

Why America Can't Fix Itself Or Correct What's Happening

This entire situation with the MS-13 illegal alien Kilmer Abrega Garcia stuns any rational, reasonable, and common sense American citizen. He violated our borders. He beat his wife numerous times. She took out restraining orders against him. He trafficked other illegals without a license. Two judges deemed him an MS-13 gang member. He is not a citizen. He has no rights to 'due process' under our Constitution. He belongs in prison in El Salvador.

And yet, we've got a U.S. Senator Van Hollen flying down to the prison to tell us that that Garcia is "traumatized." But when one of his own constituents, Rachel Morin, mother of five, was killed and brutally raped by an illegal, Van Hollen said nothing. He did nothing. He's a political farce! And yet, the liberal talking-heads are telling us that if Garcia can be deported, we all can be deported. I must admit that the talking-heads on MSNBC, CNN, NPR, and other "fake news" outlets prove themselves journalistic idiots.

We've got a mental moron House Member Jasmine Crockett (D-TX) telling us that we've got a criminal in the White House worse than Garcia. We've got another mental moron being touted as the next democrat candidate for president of the USA—Alexandra Ocasio Cortez who doesn't know her butt from a hole in the ground. She's beyond stupid...she's a walking, talking vacant-minded helium balloon. And yet, crowds gather to hear her speak her vacuous stupidities. She's about as qualified to become president as a grasshopper.

When you look out across the American landscape, especially our cities, you see total chaos, crime and craziness going on weekly.

Let me give you my credentials. I started out teaching school in 1973. In the summers, I moved furniture for United Van Lines. I trucked through 48 states and Canada. In 1965, I watched Congress sign into law the Immigration Reform Act that blew open the flood gates to our country. We've added over 140 million people within 60 years. It's the greatest population growth ever recorded in the history of the world in the shortest amount of time. I watched this country grow in 1970 from 200 million to our current 350 million plus another 20 plus million illegal aliens.

I watched our cities across America explode with cars, trucks, houses, skyscrapers, freeways, toxic air pollution, accidents, polluted rivers, trash along our highways, horrendous gridlock and road rage.

We're simply a civilization that has grown too large, too many, too big, too complicated, too fast, too chemicalized, and too much to fix any of our problems.

This past weekend, 16 tornados cut through the heartland killing a half dozen people, and destroyed dozens of homes and buildings. Why? There's just too many people taking up too much space. And, "IF" climate change causes the severity and accelerating numbers of tornados, rains and flooding-- adding more people with more carbon output creates more aberrant climatic destabilization. And yet, no one connects the dots.

Look what's happening to California. They face drought, fires, windstorms and massive destruction with their 40 million people. Those fires ravaged thousands of homes. Have you visited LA or San Francisco? I have for the past three years.

When I was trucking, it was a nightmare. Today, it's a triple nightmare. They can't solve their problems today as to horrible roads, potholes everywhere, severe poverty, incredible state-wide debt over $76 billion, massive homelessness of over 250,000, incredible 4.0 million illegal aliens camped out everywhere, skyrocketing taxes...yet, California continues to grow by 6,550 people, net gain, daily. Virtually all of it via legal and illegal immigration, plus their birthrates. How do you think that's going to end up? How do they fix their problems or solve any of their growing nightmares? Answer: they can't, they don't, they won't. Their problems will grow beyond solving. In the end, total breakdown of civil society. (Source: California growth facts: www.capsweb.org)

What about New York City with 8.3 million people stuck in a concrete, glass and metal jungle? They suffer over 100,000 illegal aliens with no solutions. People defecating and urinating on the streets, and criminals stealing everything from stores to knocking people dead on the streets. They cannot medically serve their own citizens let alone the overwhelming needs of the illegal migrants. Schools? No education for our kids! NYC features 3.0 million rats running all over the place. Filth, disease and sickening insanity! Can they solve the rat problem? NO!

Governor Kathy Hochul mandated a $9.00 fee for driving into the city, and it's supposed to mitigate the massive traffic jams. I remember them well in my trucking years. NYC must be one of the worst cities in the world for traffic. And yet, demographers project NYC to reach 9.4 million people within 25 years. In other words, no solutions, no answers, no way in hell of bringing about any kind of quality of life to "The Big Apple."

Let me tell you about trucking through Chicago, "The Windy City." It's a nightmare to roll off I-80 and then, north into Chicago. The 18-wheelers have worn the drive lane into four to five inch grooves. It's scary for cars to navigate through the grooves. You can lose control of your steering wheel in a heartbeat and be thrown out of the lane.

Then, of course, if you travel into South Chicago, you could be one of the dozen, up to two dozen, who get shot every weekend. At 2.6 million in Chicago in 2025, look for 10.0 million within 25 years by 2050. How insane is that?

How about the beltways around Atlanta, Houston, Miami, Dallas, Fort Worth, Denver, Cleveland, Phoenix and Minneapolis? Total, unsolvable, and complete automobile insanity! And yet, each one of those cities stands to add another 3 to 5 million people. I trucked through every one of those cities. Just sheer insanity!

What did those trucking years with United Van Lines show me?

It showed me that legal and illegal immigration have destroyed America beyond anyone's understanding. It showed me that those "rats" in Washington DC WANT America's civilization to collapse. It showed me that they WANT the Cloward-Piven Strategy to succeed. What is that? Answer: simply overwhelm our entire society with so many immigrants that it eventually collapses into chaos and conflict.

Again, I didn't just truck for 25 summers around 48 states. I visited six continents in the past 45 years filled with billions of people. I've seen the sickening aspects of cities like Mexico City with 22 million people. God awful toxic air with every breath. God help anyone living in Beijing, Shanghai, Rio, Sao Paulo, Toronto, Paris, Mumbai, Hong Kong and another 20 overpopulated cities. I saw China. I winced at what I witnessed. I traveled into the sickening depths of India to give me a whole new understanding of humanity's arrogance and ignorance. We're talking filthy water, filthy food, filthy living, filthy trash everywhere, and millions living in poverty and filth—with no solutions. Note: 60 percent of people in India do not have access to a toilet! Over 4.0 million are born in the streets, live on the streets, and never enjoy a home, shower or toilet. Look it up!

What makes me the sickest of all? Answer: we're handing over to our kids the same nightmare being lived in China, India, Mexico City and all the rest of this overpopulated planet. Ask yourself: why are millions clamoring to live in Europe, Canada and America? Answer: their miseries bring their desperation. But they did it with their profligate fecundity in their own countries.

Well, once we add that next 100 million into the USA by 2050 that will render our civilization unsustainable—where do you think you and your kids are going to flee “for a better life?”

What do we need? We DESPERATELY need a national discussion/debate on the future of America. Can we sustain the numbers? If we can't fix our problems today, how will we fix them in 25 years with THAT many added people?

I don't think anyone in America is ready for what we face. Worse, most Americans don't have a clue as to what's coming.
