

Voters don't pick the nominee, we do

The fight for justice against corruption is never easy. It never has been and never will be. It exacts a toll on our self, our families, our friends, and especially our children. In the end, I believe, as in my case, the price we pay is well worth holding on to our dignity. –Frank Serpico

Communism has never come to power in a country that was not disrupted by war or corruption, or both. –John F. Kennedy

The neo-conservative politicians and their corporate buddies are making plans to eliminate Donald Trump. In previous articles, I've mentioned that the onslaught would become worse. The globalist elitist New World Order gang has a number of plans up their sleeves, including a brokered convention and the nomination of Jeb Bush. It was a puzzling statement when Jeb Bush said early on, in his run for president, that Republicans need to stop trying to win the argument, and that he would rather lose the primary in order to win the general.

 Rush Limbaugh warned his listeners that members of the Republican establishment have a blueprint for foisting former Florida Gov. Jeb Bush on the American people despite his disastrous campaign. The plan was for Hillary and Jeb to be the contestants, either one would follow the NWO agenda, but the chosen one is Hillary.

From an MSNBC article entitled, "Voters Don't Pick the Nominee, We Do."

Political parties, not voters, choose their presidential nominees, a Republican convention rules member told CNBC, a day after GOP front-runner Donald Trump rolled up more big primary victories.

“The media has created the perception that the voters choose the nomination. That’s the conflict here,” Curly Haugland, an unbound GOP delegate from North Dakota, told CNBC’s “Squawk Box.” He even questioned why primaries are held.

Haugland said he sent a letter to each campaign alerting them to a rule change he’s proposing, which would allow any candidate who earns at least one delegate during the nominating process to submit his or her name to be nominated at this summer’s convention.

54 Private Jets at Meeting to Stop Trump

Billionaires, tech CEOs, and top members of the Republican establishment flew to a private island resort off the coast of Georgia for the American Enterprise Institute’s annual World Forum, according to sources familiar with the secretive gathering. The topic of this meeting was how to stop Donald Trump. [Link]

The list of those attending is quite telling; even those who have been supported by Donald Trump’s monies in the past are wanting to quell his nomination.

Apple CEO Tim Cook, Google co-founder Larry Page, Napster creator and Facebook investor Sean Parker, and Tesla Motors and SpaceX honcho Elon Musk all attended. So did Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell, Bush guru Karl Rove, House Speaker Paul Ryan, Senator Tom Cotton, Senator Cory Gardner, Trump supported Senator Tim Scott, Senator Rob Portman, and Ben Sasse, who recently stated he “cannot support Donald Trump.”

The meeting was the annual World Forum, an off-the-record conference hosted by the American Enterprise Institute. AEI has hosted the “secretive” event since 1982, but this year had the focus on their biggest globalist threat, Donald J. Trump. Bilderberger Bill Kristol was there. Kristol had previously stated that if Mr. Trump were the nominee, he'd vote for Hillary Clinton. That should tell you their mindset.

Remember, Bill's father, Irving Kristol, (former Trotskyite) along with William F. Buckley (CFR, CIA Agent, Skull and Bonesman) were responsible for destroying old right Constitutional Conservatives and bringing to the fore, the neo-conservative Trotskyites as the new Republican party. Trotsky was a communist just like Stalin and Lenin, he just wished for people to "choose" Marxism rather than having it foisted upon them. As is quite obvious today with the democratic candidates, we can see the plans of the Trotskyites, as well as the propaganda and brainwashing of today's American education, have been successful in creating a class of American communists.

American Enterprise Institute

✘ AEI's founders included executives from Eli Lilly, General Mills, Bristol-Myers, Chemical Bank, Chrysler, and Paine Webber. To this day, AEI's board is composed of top leaders from major business and financial firms, corporate America to be exact.

In 1954, William J. Baroody, Sr., became executive vice president of the association and changed its name from American Enterprise Association to AEI. The institute is often cited as a center right-leaning counterpart to the left-leaning Brookings Institution. However, the two entities have often collaborated: from 1998 to 2008, they co-sponsored the AEI-Brookings Joint Center for Regulatory Studies (now housed solely at AEI), and in 2006, they launched the AEI-Brookings Election Reform Project. So crawling in bed with the enemy is obviously not a problem for AEI. AEI is the most prominent think tank associated with American neo-conservatism, in both the domestic and international policy arenas. These are the GOP enemies of Donald Trump.

Former Trotskyite and neo-conservative, Irving Kristol, widely considered a father of neo-conservatism with William F. Buckley, was a senior fellow at AEI (arriving from the Congress for Cultural Freedom, following the widespread revelation of the group's CIA funding – Link). Many prominent neoconservatives—including Democrat CFR/TC/UN Ambassador, Jeanne Kirkpatrick, Democrat Ben Wattenberg, and Democrat, Joshua Muravchik spent the bulk of their careers at AEI. Muravchik was National Chairman of the Young People's Socialist League (YPSL) from 1968 to 1973, and supported the majority of the Socialist Party of America in renaming the organization to Social Democrats, USA. Bernie Sanders would love them.

AEI's board is chaired by Tully Friedman. Current notable trustees include Arthur C. Brooks, who published a survey and analysis of "Gross National Happiness," which we hear about as it relates to UN Agenda 21 happiness project. [Link]

Then there's Gordon Binder, former managing director and CEO of Amgen; former vice president Dick Cheney; and Daniel D'Aniello, cofounder of The Carlyle Group. Harlan Crow, is chairman and CEO of Crow Holdings, and a founding member of pro-amnesty and Trump hating, Club for Growth. Crow is also a close friend of Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas, who was Monsanto's corporate lawyer. [Link] Crow is a member of the all-male Bohemian Club, and as early as 1997 had hosted Thomas as a guest at the group's annual summer encampment: the Bohemian Grove.

Then there's the Peter G. Peterson Foundation who gave a grant to AEI. And just who is Peterson? He's the chairman emeritus of the Council on Foreign Relations and founder and chairman of the Peter G. Peterson Foundation. He was also the former Chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York between 2000 and 2004. Remember too, Peterson is a partner with the Club for Growth.

In an editorial in Newsweek, Pete Peterson describes his inspiration for starting his Foundation, and his goals:

“So I started looking at the lives of other billionaires. Almost all the ones I most admired were major philanthropists: Warren Buffett, Bill Gates, Mike Bloomberg, George Soros, Eli Broad—each with a passion to do good, each getting so much pleasure from giving their money away. I decided that’s what I wanted to do. But to which worthy cause would I direct my money?”

So, Petersen believes the likes of these men have a passion to do good? I would beg to differ, especially after Soros’ communist followers were the protesters against Trump in Chicago.

Guess who else the Peter G. Peterson Foundation gave a grant to? The Heritage Foundation. The Peterson Foundation provided grants to six leading think tanks in 2011 to develop comprehensive proposals to address the nation’s long-term fiscal challenges. [Link]

Also on the board of AEI is Raymond Gilmartin, retired chairman and CEO of Merck & Co. who was director during the Vioxx scandal and sat on the board of Microsoft as well. And don’t forget their infamous Gardasil vaccine.

The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation supported AEI’s education policy studies headed by Frederick M. Hess who authored reports and other education projects and whose working group includes Washington, D.C. schools chancellor Michelle Rhee and Michael Feinberg, the cofounder of KIPP.

Our Principles PAC

The name of the “anyone but Trump” multi-million-dollar effort calls itself, Our Principles PAC, and is headed by former Mitt Romney deputy campaign manager, Katie Packer. John McCain supports this group. According to Open Secrets, this PAC has spent more than $12 million against Republicans, and nothing against Democrats.

Conclusion

This majority of GOP politicians and corporate entities are all globalists. They certainly want nothing to do with Donald J. Trump who has thrown a wrench in their NWO plans. They'd rather have a ringer like Cruz, Kasich or Clinton in our White House again because they know they're controlled, and would continue the downward spiral of America into a third world country.

Their fear of Trump is so overwhelming, that the GOP are willing to destroy their own party, even more so than they already have with their leftist agenda. The attacks will continue, and they will escalate. The powers that be simply cannot allow Donald Trump to MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN.

Pray for Mr. Trump, and pray for our country.
