

Why is Everyone Complaining About Communist China?

"It is not enough to conquer; one must know how to seduce."
Voltaire

1972 Richard Nixon met with Chou En-Lai in Shanghai to "cement a new world order". America crawled into bed with the commies. The same communists who were holding our POW/MIAs from the Korean and Viet Nam "conflicts." Only God knows how many were still alive, but those butchers of Beijing had them at the same time Nixon was over there kissing En-Lai's backside and toasting champagne.

Chou En-Lai was the first Premier of the People's Republic of China until he died in 1976. Chou served under Chairman Mao Zedong and aided the Communist Party in rising to power. Under the so-called Great Leap Forward policy, Mao was responsible for the deaths of about 45 million Chinese human beings.

How many Congressional committees have we seen anguish over our mortal enemy, Communist China? Why, one only need check C-SPAN for broadcasts. Members of Congress huff and puff about China's aggression towards the U.S. while wearing suits, expensive shirts, ties, tighty-whites and shoes made in Communist China, not to mention a thousand other products in their homes, tools and equipment. Americans spend TENS AND TENS OF BILLIONS OF DOLLARS ON MADE IN CHINA every year—especially cheap toys.

Few seem to remember the Cox Report and the role of serial adulterer, Billy Clinton. Of course, Billy played dumb for two months back then about the massive espionage that had been taking place. The dirty Clinton duo never missed an opportunity to line their pockets with foreign money at the expense of our national security. Hildebeast screeching about Trump and Russia, Russia, Russia!

Hillary-Putin Uranium Deal: How Long Will Media Ignore It?, Aug. 26, 2016 by William Jasper (one of the best researchers

“Most American voters looking toward November would probably be interested in learning about Hillary Clinton’s prime role in delivering one-fifth of America’s uranium production to Vladimir Putin’s Russia. As this matter is critically relevant to our national security, as well as America’s energy security, voters would probably appreciate learning about it before they cast their ballot for the next Oval Office occupant. However, most Americans probably have never even heard about Bill and Hillary Clinton’s ties to the Uranium One-Rosatom-Frank Giustra scandal, through the couple’s corruption-troubled Clinton Foundation, and Hillary’s official dealings while serving as President Obama’s secretary of state.

“That is hardly surprising, considering the overwhelming pro-Clinton, anti-Trump bias of the “progressive” establishment media. But new Clinton e-mails and State Department memos released by WikiLeaks may cause some members of the pro-Clinton press brigade to break ranks and confront the Democratic Party candidate on this vitally important issue. Among the many documents to surface recently is a State Department cable from October 2009 warning of the intentions of Rosatom, Russia’s nuclear energy agency, as it “flexes muscles” with regard to the global uranium market...

“Nevertheless, President Obama and Secretary Clinton have ignored those concerns, with the result that Russia now controls one-fifth (or more) of America’s uranium production. And the Obama administration, via the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC), apparently lied to Senator Barrasso when it assured him that ore from the Uranium One mine in Wyoming wouldn’t be exported.”

that a globetrotting American businessman, William Douglas Campbell, managed to burrow his way inside Russian President Vladimir Putin's nuclear giant, Rosatom, in 2009 posing as a consultant while working as an FBI informant.

"Campbell gathered extensive evidence for his FBI counterintelligence handlers by early 2010 that Rosatom's main executive in the United States, Vadim Mikerin, orchestrated a racketeering plot involving kickbacks, bribes and extortion that corrupted the main uranium trucking company in the United States. That is a serious national security compromise by any measure.

"The evidence was compiled as Secretary Clinton courted Russia for better relations, as her husband former President Clinton collected a $500,000 speech payday in Moscow, and as the Obama administration approved the sale of a U.S. mining company, Uranium One, to Rosatom. The sale – made famous years later by author Peter Schweizer and an epic New York Times exposé in 2015 – turned over a large swath of America's untapped uranium deposits to Russia."

'Dirty Little Secret'

"But the Reagan administration's decision to expedite technology transfer to China bears most directly on the report's findings. As the Chinese sought to develop a civilian industrial base where none or little had existed before, technology transfer from the United States was pivotal. Much of this effort involved technologies and know-how with inherent relevance to both civilian and military programs. It included provision of a massive array of technical and design data for assembly of McDonnell-Douglas aircraft in Shanghai, including an MD-82 coproduction agreement signed in 1985—the largest U.S.-Chinese industrial project of the past two decades."

China's Technology Acquisitions:

Cox Committee's Report –

Findings, Issues, and Recommendations

June 8, 1999

Shirley A. Kan

Abstract

On May 25, 1999, the House Select Committee on U.S. National Security and Military/Commercial Concerns with the People's Republic of China (Cox Committee) released the declassified version of its January 3, 1999 classified report on its investigation of U.S. technology transfers to China. The 3-volume, 871-page unclassified report discussed findings related to Chinese acquisition of U.S. nuclear weapon information, missile technology through satellite exports, high-performance computers, and other dual-use technology.

"According to the committee, the PRC has "stolen" classified information on the most advanced U.S. thermonuclear weapons, giving the PRC design information on thermonuclear weapons "on a par with our own.” The information includes classified information on seven warheads, including “every currently deployed thermonuclear warhead in the U.S. ballistic missile arsenal;” on the neutron bomb; and on “a number of” U.S. re-entry vehicles.

“The PRC acquired information on seven U.S. nuclear warheads, including the W88, the most advanced, miniature U.S. nuclear warhead deployed on the Trident D-5 submarine-launched ballistic missile. The committee reported that U.S. information accelerated PRC nuclear weapon modernization and helping its efforts “to fabricate and successfully test its next generation of nuclear weapons designs. These warheads give the PRC small, modern thermonuclear warheads roughly equivalent to current U.S. warhead yields.”

“The committee said that, after three failed satellite launches in 1992, 1995, and 1996, U.S. satellite makers (Hughes and Loral) transferred missile design information and know-how to China without required export licenses from the Department of State “in violation of the International Traffic in Arms Regulations.” The firms gave technical information that has improved the “reliability” of Chinese rockets used to launch satellites with civilian and military purposes. The information is also useful for the design and improved reliability of “future PRC ballistic missiles.”

Bush Gave China Permanent Normal Trade Relations Status With the US 15 Years Ago. What Did That Change? – Was the decision to grant PNTR to China a catastrophe or a driver of mutual prosperity? Dec. 28, 2001 – “U.S.-China trade volume in goods and services stood at roughly $660 billion in 2015 and the country is the United States’ largest trading partner. The U.S. Department of Commerce estimated that trade with China supported roughly 251,000 U.S. jobs. In 2015, the United States saw a $366 billion trade deficit with China, representing a 6.6 percent increase from the previous year.”

Our largest trading “partner” is stealing us blind while working to fulfill ownership of everything they can here in OUR country – including ports of entry. Then they can control all the food, pharmaceuticals, manufacturing, you name it.

Americans continue to enrich our mortal enemy while we live under the threat of when, not if (many believe the Francis Scott Key bridge was a successful operation) the Communist Chinese hit us hard. And now, filthy dirty player FBI Director Christopher Wray is upset about China? (Trump’s nomination of Wray was a fatal mistake. He should have fired Wray in 2018 because by that time surely Trump could see what was going on under Wray’s direction.)

FBI’s Chris Wray warns Chinese hackers preparing to attack US infrastructure ‘to induce panic’, April 19, 2024: “FBI Director Christopher Wray warned Thursday that a hacking group linked to the Chinese government is waiting for the right moment to “deal a devastating blow” to U.S. critical infrastructure.

“Wray delivered a keynote speech at the Vanderbilt Summit on Modern Conflict and Emerging Threats in Nashville, and told national security and intelligence experts that the risks posed by the government of China to U.S. national and economic security are “upon us now.”

“The director said a recent bureau investigation found that the Chinese government had gained illicit access to networks within America’s “critical telecommunications, energy, water, and other infrastructure sectors.”

“The PRC [People’s Republic of China] has made it clear that it considers every sector that makes our society run as fair game in its bid to dominate on the world stage, and that its plan is to land low blows against civilian infrastructure to try to induce panic and break America’s will to resist,” Wray said – the FBI explained “these vital sectors—everything from water treatment facilities and energy grids to transportation and information technology—form the backbone of our society.”

While the FBI has spent years hunting down Catholics and pro-life individuals trying to save inconvenient babies from being snuffed out and thrown into a bio-hazard bucket.

Tens of thousands of Chinese, mostly fit males of fighting age, have come across the border just in the past year.

Remember: Communism is pounded into the heads of small school children in China. There is no God. The CCP is their God. I did read not too long ago there are 67 million Chinese Christians although where that number comes from was not identified.

Dan Patrick also noted that he may release an additional–albeit shorter–list of interim charges before the session begins in January.](#) “The list of charges runs the gamut of issues conservatives have called on the legislature to address, including property tax relief, protecting Texas land from hostile foreign ownership, and strengthening laws preventing electioneering by school districts and other political subdivisions.”

In April 2020, I had almost finished a column on this but great researcher and writer colleague, Kelleigh Nelson's came out first but here's a few important highlights from my column: "In 2013, Smithfield sold out to a Communist Chinese company. They are now the biggest in the world. How sickening ANY American company sells out to communists. At the time, the president and CEO of Smithfield even had to defend his actions to his mother who asked him why he would sell out to the communists. His response, "These are not Russian communists. They like Americans." GAG ME. COMMUNISTS ALWAYS LIE TO GET WHAT THEY WANT.

Also from my unfinished column back then: "The communists now own 1 in every 4 pigs raised in this country. In 2011 the Communist Chinese government laid out their 5-year plan to purchase as much U.S. farmland as possible. At that time, they already owned almost $82 MILLION in OUR farmland. Kissed and blessed by Congress. Damn jackals. The Smithfield deal included another $480 million in farmland bringing the commies total purchases of OUR farmland to $1.4 billion dollars.

"Pope claimed the buyers weren't part of the Communist Chinese government. Pope assured U.S. senators this purchase (the big stick) would create jobs; at that time Smithfield was in financial trouble. Pope said the deal was just one private company buying another. In a pig's ear.

"The truth from someone who actually traveled to China and interviewed a top dog at one of their plants: "Shuanghui is required to adhere to Beijing's five-year plan, the Communist Party's national economic agenda. And the document was clear. Shuanghui meets its obligations and follows the path laid out by the Communist Party.

"Despite its public listing in Hong Kong, Shuanghui answers to the Chinese government – going beyond regulatory compliance. It receives directives from Beijing, and it follows them. The company's candidness surprised me, especially because U.S. senators had been sparring over this exact topic a year earlier. Here was conclusive proof."

“So, that holiday ham for Christmas and Smithfield’s sausage offerings you have for breakfast every morning, I just want you to know who you are enriching and they want you dead.

My late husband loved sausage, bacon and ham. If I had two BLT’s in a year that was a lot; just not a pork person. A couple of years ago we find out the swine industry has been shooting up their pigs with the mRNA vaccine technology since 2018. Oh, but it’s perfectly safe! Sort of like wicked witch, Nancy Pelosi’s proclamation: Pass Obamacare first and then find out what’s in the bill.

Commerce Sec’y: China Targets Our Companies, Steals IP, But We Have to Try to Trade with Them, ‘Which Creates Jobs’, July 21, 2023 – “Raimondo responded, “Well, it’ll be the first time a commerce secretary has gone to the region in years. We need to put before them our really serious concerns about the way they’re targeting U.S. tech companies, about the way they don’t respect intellectual property, but also try to find lanes of commerce where we can do commerce, which creates jobs in America.”

How stupid can you be, lady? Think Xi Jinping gives a crap about stealing our technology and hacking into our government’s agencies? Create jobs? BS. We became the richest debt free nation on this earth until our most important jobs sectors, agriculture, manufacturing and industrial were destroyed by “free trade”. Create a few jobs and the profits go to Communist China, Communist Viet Nam, India and other countries. From my unfinished column:

“With its five-year plan in 2011, the Chinese government identified meat processing as a strategically important industry, and with the Smithfield purchase, the country gained access to the world’s most advanced animal rearing, slaughtering and meat processing and distribution technology, she said.

“Haley has testified before Congress several times on how China’s growth is damaging the U.S. economy. She is a fast, firm speaker, and once she gets on a roll, she can dominate a conversation.

“The Chinese will quickly import Smithfield’s technology to China, using it to increase their domestic production and establish massive processing plants to churn out sausages and deli cuts from animals raised around the world, she said. The United States increasingly will become a large hog farm for the Chinese, with refrigerated shipping containers transporting frozen pig carcasses to China, Haley said.

“China is now turning its sights on American agriculture. She laid out her prediction for China’s impact in about five breaths. “In two to five years, we will start noticing major changes in the United States. China will be in many agricultural sectors, not just pork. China will start acquiring much larger farms, for example. China will start consolidating,” she said. “So, in these oligopolistic industries, such as pork, where four manufacturers control over 75 percent of the American pork industry, there will be much price cutting, layoffs, etc., as competitors start feeling the hot breath of China on their necks.”

Globalist poison. Thankfully, Trump got us out of the TPP and the scam Paris Climate Agreement. Vivek! has attached himself to Trump like glue.

Stop Buying Made in China

Yes, you can. It all comes down to need vs want. I have not purchased a single piece of fruit or vegetable from Mexico, Guatemala or other countries since 1995 (NAFTA then GATT) A couple of times I've purchased tomatoes from Canada. I support American farmers and ranchers first or I simply go without. Yes, I am fully up to speed on trade (especially the cotton industry) and how our ranchers and other producers ship to other countries. My next column is going to be that very issue which will also cover bringing back what really made America great – besides being a Christian nation. The bottom line is we have to stop enriching our enemies while destroying our own country.
