

We're Gonna Need a Bigger Hell

by Lee Duigon

March 28, 2024

Our global ruling class—people who despise us—is working overtime to create a fake reality, and turn America into a Third World hell-hole with themselves on top forever and ever.

Here are the two biggest bombs they've dropped on us.

Administration sock-puppets look right into the TV camera's eye and assert that our country's southern border is A-OK, tickety-boo, just fine, etc. Nothing could possibly be farther from the truth, and everybody knows it. You would have to be seriously delusional to believe these lies.

They are trying to manufacture and sell us a completely false reality. We're expected to eat that up while they allow tens of thousands of illegals to sashay across the border—and someday they'll be given the vote, and our republic will be finished. They will create a permanent under-class dependent on handouts from the government. Naturally, they'll vote to keep that government in power. Forever.

Who knew, in 1945, that the kind of government typified by the Third Reich and the Soviet Union would come roaring back in the next century? These villains do it with votes instead of tanks and bombers. Once they get the illegals voting, they're in the driver's seat. Forever. (I refuse to call them "migrants." The old term, "illegals," is descriptive. "Migrants" is a euphemism.)

At the same time, Our Beloved Rulers push transgender as if their lives depended on it. "President" SloJo babbles about transgenders being the spirit of America. Why? Give a child a lifetime's worth of "gender-affirming care" and presto! No one's having babies anymore! And if they are, there's always abortion.

Are they trying to wipe us out altogether? Or just addle our brains by forcing us to call men "women" and women "men"? "He" is now "she" and "she" is now "he." Do people who go along with this actually believe what they're saying? How can that be? A mutilated man is named "Woman of the Year." We all know that's a load of twaddle, don't we? And if we don't... Well, we're going to need a bigger Hell, aren't we? God help us, we are murdering our own posterity.

The World Economic Forum calls us "useless eaters." They recommend keeping us anesthetized with drugs and video games until they can figure out what to do with us. Meanwhile, keep that border open, keep those puberty blockers flowing. They'll get rid of our nations and set up their cherished world government. And everything will be incandescently wonderful... for them. Not us.

There is, of course, plenty of other mischief afoot. They wouldn't be ruining women's sports, for instance, if they weren't sure it would hurt us somehow. And using the "education" industry to foment racial discord, that's another item in their DeLuxe Rule-the-World Fun-Pack.

These people are totally evil and God sees what they're doing. They will be judged for it, that's certain. If we don't get around to judging them, God will.

I have discussed these and other topics throughout the week on my blog, <http://leeduigon.com/> . Click the link and drop in for a visit, while it's still allowed: freedom of speech is looking a little shaky, lately. My articles can also be found at www.chalcedon.edu/ .

© 2024 Lee Duigon – All Rights Reserved

E-Mail Lee Duigon: leeduigon@verizon.net