

Unless You Think There Is An Award For Being Stupid: There Are Only Two Sexes

It's been said, "There are a good many people in this country with great minds, but "s" for brains."

One of those individuals must be U.S. Senator Dick Durbin (D-IL) who wants to dissolve America with his open borders stance. He wants to see transgender men dominate women's NCAA sports. In effect, he wants to destroy women's rights to be women and compete with women. He supports DNA males wiping the floor with women athletes...and, additionally, he supports those same "men" romping around women's dressing rooms. You can't make this stuff up!

This week in a Senate hearing, Durbin suffered a humiliating "dress-down" by U.S. Senator John Kennedy (R-LA) who used his plain speaking to help the Illinois democrat out of his cuckoo bird's nest.

Kennedy said, "My Democratic colleagues called a hearing today. They invited three of their witnesses to convince the American people that it's okay for males to compete against females in sports. I have to say, there was a sort of an "Alice in Wonderland" weirdness about the whole hearing. For example, one of my Democratic colleague's witnesses testified that there are three biological sexes and an infinite number of genders.”

It's fine that mentally unbalanced DNA males of any age may identify as a cat, mouse, dog, horse and/or a woman. Just keep their “illusions” in a separate athletic arena. Call it, the National Collegiate Transgender Athletics...NCTA. End of the problem. Have all those trans people compete against themselves whether they identify as a boy, girl, trans boy, trans girl or a wild turkey. Gobble, Gobble!

Kennedy continued to educate Dick Durbin, “I've heard better answers on the dating game. Here is the way I think most Americans will look at it. Number one: In America, you should be who you are. Number two: Generally speaking, it's not acceptable to discriminate against someone because of an immutable characteristic, unless, there are good reasons. For example, it's okay to tell a 13-year-old that he can't drive.”

Twelve-time national women's swim champion Riley Gaines also schooled Durbin. Gaines pushed back and told Durbin he needs to think about biological women and girls who she said are at a disadvantage competing against trans men.

“Senator Durbin, in your opening statement, you had mentioned this rhetoric,” she said. “You had mentioned that, what message does it send to trans individuals? And my comeback to that is, what message does this send to women, to young girls, who are denied of these opportunities?”

“So easily, their rights to privacy and safety thrown out of the window to protect a small population, protect one group as long as they're happy,” she said. “What about us? That is the overall general consensus of how we all felt in that locker room.”

If you read about a trans-guy in girls' volleyball recently...he spiked the ball so hard that he knocked the opposing girl player out with a concussion. After the match, he wandered into the girl's bathroom/changing room as if he were a regular female with bra, panties, breasts, et al.

What's SO absurd and alarming about all of this transgender nonsense stems from the fact that men don't know squat about women's sports, their struggles, their gains and losses at the hands of men over the centuries. Men wouldn't allow women to run in the Boston Marathon until one gal entered and completed it. Today, top women outrun most men in that race. When I was in high school, we watched women in half-court basketball because they were too "weak" to play full court. It was beyond stupid to watch it, let alone play in it.

Today, we see men pretending to be women...and walking up to the podium with a wry smile on their faces. You have to be mentally unbalanced to think you beat a woman fairly when you stand 6'4" and weigh 220 pounds and she is 5'2" and weighs 120 pounds. William "Lia" Thomas must be the laughingstock of the athletic world in the 21st century. That guy has a "pair", but he wears a one-piece woman's bathing suit. Thomas takes the cake for "arrogant and stupid."

Additionally, this huge push for transgender surgeries in kids under the age of 12 or even to 18...must be the most absurd insanity of our time. A kid younger than 21 doesn't know what he or she wants. To choose castration or breast removal before you're old enough to understand your choices...well, that's nuts. Adults should not allow it via laws, and/or doctors should not operate as to ethics.

And this "woke" crap of placing pornographic books into our grade schools with "drag queens" putting on shows is beyond "stupid." It's immoral, unethical and downright sickening.

We, the rational adults in America need to stand up at school boards, library conferences, and city council meetings to speak with wisdom, common sense and true grit. We can't lay down and let an emotionally unbalanced fringe of our society dictate what our kids must read or watch or practice. To be sure, if you're LGBTQ+, fine, do your thing with your own group. For certain, if you look at the depression, out-casting and suicides of the transgender crowd, along with the LGBTQ+, it's a very lonely, ugly, emotional path. My heart goes out to them. I truly wish all humans well on their life journeys.

In the end, you can practice whatever you like in your own life. Just don't shove it down normal peoples' throats or their kids. The reality remains, there are only two sexes, XY males and XX females. The rest are all pretending or living an illusion. That reality will prevail when all the political stupidities are brought to reality.

As U.S. Senator John Kennedy said, “Unless You Think There Is An Award For Being Stupid: There Are Only Two Sexes.”
