

The Rise And Fall Of The New World Order

2018 was not a good year for the globalist conspirators and their New World Order. Despite all their desperate efforts to salvage the sinking ship, the machinery that took them more than half a century to assemble is about to collapse, and it has become evident that they don't know how to repair it.

Proof of this is that, contrary to all predictions and despite the concerted efforts of both sides of the Republican Party coin, the mainstream press, the social media, the FBI, the CIA and the rest of the alphabet soup of shadow agencies, as well as some active and retired high-ranking members of the military who have betrayed their Oath of Office[1], Donald Trump is still alive and kicking in the White House. Moreover, every single day President Trump keeps deconstructing the NWO machinery piece by piece: no more global warming threat, no more unfair global trade agreements, no more borders open to illegal immigration ... the works.

To top it off, Trump just took the first step to bring home the best of our youth exposed to loss of life and limb while waging unwinnable, never-ending wars carried out in foreign lands for the sole purpose of benefiting a few tax-dodging transnational corporations that don't see themselves as American anymore.

And this is just the beginning, and the NWO conspirators and their minions know it and they are powerless to stop it.

To make things worse, Trump is not alone. To the globalist conspirators' utter dismay, nationalism is coming back in force and growing in most of the world. The yellow vest riots that erupted in France now have spread to Belgium and the Netherlands. Even in Londonistan, until recently an inexpugnable reduct of the globalist conspirators, some people wearing yellow vests have appeared on the streets in protest against the government's unfair treatment of the working class and its inaction when faced with the attacks of religious fanatics on people they see as infidels.

It is important to notice that the yellow vest protesters have nothing in common with the so-called color revolutions that took place some years ago in the Middle East during the so-called Arab Spring, much less with the current fascist Antifa thugs. Those are mostly brainwashed young people backed by Soros's money. In contrast, the yellow-vested men and women we see now on the streets are working people fed up by their governments' rising gas prices under the pretext of curbing a non-existing global warming.

Currently, not only the governments under the control of globalists such as May in the UK, Merkel in Germany and Macron in France, just to mention the most notorious ones, are in deep crises, but also nationalist, antiglobalist leaders are in rising up all around the world. Currently, it is not only Trump who is fighting the NWO globalists. Nationalist leaders, such as Orban in Hungary, Widodo in Indonesia, Salvini in Italy, Kurz in Austria, Wilders in the Netherlands, Akesson in Sweden, Le Pen in France, Jansa in Slovenia, Babis in the Czech Republic, Putin in Russia and Bolsonaro in Brazil, just to name a few, are openly defying the globalists' New World Order.

Adding to the globalist conspirators' surprise, a strong anti-NWO order reaction is growing in many Latin American countries. More and more people in Argentina, Colombia, Mexico and Brazil now see political correctness, ecological and climatological extremism, women's liberation and gender ideology as manifestations of U.S. cultural imperialism, and they oppose it.

By the way, one interesting characteristic of these alleged fans of democracy[2] is that, when the people democratically vote against their wishes, the pro-democracy fans do everything in their hands to avoid following the people's mandate. This explains why they are so mad about two examples of true democracy in action: the Brexit in the U.K. and the election of Donald Trump in the U.S.

Apparently, the globalist conspirators have not yet realized that the world's correlation of forces has changed dramatically during the last ten years. The key conspirators pushing for a New World Order: David Rockefeller and his secret ally Fidel Castro, George H.W. Bush, Maurice Strong, Henry Kissinger, George Soros, Zbigniew Brzezinski and Hillary Clinton, are either dead or too old to continue the fight. Even worse, they failed to nurture an effective replacement—Obama has turned out to be a total failure—and the conspiracy is approaching a standstill.

A characteristic of totalitarian-minded people is that they don't see people who disagree with them as opponents, but as enemies. Hitler called them "vermin." Castro called them "gusanos" [worms]. Hillary called them "deplorables." Once you dehumanize your enemies, the next step is destroying them by any means necessary, including physical elimination.

Unfortunately, still many well-intentioned Americans, not used to this new phenomenon still don't see it, and believe that what is going on is just politics as usual, but it is not. Currently America is at war, and its worst enemies are not abroad, but inside the gates. The two new recently-elected members of Congress, Ocasio-Cortez and Rashida Tlaib, are early examples of the new line sociopaths whose most cherished dream is destroying America.

Nevertheless, the good news is that the New World Order conspirators are losing the battle. The bad news is that, in their desperation, they may decide to resort to extreme measures in an effort to change the outcome of the battle.[3]

Anyway, if they do, that will prove to be their greatest mistake.

1. "I, (state your name), having been appointed a (rank) in the United States (branch of service), do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that I will well and faithfully discharge the office upon which I am about to enter. So help me God." Nevertheless, instead supporting and defending the Constitution from our domestic enemies some high-ranking officers of the U.S. military have joined them.
2. The word "democracy" does not appear in any of the three key documents that created the American Republic: the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, and the Bill of Rights. Having read Plato, the Founding Fathers knew about the failings of democracies and created instead a representative republic.

In my latest NWV article, "Don't Believe Everything Trump Says," I mentioned my suspicion that President Trump was applying in his politics the tactics in the book The Art of War Sun Tzu advised his generals to follow. To my surprise, the day after the article appeared I got an email from a reader. According to this reader:

"Sun Tzu's masterpiece, The Art of War is mandatory reading –or used to be– at the Wharton School of Business. It is his favorite book. In 1987 Trump wrote The Art of the Deal. Coincidence? Likely not.”
