, 2024, at the age of 76, questioning if healthy eating and exercise matters as it pertains to lifespan longevity. Chain-smoking (up to 2019), heroin-using (until 1979), cocaine-using (until 2006), and heavy alcohol drinking to-now-moderate alcohol drinking Keith Richards is currently alive at 81 years old.

Why should a so-called fitness guru, Richard Simmons, die at the age of 76 while a drug and alcohol-abusing Keith Richards still be among the living at age 81? The X-factor: Richard Simmons was gay.

While not openly publicly acknowledging his homosexuality, Richards was photographed with numerous men in provocative pics, indicating that they were more than just friends. Before his death, Richard Simmons had been photographed as being much thinner and frail, a tell-tale sign of the final stages before an AIDS-related death. Even if Richard Simmons never knew a man carnally, he was, at minimum, certainly effeminate.

1 CORINTHIANS 6:8-10 (NASB 1995):

Do you not know that the unrighteous will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived; neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, NOR EFFEMINATE, nor homosexuals, nor thieves, nor the covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor swindlers, will inherit the kingdom of God.

Numerous studies cited by the National Institutes of Health \(NIH\) show that the average lifespan for gay men is less than 50 years old and that gay men typically live 20-30-year shorter lifespans than heterosexual men.

ROMANS 1:26-27 (NKJV) [WITH COMMENTARY]:

For this reason God gave them up to vile passions. For even their women exchanged the natural use for what is against nature. Likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust for one another, men with men committing what is shameful, and receiving in themselves the penalty of their error which was due [HIV, AIDS, AND PREMATURE DEATH].

© 2024 George Lujack – All Rights Reserved

E-Mail George Lujack: georgelujack@gmail.com