

Will the globalists stop Trump before he's sworn in?

America's Fate

The powers that be (PTB) and all of their lackeys and brainwashed sheeple were literally blindsided when Hillary Clinton lost the election. By controlling the media coverage of the election with a constant barrage of false accusation and vicious attacks on Trump and never a negative remark about Clinton, manipulating the polls by polling a majority of democrats, using Hollywood to esteem Clinton while condemning Trump, giving Clinton the questions and answers during the debates, programming the voting machines to only vote Clinton, shipping busloads of illegals from one voting booth to another to vote for Clinton, using names of dead people as Clinton voters, paying people to report false accusations on Trump, transporting tens of thousands of unemployed cross country at $15 an hour to disrupt, harass and attack at Trump gatherings, they had done everything money, power and corruption could do to assure a Clinton win.

And yet, to their utter shock, Trump had still garnered such a tremendous national following that he won by such a huge margin it eclipsed all of their attempts against him.

The PTB, orchestrated by Satan himself, have been preparing their global takeover for over a hundred years. They have amassed incalculable riches, ascended to unthinkable heights of power and obtained unimaginable intercontinental control. The PTB have no intentions of relinquishing one dollar, one degree of power, one inch of control, especially to one man.

Therefore, they will do everything within their power to halt the actual swearing in of Donald J. Trump as President of the United States, even at the risk of starting a civil war, and if need be, his assassination. At best, if he is sworn in and through all of their controlled sources, cheerlead by the media, the PTB crash every social, public, civic and economic institution around him, leaving him a failed disgrace while simultaneously affirming that only they, the PTB, are qualified to rule.

Until Donald J. Trump is sworn in as President of the United States, Obama will retain the power of Commander and Chief. If we attack or are attacked by Russia, or civil war erupts, or there's a terror attack, or an EMP attack, or a natural disaster, or any other reason he can declare a State of Emergency and he will retain the authority of Commander and Chief.

For those who remember, the constitutionally required procedure for Barack Obama's inauguration was not completed (see below). Thus, he was never sworn in properly and legally. The first oath was flubbed and the second swearing was done in private without a Bible.

Barak Obama is a Manchurian Candidate. I say that because we still don't know him. Especially now that the Birth Certificate he presented the public was recently authenticated to be a fraudulent document on nine points, determined by leading experts from around the world: Sheriff Joe Arpaio: Obama's Birth Certificate is Forgery Press ...

Therefore Barak Obama is most likely not a legitimate president of the United States, which negates and nullifies every illegal, unconstitutional act he has perpetrated during his past eight years in office: The Very Strange Case Of Obama's Oath Of Office – Rense I have excerpted the pertinent facts from this article, below:

"For a couple of smooth-talking constitutional experts, Chief Justice John G. Roberts Jr. and President-elect Barack Obama sure had a hard time getting through the constitutional oath of office...

The chief justice seemed to say 'to' rather than 'of,' but that was not the main problem. The main problem was that the word 'faithfully' had floated upstream...

"The chief justice gave it another go, getting closer but still not quite right: "faithfully the office of president of the United States." This time, he omitted the word 'execute.' Mr. Obama now repeated the chief justice's initial error of putting 'faithfully' at the end of the phrase.

Yes, indeed these two "smooth-talking constitutional experts" couldn't manage to recite the brief oath as it was written.

Here's how the media reported the second rite: ...After a day's worth of chatter over whether the president had been properly sworn into office...(i)n 25 seconds, President Obama became president again. Chief Justice John G. Roberts Jr. re-administered the oath to Mr. Obama on Wednesday evening, one day after the two men stumbled over each other's words during the inauguration ceremony at the Capitol. For their do-over, the two men convened in the White House Map Room at 7:35 p.m. for a brief proceeding that was not announced until it was completed successfully...Only hours after aides told reporters there was no reason to administer the oath again, they concluded it was easier to do it on the first day, rather than have someone challenge the legitimacy of his presidency...Mr. Obama raised his right hand and did not use a Bible...only nine people witnessed the do-over. There were four aides, four reporters and a White House photographer..." (NY Times, Jan. 22, 2009).

This second-time-around doppelganger oath was the real oath, since the flawed first one, done in the sight of millions and upon the Bible of assassinated President Abraham Lincoln was a "challenge (to) the legitimacy of his presidency..."

What appears to be the authentic inauguration took place in a basement, and was an elite rather than a populist rite, with just nine witnesses. It occurred in former President Franklin Roosevelt's secretive, war-era "map room."

Hence, the absence of a Bible per se does not invalidate the oath, but the peek-a-boo nature of the inaugural Bible may be deliberate, in that its momentous presence at the botched inauguration is all the more glaring in its inexplicable absence at the real inauguration.

Let us recall that the second oath was performed in secret: "...the two men convened in the White House Map Room at 7:35 p.m. for a brief proceeding that was not announced until it was completed..."

I have already made my conclusions; I'll now let you make yours.

Purchase Al Duncan's New Book The Master Plan.