

Was it Payoffs or Cowardice by Union Leaders Who Didn't Use Tariffs to Protect Workers?

Andrew Wallace

July 12, 2023

When effective tariffs are used, it is impossible for a foreign manufacturer with cheaper labor costs to compete with an American company in the United States.

You need only look at our history of rapid growth until 1913, when tariffs were being used to protect American workers and to finance the government without income taxes. Period.

Union leaders were not the only ones involved in destroying American manufacturing and middle class jobs.

But the leaders were directly responsible for protecting the workers who elected them, and they failed. Because of this failure, millions of middle-class workers were fired, and thousands of American cities and towns and businesses were decimated.

I say this because the ultimate power and enemy of the People is the Parasitic Super-Rich Ruling Class (PSRRC), wealthy billionaire families.

The PSRRC controls the 'woke' corporations that benefit from off-shoring their manufacturing. They did this with full knowledge that they were impoverishing the people and the American workers...and they didn't give a damn!

We can pretty much write off both parties in Congress for any good works for the people they supposedly represent, because they will do what the PSRRC pays (read bribe or blackmail!) them to do!

It is easy to understand the agenda of the PSRRC and their 'woke' corporations, because power and money is their only motivation and there is not a patriotic bone in any of them!

Both parties in Congress are mostly cowards or are corrupt, with no loyalty to the people who elected them to protect their rights. They are serial liars.

Most legislation is unconstitutional, which is why the majority of the federal government is fake, and is the major criminal enterprise on the planet!

For absolute proof of this statement, I refer you to the "Enumerated Powers" in Article 1, Section 8 of the United States Constitution.

When you compare labor leaders to the rest of the power structure, you wonder why they don't perform to the full extent of the power that they were expected to exercise. It is obvious they are not using their position to the maximum advantage of their members. Labor leaders should be in close contact with their members and fight for their rights, as none of the other power centers have that advantage. Labor leaders can strike, boycott, and combine their power to deny business to the opposition. Labor unions should grow and demonstrate their awesome powers, publicly and continuously.

Unions have continued to lose membership because they allowed most of their middle-income jobs to go overseas. If they don't have members, they don't have the delegated powers they are given to protect their members.

The PSRRC and their 'woke' corporations using the 'authority' of fake federal agencies have enormous power (even through much is unconstitutional). Note their unconstitutional actions during the Covid scam, FBI's habit of framing those who oppose their crimes, the assassination of President Kennedy, etc, etc.

Even through much of federal government is a criminal enterprise, it still has the power and the guns.

But I maintain that Unions can be a more powerful adversary than the other players when American jobs are at stake. Politicians never do anything good for anyone, but the union represents food on the table. This gives the union real power. When I was a State Trooper, I remember the coal miners strikes in Eastern Kentucky; those people were not sissies and they got the fair treatment they wanted and deserved.

Maybe too many Union Leaders are now college graduates (snowflakes) and don't know how to fight for their people.

Union people seem to think that the Democrat party is the same one my grandfather supported...it is not! Unions can trust neither party. It is possible that Union Leaders are now just as corrupted by the 'woke' corporations as those in Congress.

Labor leaders have the power to save this country, if they are patriots and have balls!

Labor leaders have no excuse for allowing 'woke' corporations to manufacture overseas, taking away the livelihood of American workers.

If I were a younger man, I would work for a union because that is the future solution to many of today's problems. I would organize it down to the last member. There would be constant interaction with members, and recruiting would be objective number one. We would have a modern office specializing in public relations. We would have investigators to keep the government as honest as possible, or, failing that, an eye for an eye.

God Bless You and Our Republic

© 2023 Andrew Wallace – All Rights Reserved

E-Mail Andrew Wallace: natlmktg@gte.net